ARCADE

BIG TIME VADEVILLE SHOW TOMORROW

Rago & Co. Play Week at Orpheum Seattle—Will Play at Arcade Tomorrow.

The prospect for another mighty pleasing bill at the Arcade for the regular Hippodrome Vaudeville Road Show tomorrow night is very reassuring.

This show opens with Jack Bean, the jumping marvel. This young man has some mighty clever tricks up his sleeve when it comes to jumping. Many of his difficult acrobatic tricks are done through barrels perched on top of each other two to four high, jumping in and out with ease and doing single and double somersaults in and out of the barrels. The feature of this act is a high double somersault blind-folded, from a pedestal into a barrel!

George Stanley and Virginia offer a comedy singing and talking act replete with comedy songs and local hits. Stanley and Virginia are not only a duo of performers of great ability, but singers and composers as well.

"The Traveling Man's Dilemma" in which the talented Schultzes are appearing with great success, is a comedy sketch designed for laughing purposes only. A small dog also figures in the action of the piece and adds to the merriment engendered.

The big feature act of this week's bill is Rago and Co. Rago defies the laws of nature and extricates himself from every conceivable device. One of his many tricks that is worthy of mention, is his water tank trick in which he makes his escape in full view of the audience. His "Russian Torture Board" is another new and novel idea of his own and has created a sensation wherever he has performed this marvelous trick. While he doesn't profess to be the Handcuff King, he is willing to tackle anything that looks like a handcuff so if you have a pair of handcuffs that you think can't be gotten out of bring them along and see what Rago will do with them! It might be mentioned here that this act played at the Orpheum Theatre at Seattle for a week.

In addition to these acts, the Arcade orchestra will have another big overture on tap and a new Keystone Comedy will be shown.

STAR PROGRAMS AT THE STAR THEATRE

Today and tomorrow at the Star will see another cracking good show. Everyone enjoys a good laugh and they will certainly have one coming after they see Lonesome Luke in his Western characterizations. He is here this time in one called "The Wrong Man." There is a lot of shooting, horse-back rides and in the midst of it all Casey falls off the top of a stage coach. It all goes to round out an interesting story which naturally ends happily. Helen Holmes, the Darling of the Rails, as she has been named by various of her admirers will be seen in the fifth chapter of the Rail Road Raiders, "A Woman's Wit." She experiences more thrills and narrow escapes but closes in a little closer on the Raiders. Tuesday and Wednesday this program will be shown at the Star Theatre.
