STAR, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

Introduced to Rifle.
CAMP LEWIS, TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 12.—Four regiments of infantry received their introduction to the army rifles here today.

The 361st, 364th, 262nd and the 363rd regiment went to the rifle range today for 10 days' training. Colonel W. H. Jordan is the range officer and has charge of the training of the men.

Endorses Goat Milk.
Dr. Verdo B. Gregory, Surgeon in Charge, Dr. John B. Gregory, JOSEPH HOSPITAL, Joseph, Oregon, May 22, 1917.

Widemann Goat Milk Company, San Francisco, California. Gentlemen:

The following information may be of interest to you: We have a large dairy in this vicinity which furnishes milk to several towns in the valley, and which is conducted in strict regard to hygienic laws. The owners are college men, properly trained and therefore capable of understanding the necessity of observing such laws. As a result of a talk, which I made sometime since, upon the subject of "infant feeding" these men, who are good friends of mine, came to me stating that they were furnishing several of their customers with cows milk for their babies, and that while they were selling milk they felt that it was the honorable thing for them to do what was right by the babies, and would like therefore, to purchase a trial case of Widemann Evaporated Goat's Milk. I gave them a case. Now they propose delivering your product where ever indicated. I have yet to hear of a case where Widemann Evaporated Goat's Milk has not been highly satisfactory. Very sincerely yours, (sgd) VERDO B. GREGORY.

EXCITEMENT ON THE BOWERY

Hubbub Caused by Cry of "Stop Thief" on New York's Noted Highway Frightens Habitues.

A thief chase on the Bowery was a daily occurrence when that famous song was popular. Then the dips and others who infested that thoroughfare would hold up any passerby who they thought had anything that looked like money concealed on his person. But the light-fingered gentry and strong-armed fellows have found other fields more lucrative, according to a New York correspondent of the Pittsburgh Dispatch.

The big street is now the stamping grounds of "weary Willies" and huns whose only vocation is to panhandle the price of a drink. So one day recently, when the old familiar cry of "Stop thief" was heard the Bowery was almost paralyzed; everybody stood still and watched for the culprit. Soon they saw a tall, lean and hungry looking youth darting under the elevated pillars, but they made no effort to catch him. When the cops arrived on the scene the man had disappeared. "Where did he go?" bellowed one with a club, who held it threateningly over several men who stood in a doorway. "Did you see that guy running this way? Where did he go? Come on, now." But no one had seen the thief. While the cops were making their search apathetic, cringing men came from the different doorways to learn what the excitement was all about. "My God," remarked one frowzy looking individual, as the cops departed, "I was scared it was some guy offering a job." And appreciative chuckles went up along the line.

Foresight.

"I'm taking lessons from a man who teaches people how to remember."
"Is he pretty good?"
"I guess so, but he doesn't seem to have much confidence in his methods."
"How is that?"
"I notice he makes his students pay him in advance, so there will be no chance for them to forget to do it after they finish."

Fired First Shot.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 12.—To the coast guard cutter Snohomish goes the honor of firing the first shot on the Pacific after the United States entered the war.

According to the story on the Seattle waterfront, the cutter sighted a Norwegian steamer sailing down the coast at a fast clip. The Snohomish signaled the vessel to halt, in accordance with the patrol regulations. But the Norwegian continued at the same merry clip.

The cutter then opened fire, laying a shot across the bow of the speeding vessel. The Norwegian steamer promptly stopped. The officers of the cutter laid down the law to the Norwegians and the two vessels went on about their business.

Balanced Rations—In jails, orphan asylums and other institutions it is found cheaper to serve the inmates with a balanced ration, carefully planned and decently cooked, than to feed them on the old hit-or-miss unhealthful plan. You want to do as well for your family as for a penal or charitable institution. The housewife should know about the various food elements and how they can be provided in the family diet. Ask at the public library for the following books: Kinnie and Cooley, foods and household management; Wellman, food study; Rose, feeding the family; Stiles, an adequate diet; Oregon Agricultural College, food for the family; O'Donnell, the family food; Snyder, human foods; Farmers' bulletins, how to select foods, first, what the body needs, second, cereals, third, foods rich in protein; Farmers' bulletins 717 and 712, food for young children and school lunches.

PRINCESS VIRTUE

Bluebird Feature With Mae Murray.

Mae Murray, one of the newest stars in the big Bluebird six-star cycle, will make her debut before the theatre-going public in La Grande, at the Arcade Theatre on December 13. "The Princess Virtue," the first Bluebird feature in which this popular star has been cast, is a gorgeous story of the life of the smart set in an old world city. The little "Princess Virtue," daughter of an American father, but thrown by circumstances into the fashionable life of Europe, is awakened to herself by a genuine American who upsets all her false ideals and wins her back to the substantial characteristics of her ancestry.

"The Princess Virtue" is the most luxurious in scenes and settings that Bluebird has produced—famous as Bluebird productions are for their elaborateness.

Miss Murray's gowns in the play offer a fashion revue that is a delight to the soul of every woman who loves pretty and effective and costly raiment.

LAST TIME TONIGHT

"A Kentucky Cinderella" will be the Bluebird presented at the Star theatre for the last time tonight, when Ruper Julian, who directed the production, and Ruth Clifford, dearest of screen-queens, will lead an all-star company in presentations of F. Hopkinson Smith's popular story. Beautiful scenes discovered in the wilds of the Sierras, will be reflected in the earlier incidents and Kentucky atmosphere has been interjected to give realism to the intensely interesting situations that recall the old South, in days before the rebellion. Gretchen Lederer, Lueretta Harris, Myrtle Reeves, Aurora Pratt, Harry Carter, Emory Johnson, Frank Lanning and Eddie Polo will appear in important characterizations.

BELLE BENNETT AND ROY STEWART IN "BOND OF FEAR"

Out in the desert he died, alone, without friends to mark his grave, a stern old martinet of the law to whom Nature showed no greater mercy than he had shown to Nature's children. The story of Judge McClure is worth hearing, or as it happens, seeing, for it is a new "Triangle film production called "Bond of Fear," to be shown at the Star

Theatre, Thursday and Friday. The stigma of an oppressive sense of guilt made him a cowardly though innocent fugitive, fleeing into the desert before his own fear of a blind justice. Unfair prosecutor of his brother, betrayer of the woman he was to wed and who wanted to share his crime, the old Judge suffered life and death agonies which give "Bond of Fear" a strong moral tone.

Roy Stewart, ever popular as a western hero, and Belle Bennett, another Triangle star, lend their talents to the play in which Melbourne MacDowell is an able Judge McClure.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produces Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative. No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.
