MOTHER O' MINE

If I were hanged on the highest hill,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine,
I know whose love would follow me
still,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine.

If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine,
I know whose tears would come
down to me,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine.

If I were damned of body and soul,
Mother o' mine, O mother o' mine,
I know whose prayers would make me whole,
Mother o' mine, mother o' mine.

It was this song of Rudyard Kipling that gave the inspiration which produced the Bluebird super-feature, "Mother o' Mine."

It will be the attraction at the Arcade theatre today and tomorrow with Rupert Julian and Ruth Clifford in the stellar roles. Ruby La Fayette will play the mother role in a sympathetic and natural portrayal. This old fashioned mother was not stylish enough for her newly rich son, and when she came to visit him, unexpectedly he proved that she was unwelcome when he referred to her as "his old nurse." The mother heard and understood (as mothers always do) and quietly stole back to the old home and the surroundings she loved best. Her son was due for a rude awakening, and then he atoned for his neglect—but the lesson affected his entire life. The girl he loved understood, and was instrumental in consummating the happy ending to a touching screen romance.

MILLION ROSES ON THE SCREEN

"A Wife on Trial," the Butterfly picture featuring Mignon Anderson and Leo Pierson, which comes to the Star theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday has been called "the picture with a million roses." Its producer is the talented woman director, Ruth Ann Baldwin, who used the novel called "A Rose Garden Husband," by Margaret Wildemer, as the basis for her picture. Many of the scenes are laid in a rose garden, and Miss Baldwin obtained permission to set up her cameras in one of the most beautiful rose gardens of Southern California. The party composed of the players, the director, assistant, and cameraman, motored out to the garden, where they spent several days taking scenes in some of the most beautiful parts of it. The result is that no lovelier backgrounds have ever been filmed than those which appear in the story, which is the unusual and touching romance of a paralytic man and his marriage to a library girl.

The last and closing chapter of the thrilling railroad story, "The Railroad Raiders," will also be shown on this program.

GRANDMOTHER KNEW

There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, and yet does not blister the tenderest skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the finger-tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). 30c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.
