

LA GRANDE OBSERVER
 AN
 PUBLISHED DAILY
 LA GRANDE EVENING
 J. D. MEYERS
 President

WSPAPER
 Grande, Oregon, by the PUBLISHING COMPANY.
 CLARKE LEITER
 Editor and Publisher

Entered at the Postoffice Grande, Oregon, as Second-class Matter.
 Address All Communications to THE OBSERVER, 1710 Sixth Street.
 Official Paper.
 Leased Wire Telegraph Report of United Press Association.

On Sale in Other Cities:
 Oregon Hotel News Stand, Portland; Imperial News Stand, Portland.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

By Carrier		By Mail
Daily, single copy	5c	Daily, per year in advance	$5.00
Daily, per month	15c	Daily, per six months in advance	$2.50
Daily, per three months in advance	$4.50	Daily, three months in advance	$1.25
Daily, per year in advance	$7.00	Daily, per month	45c
The five-day Evening Observer, by mail, per year in advance	$1.50	Weekly Observer-Star, my mail, per year in advance	$1.50

SHE'S WAR BRIDE OF HOLIDAY SEASON

MRS. T. A. BOGLE
Mrs. T. A. Bogle, a war bride of the holiday season, is now at Camp Custer, with her husband, Captain Bogle of the Artillery. Mrs. Bogle was formerly Miss Helen G. Watson and is a niece of U. S. Senator Watson of Indiana.

The drive for the Knights of Columbus War Fund started today. The following are the committees in charge and an explanation of the objects of the drive also follows:

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

Interesting Corset With Novel Trimming

The picture has no leaves and a long, square cape at the back. This, with the turnover collar, the cuffs and belt give additional opportunity to feature the novel decoration. The large scroll pattern, appearing on the skirt is repeated in smaller motifs on the belt, across the cape and collar and on the cuffs.

Unexpected details in the costume appear in the slit pockets in each side of the skirt and in the small scarf made to match the coat. This scarf idea has been developed by costumers in several clever ways, sometimes attached to the coat and sometimes not. The turban worn with this very interesting garment is evidently a part of the outfit, for it depends upon a covered cord to furnish its decoration, but goes further and adds an odd new pom-pom which looks much like a chrysanthemum made of ostrich feathers.

Next illustrates better the "difficult" which is demanded of the dress of today, than a coat-dress.

Julia Bottomly

THE LIBERTY LOAN AND GERMANY

The military masters of Germany have maintained an attitude of assumed great contempt for America's war preparations and America's participation in the war. The Kaiser, Hindenburg and Hertling have all voiced this contempt. Yet there are evidences in plenty that in fear of America's entry in force into the war next spring, Germany is massing tremendous forces on the western front, is preparing to hurl masses of men into the jaws of death in a desperate effort to reach a conclusion before the might of America becomes effective.

The two Liberty Loans in this country no doubt had a great psychological effect upon the German mind. The ease with which the tremendous sums of money were raised, the enthusiasm of the workers and of the subscribers and of, indeed, the whole nation, and the heavy oversubscription to both loans are evidences that can not be disregarded that the American people are in earnest, that they are behind the American government, and are willing to make the sacrifices required and to support to the utmost our nation at war.

That money talks is an old proverb, and the voice of the billions of dollars representing the First and Second Liberty Loans was heard across the sea and carried conviction even to the obsessed Germans.

Germany admits that the present war is a race between the submarines and America. If the submarines fail to keep America from aiding the Allies with men and supplies in great numbers, the game is lost. It was a hopeless game from the start, hopeless from the time the Kaiser set the day for his dinner in Paris. None of the German offensive measures have won. Germany's great siege guns battered down the resistance of Belgium, but too late. The Zeppelin and airplane raids on England accomplished nothing but the murder of a few civilians. The naval raids on England simply made John Bull fight the harder. The submarine campaign has resulted in America joining the Allies and starting to build ships. When the history of the war is written, it will be the story of an ambitious plan for world conquest wrecked by a series of obvious blunders.

The submarine is not invincible if met with bravery and intelligence as the officers, gunners and crew of the steamer Luckenbach demonstrated when they fought off a submarine attack for four hours.

At the University of Oregon soldiers' training camp they are teaching the young men camouflage, which will come in very handy for them when they get married.

An army captain succumbs to temptation and attempts a foolish robbery, which resulted in murder and his own suicide. Truly the wages of sin are death.

RED CROSS News Notes

KNITTERS ATTENTION

The following call has been received from the division headquarters:

"The call for knitted goods for Camp Lewis is becoming more insistent every day. In order that we may supply our men at home, please ship as fast as possible all knitted goods, including sweaters, helmets, socks, and wristlets. We want them just as fast as you can knit them."

Signed: C. D. STIMSON,
 Division Manager.

Biggest Week Yet—Saturday closed the biggest week in the history of La Grande chapter when nine full boxes were taken from the EIKS hall at four o'clock. There was the box of knitting with over one hundred pairs of socks, and 92 sweaters, besides many other garments. There were two boxes of pillows to be used on stretchers. This was a "special call" received in the middle of the week. It sounds easy, but one should have seen the busy hands at work to fill this order. Honor Guard girls, teachers, children, busy housewives, all joined in the "pillow drive" and the one hundred and fifty pillows with two cases each were hidden away in two boxes, telling no tales of the splendid response that La Grande women can make when put to the test. One lady who is busy at the work rooms every day gave a pillow party in her basement one evening and fifty pillows were filled with feathers. There was a box of knitted underwear for refugees contributed largely by La

A Wonderful Sale Announcement

An opportunity that must prove irresistible to the woman with her coat and suit still unchosen. Your unrestricted choice of any coat or suit in the store at half price.

EVERY GARMENT THIS SEASON'S MODEL. NEWEST COLORS, FABRICS AND THE LATEST STYLES.

- $20.00 Coats and Suits..... Now $10.00
- $22.50 Coats and Suits..... Now $11.25
- $25.00 Coats and Suits..... Now $12.50
- $30.00 Coats and Suits..... Now $15.00
- $35.00 Coats and Suits..... Now $17.50
- $40.00 Coats and Suits..... Now $20.00
- $45.00 Coats and Suits..... Now $22.50
- $50.00 Coats and Suits..... Now $25.00

Dresses for Every Occasion—Street, Afternoon and Evening Dresses. All Sizes and Most All Colors, Reduced 33-1/3 per Cent.

Grande merchants. As the heads of our different stores personally carried great packages up to the work-rooms they wore the smile that won't come off—the "Red Cross smile."

There were two boxes of garments. One was filled with lined pajamas for convalescents. These garments are a bit gay as it is the desire to make the convalescents conspicuous. These were all made by the Union branch. Cove branch added her weekly contribution of fifty bed sheets besides.

There were many other garments and other articles from Elgin, Imbler, Summerville, Wallowa, Enterprise, Joseph, Ladd Canyon, Perry, Lostine, and Hot Lake, as well as the quantity made in La Grande and vicinity. There were three boxes filled with thousands of surgical dressings, compresses and pads. This shipment represented an unusual volume of work, participated in by every branch and auxiliary in the twin counties of Wallowa and Union who never fail of going over the top in any "drive" even if only a "pillow drive."

Sewing Machines Needed—Have you a sewing machine to loan to the Red Cross work rooms? If you have please send it over at once or call up Red 2121.

Serbian Squares—Send in all Serbian squares this week as another shipment will be made on Saturday. All day meeting—This chapter must help get ready for the western drive. Our boys will be there. Come to an all-day meeting on Wednesday of this week to make compresses of gauze. Bring your scissors and lunch. Wear caps and coverall aprons. Ladies who wish can have a good lunch served to them in the rooms for 25 cents by telephoning their names to Mrs. Rosenbaum on Tuesday (Red 2121). This latter plan is one of the many methods that are being used to redeem the pledges to raise $5.00 for the Red Cross, that was started and is being pushed by the ladies of the Thursday Card Club. Along the line of this drive many novel entertainments are being planned. One that promises big returns and an evening full of delightful entertainment is "Snow White," which is to be staged by Mrs. Lester Murphy. "When is it to be?" is the question answered by Mrs. Murphy many times each day. She is sure of a big house when the night comes.

RED CROSS BUTTONS NOT YET AVAILABLE

In spite of the greatest endeavor by the local committee the Red Cross buttons promised those who subscribed to memberships during the recent drive, no additional supplies are yet available. Word has been received from the headquarters in Portland that the buttons are being made with all possible haste and should reach La Grande shortly. When they arrive, the fact will be published and those entitled to buttons may get them at Pattison's Grocery store.

Rehearsals have started for the play, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," to be given for Red Cross benefit February 8. Mrs. Lester Murphy, who before her affiliation with the Ellison-White Chautauque Co., was dramatic instructor in one of the Eastern conservatories, is directing the cast.

SILVER GRILL HELD UP AND TILL ROBBED

(Continued From Page 1.)

sidewalk, the robber being seen when he threw it away. Chief Rayburn, on information he received went first to Lyman's house at First and Jefferson and placed him under arrest. When asked where he had left Roberts he said: "I left him at the Foley hotel at about 2:15 but that he had a room at the Grande Route Hotel. The Chief of Police, Sheriff Warwick and Night Policeman Christensen immediately went to the hotel but did not find him registered. He had registered as H. Mitchell, of Spokane. Rayburn sized that name and description as his man and went directly to the room and placed him under arrest. He was in bed and fully awake.

Both the waiter Harry Goodell and the cook W. S. Mumbers, it is alleged, fully identified Roberts as the "hold up" man. Sheriff Warwick then locked the two suspects up. It is alleged that Roberts was the "hold up" man and Lyman the "look out." During the afternoon

Roberts wore a hat and Lyman a cap and it is alleged that when the hold up was pulled off the two young men changed headgear.

Dick Roberts is a son of a Methodist minister and has been in town for the past two or three years, attended the local high school, drove taxicabs and worked at other jobs. Young Lyman has always had the name of being a very industrious, quiet young man. He worked in the railroad shops, was a good workman and in two months would have been a full-fledged mechanic. So far apparently his connection with the hold up is not fully established, as only one man "stuck up" the restaurant, but other clues apparently connect him with the crime.

Soon Over His Cold.

Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. George Lewis, Pittsfield, N. Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with a cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him much good until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."—Adv.

TELEGRAM SUBSCRIBERS!

Please pay Telegram subscriptions to me at my store. Phone all new subscriptions to Red 3351.—A. G. Herman, 406 Fir Street.

For Hard-to-fit Women--

Some women are hard to fit in corsets; some just think they are.

There are certain types of figures, however—full bust and small hips, small bust and large hips, short stout figures—that require special designing in corsets.

In MODART Front Laced Corsets there are special sizes and models for just such figures. We can give any woman, of whatever size or shape, the kind of style and fit she should have.

MODART CORSET Front Laced PAULINE LEDERLE

Patriotism and Business

Every good citizen at this time should do his share toward strengthening the Federal Reserve Banking System which our Government has created with its billion dollars of resources to stand back of its member banks and all their depositors.

You can contribute directly to the strength of this system, and at the same time secure its protection by depositing your money with us, since part of every dollar you deposit with us goes directly into the new system, where it is always ready for you when wanted.

This is a suggestion for prompt action.

Member Federal Reserve System

La Grande National Bank