THE LATEST PICTURE OF THE KAISER

Kaiser Wilhelm with members of his staff visiting the oil wells of Rumania which were destroyed in the Rumanian retreat and have been restored by the Germans. So far as is known this is the first picture of Kaiser Wilhelm to reach America since the British authorities excluded German photographs from the mails. It shows that the kaiser (indicated by the arrow) is rapidly growing older in appearance.

La Grande is to be treated to another terpsichorean exhibition when, on next Monday evening little Daphne Sommers, nine-year-old Portland dancer, will exhibit her marvelous grace and skill at Zuber hall in connection with the Red Cross benefit dance which is to be given on that occasion. People who read the Portland society columns have often read glowing tributes to the gifts of Daphne Sommers, who, by the way, is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Sommers of Elgin. She is really a wonderful little performer, and that she will do fancy steps at the coming benefit should, and certainly does mean, that there will be a large attendance present to witness.

Mrs. T. J. Scroggin of this city, who has seen the little tot perform and was charmed with the exhibi-tion, prevailed upon the Sommer family to let Miss Daphne come to La Grande for this occasion and the promise has been made. "I would pronounce her the most successful dancer, age considered, that I have ever seen," declared Mrs. Scroggin, in speaking of the little one's ability.
