NEWS AND GOSSIP OF THE WORLD OF SPORTS

HENDRICKS MAY UPSET NATIONAL LEAGUE DOPE

BY H. C. HAMILTON.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Another "bush leaguer" is up there in the majors. Another man has been yanked from the tall and uncut and set to work to try his hand with a pennant possibility.

Jack Hendricks, probably the best known minor league manager in the country, may yet meet Clarence Rowland in a battle for the world's baseball championship, for it isn't at all an improbability that the Cardinals will win this year and that the White Sox will repeat in the American league.

Hendricks has had a long and successful career in the minors, and a checkered but useful career in the majors. He was a member of the New York Giants when John McGraw took charge of that club, and he was ousted promptly from a job as fly-chaser in the outfield. Now he is going into the same end of the game and probably will have a battle to the death with the man who chased him from his last major league job.

Hendricks has a habit of winning pennants, but he always has had a bankroll behind him. It will be decidedly interesting to see what his judgment of players in the big leagues will come to, and whether he will prove himself capable of developing youngsters who will take their places as stars. No one, it is certain, can now question the tactical ability of the second "bush league manager."

There are many folks who believe a contract was signed between Hendricks and Branch Rickey, president of the Cardinals, last November, when both were in Louisville attending the minor league meeting. It can be stated on the most excellent information that Hendricks did sign a contract at the Louisville meeting, but it also can be positively stated that this contract was treated as nothing more than a scrap of paper when it developed that James McGraw, owner of the Indianapolis club, did not want to part with Hendricks. When he signed Hendricks believed himself to be a free agent. It is a fact that negotiations for Hendricks' release were in progress constantly from the time the original contract was destroyed.

"FULTON BETTER THAN CORBETT," SAYS OLD TIME!

PORTLAND MARKETS

PORTLAND, Jan. 15. (Special.)—

The week's opening market at North Portland showed an extremely light delivery, offering however a portion of the best quality, and that especially in the cattle market, that has been shown on the local market for some weeks past. The sales for this week's opening would justify a quotation of 11c for a top on steers, and $8.25 top on "she" stuff. The best load of cattle in the market Monday morning crossed the scales at $10.75, with an average weight of 1262 pounds. If another 50 pounds had been added to the weight of these very choice cattle, they would easily have commanded 11c. We do not consider that this represents any advance in price on the top end of the steer market, but "medium to good" steers, and the same class of heifers showed an easy 25c to 50c advance, as did also all the lower grades, including calves and bulls. The best heifers in today's offering changed hands at $8.25, although we are only quoting to an 8c roe, formerly a star of the feather-weight ranks, and now a white-haired little man, always to be seen around fight clubs in New York, declared Fred Fulton can defeat Jess Willard.

"It won't take him twenty rounds to do it, either," the former scrapper said. "I believe Fulton would cut the champion to shreds in a few rounds. Fulton is a great deal better than most fans are willing to admit."

"I've seen Fulton fight and I'm an admirer of the way he does things. Jim Corbett is generally referred to as the cleverest of the big fellows, but this man Fulton is just as clever and he can hit much harder with either hand than Jim could. He is remarkably fast and clever for a big man."

Opinions are floating around the country in regular schools since Jess had the had taste to announce that he would fight. Interest is more pronounced than in any big scrap since the Jeffries-Johnson affair. The demand is strong for a championship battle. If Willard really means business and will match himself with Fulton, he can pack any building he cares to select for the battle.

There is no use commenting on anyone else as a probable opponent for the champion, for there is no other who stands out as does the lanky Minnesotan. Any prestige he might have lost through his meeting with Billy Tate in Little Rock seems to have been brushed aside since reports of the bout really have become scattered about. It now appears that Fulton was far from being a beaten man when the referee announced he had awarded the fight to Tate on a foul. Anyway, the next few days will tell the real tale, for the men have been matched to do battle again.

Fulton has met every big man of any consequence with the sole exception of Frank Moran, and now a match has been made for him with that big fellow. This bout will be staged at New Orleans. Willard said some time ago that if Fulton would defeat Moran, he could have a whack at the title. So, if he manages to topple the big Pittsburgher, Jess, it appears, will have to do something.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime. Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

top. The following quotations show the range of prices paid: Medium to choice steers, $10@10.75; good to medium steers, $8.75@10; common to good steers, $7.25@8.75; choice cows and heifers, $7.25@8; common to good cows and heifers, $6@7.25; canners, $3@5.50; bulls $4.50@7; calves, $7@10.25; stockers and feeders, $6@8.50.

In the hog market conditions were steady to strong, that is to say, the market was active, with a larger percent of the offerings passing the scales at the top of the quotations than had been shown in the previous week's market. One or two loads changed hands at $15.75, the bulk went at $15, with a few loads at $15.50 according to grade and quality. Quotations are as follows: Prime light, $15.45@15.60; prime heavy, $15.50@15.65; pigs, $13.50@14.50; bulk, $15.50.

The sheep market continues steady with the bulk of sales at the top end of the quotations and very light offerings coming forward, which are just about balanced by the demand. The demand for breeding ewes continues very active with a comparatively small supply. The following quotations are current in the sheep department: Western lambs, $14.50@15; valley lambs, $14@14.25; yearlings, $12.50@13; wethers, $12@12.50; ewes, $9.50@11.

Soon Over His Cold.

Everyone speaks well of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy after having used it. Mrs. George Lewis, Pittsfield, N. Y., has this to say regarding it: "Last winter my little boy, five years old, was sick with a cold for two or three weeks. I doctored him and used various cough medicines but nothing did him much good until I began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He then improved rapidly and in a few days was over his cold."—Adv.
