Everyone Must Help to Win World War

men to the front and then sit back and watch things. Every man and woman, boy and girl, must be playing some part to win the war.

"It is a war of men, of ammunition, food, and resources.

"It took England only two and a half hours ride from the battle lines, many months to realize the gravity of the situation and to get into action.

"Don't take your losses too seriously. They are certain to come. You can't have a war without losing men. It is a part of the game. You know what kind of an enemy we are fighting. This job must be cleaned up now. No half way measures will do.

"It will take a long time to win. Don't figure that the war will be over in the Spring. It will take at least three years, unless something unexpected happens to wear down the enemy. It is hard, cruel, slow work."

Unity Will Win.

Captain Cook said: "The one thing that must be borne in mind by all the nations in the war and that is that unity wins. The German purpose is to create dissension, doubt and distrust, to break up the spirit and courage of the opposing nations.

"It is hard to realize the extent of this insidious campaign. German agents are everywhere throughout the world, carrying on this propaganda. Look at Russia and the mess she is in. This was caused by the secret manipulations of the German agents. They are trying the same thing in this country. You must have confidence in your leaders.

"One thing is certain: Every one of you must do your bit. You must all do something, willingly and continually. You must either be in the war or out of it. If you are not with your country, openly, actively, aggressively, you are against it. There is and can be no middle ground. But we are going to win. Your troops, and I have seen some of them, will make a splendid record. With America's big, generous help, we are going to win this war and defeat the Prussian military system which brought it about."

Military Escort to Meet the Officers

The military escort to be provided for the Canadian officers when they go to the auditorium tomorrow night will be illuminated with red fire. Purses, liberally placed along the line of march, will throw their red glow upon the procession, which will consist of a compact escort. It is not a parade in the commonly accepted term. The Elks' band, the La Grande Home Guard-Cadet battalion under Major Coolidge, consisting of A Company, out with their new rifles for the first time, C Company as color guard, and the cadets under Commandant Fulkerson as the third unit, the guests of honor, the Council of Defense, city and county officials and other personages, and a big foot delegation of Elks.

The escort will form at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:00 o'clock and march to the Foley hotel where the guests of honor and their attendants will be received and placed in their proper places in line. From there the escort will move down the avenue of burning faces to Fir and back on Adams to Depot, via Depot to Fourth, along Fourth to the L. D. S. Tabernacle, the escort forming in battalions front to be inspected by the visiting officials. The escort will reach the auditorium by 7 o'clock.

ENGINEERS ARE WELL TREATED IN FRANCE

Somewhere in France, December 23, 1917.

Mr. Charles Groupes, La Grande, Oregon.

Dear Friend:

While on pass in a certain large city here I ran across a boy from La Grande whom you probably know, a Mr. Harding, once an employee of the U. S. National Bank there. I asked him about the other boys but they have been scattered.

To-day is Sunday, clear, sunny and cool. It hardly ever snows where we are, though the rain is common enough. The nights are cold and foggy. Last night water froze inside our hut. Four blankets are just about right. For my part the dry cold of Eastern Oregon is preferable to this damp climate.

The Government has been generous with us about clothes. I never had so many as I now have. Two suits of O. D.'s, overcoat, poncho,

LIBRARY WILL SEND FOR YOUR BOOKS

"No good books in the library!" This is a frequent criticism to be heard in the public library. There are 3000 good books on the shelves, but the book you want now is the only "good" book for your purpose. If you feel that way, now is the time to put in your request for what you want. The librarian is sending in a request for a large shipment of books from the State library, to be lent to us for several months. Suggestions will be allowed in making up the list of books to be borrowed. Ask particularly for the technical books which are too special or expensive for the small library, which will help you in your business.

The State library will be unable to send popular fiction or the most called-for recent books which the La Grande library should have on its shelves later in the season.

Requests should be in by Saturday night of this week.

SONGS OF THE SAMMIES

By J. W. PEGLER (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

WITH THE AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY ARMY, FRANCE, Dec. 26 (By Mail.)—Roscoe Arbuckle sent a package of cigarettes to France to be given to the Sammies.

Fatty, the laugh-maker would never guess in a million years who got those cigarettes.

Telling is against the rules but maybe Fatty Arbuckle can recognize the recipient from these facts about him:

Six feet tall, lanky, fiery red-haired, generous, and back in the fall
