LA GRANDE HAS A CHAMPION KNITTER

Talk about your champion knitters. La Grande has one in Miss Bertha Berger, who is some knitter herself. This information comes to The Observer from the president of one of the leading organizations in La Grande. Miss Berger, of West's store, knits and reads at the same time. She knitted a sweater in three hours and a quarter. A Portland woman who claims the record knitted one in four hours and a half. Since the middle of August Miss Berger has knitted 56 pairs of socks, three sweaters, six helmets, and two pairs of wristlets. And the books, magazines and newspapers she has read would fill a book case.
