Kaffee Klatsch to Meet—The

ENTER, THE KNITTING GOWN.

We used to carry knitting bags to match our gowns. Now we wear the knitting bags and attach the gown as a necessary but unimportant after-thought. Here's the knitting gown, a cunning bit of apron of taffeta silk, wide enough and puffed enough to carry the long needles and the double handful of soft yarn that one day may be a sock for Sammy.

Kaffee Klatsch will be entertained Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Cochran and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Kirtley at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Cochran.

Mrs. Richey Returns—Mrs. G. M. Richey arrived home from St. Joseph, Mo., where she went to attend the funeral of her father, Mr. J. W. Littleholes. Mr. Littleholes was well known here as he was formerly of La Grande.

GERMANS IN THIS COUNTRY TO REGISTER

ment of Justice. In most cities the work will be done by precincts.

Every German must go to the office of the registrar and make out triplicate affidavit information blanks and furnish four photographs of himself—one for each of the blanks and one for his certificate. The photographs must bear his signature written across the front and must not be larger than three inches square. It must be on thin paper and have a light background.

The following information must be furnished on the information blanks: name, address, age, place of birth, occupations and residences since January 1, 1914, date of arrival in the United States, whether married or single, names and ages of children, whether any male relatives in arms against the United States, or if they have done so at any time, whether registered for the draft, military training, naturalization conditions and other similar information.

Small registration officials not equipped with finger-print apparatus have been advised to borrow a small quantity of printers ink and a roller and to make impressions upon the ink spread on a pane of glass.

One of the triplicate records is to be kept by the registration agents, one sent to the United States marshal and one sent to the Department of Justice at Washington.

Germans who are not at their place of residence next week may be registered wherever they happen to be. John Lord O'Brian, special assistant attorney general, will have general charge of the work. In La Grande registration is at the postoffice.
