Funeral of Mrs Claud M. Noyes Tomorrow

Mrs. Claude M. Noyes, who lived three miles from La Grande, died yesterday at 12:20 p. m. after a short illness of la grippe, followed by heart failure.

Mrs. Noyes' maiden name was Hazel Simpson. She was born in September, 1893, at Pendleton, Oregon. She was married October 18, 1913. She leaves a husband, Claud Noyes, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W Noyes, an eight-month old baby and her mother, Mrs. Sara Simpson, of Pendleton, four brothers, Ray Simpson of the Aviation corps in Texas, George Simpson of Walla Walla, Cecile Simpson of Alicel, and Harold Simpson of La Grande, and two sisters, Mrs. Maud Mullinburg, of San Diego, Calif., and Thelma Simpson, of La Grande.

She was a lovable woman of fine character and a member of the Christian church.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 2:00 p. m., at the Henry undertaking parlors.

FUNERAL OF MRS. JOHN ALLEN IS HELD

she became the warm friend of scores of people and was always admired by even those who knew her but casually. Genial, pleasant, cultured, and striving to live an exemplary life, she became a loved and admired character. For several years she managed a very popular boarding house here, and at her table, enjoying her hospitality and genial hostess-ship have sat hundreds of people who feel her untimely death with great regret. Cares, life's burdens and barriers never drove from her that striking smile and friendly attitude which made her loved and admired.

There remain to mourn her death her husband, John Allen, an engineer of Boise but formerly of La Grande; three children, Gilbert, aged 14, James aged 11, Wesley aged 4; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Holm of Seattle; a sister, Mrs. George Hibberd, of Seattle, and a brother, Frank, of Seattle.

The profusion of floral tributes which banked the casket at the church were but mute echoes of the wide-spread admiration and friendship the deceased had won in her short journey along life's pathway.

This good, true, kindly character is among us no more, for Edna Allen is dead. Long live her memory!

Colonel Roosevelt Improves

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Marked improvement in the condition of Colonel Roosevelt was announced by his physicians in a bulletin issued at 9 o'clock tonight. They said that "the outlook is very encouraging." Despite the encouraging tone of the bulletin, his physicians are unable to determine as yet whether further operations will be necessary.

PRIORITY FOR GRAIN ORDER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Transportation priority for grain, flour and corn meal in the West and Middle West was ordered by Director-General McAdoo tonight in the effort to hasten to market all grains and especially soft corn. This is full of moisture and as much as forty per cent of last year's crop is threatened with rotting under present weather conditions, unless rushed to elevators and dried. The order is also intended to rush grain to ports to fill allied orders.

The Latest Gasoline Bulletin

There will be no gasoline shortage during the war! The price may even take a nose-dive from the altitudes it has reached;

That is this month's information on the gasoline situation and provides a distinct ray of sunshine in a weary world.

It was Mr. A. C. Bedford of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, who a few months ago predicted a dire shortage and curtailment and counseled the strictest economy in the use of the precious fuel. Now Mr. Bedford, as chairman of the Petroleum War Service Committee, brushes away all the cobwebs with an official statement of which the following is an excerpt:

"There is no shortage of gasoline for use in this country. As a matter of fact, as a result of the light domestic demand incident to the winter weather the stocks of gasoline are increasing and will further increase before the heavy summer demand is encountered.

While there is an increasing demand abroad for gasoline for use by our own army and navy, as well as by our Allies, the limiting factor there is shipping tonnage. All the gasoline is now being forwarded for which ships are available. Experience and inquiry make it clear that the petroleum industry in America can and will supply all the increased demand for oil products for the war, provided sufficient tank steamers can be obtained. It is estimated that in 1917 not over 25 per cent of the gasoline produced in this country was exported. That fact should be reassuring to anyone who doubts this country's ability to supply the war requirements of our own and our allied governments for this important product.

So there you are again!

WOULD YOU SMILE? COULD YOU SMILE?

CAPT. FULLARD

If you were a British aviator who had bagged 42 Boche airmen—

If you were a captain at 20, the youngest officer of your rank in the British army—

If you had won the D. S. O. and M. C.—

If you stood second only to Major Bishop among all the British airmen—

If you had gained all these achievements without a scratch—

THEN—

If you got a broken leg at football in PLAY HOURS and had to be sent to a hospital to loaf while it knitted—

Could you smile? No!

And that's the difference between you and Captain Fullard. He did all this and here he is in the hospital—smile and all.

A SIEVE GRIP FOR YOU

If you have not figured on a Sieve-Grip Tractor for your work this spring, why not do so now? We shall give you whatever assistance we can, without the slightest obligation to you.

Come in and tell us your power problems now, probably we can make a suggestion to you that will prove valuable to you.

Simplicity of construction, directness of gear drives, perfect lubrication, lubricated roller pinion, etc., reduce the upkeep cost.

Dust is the worst enemy of the tractor. The Samson Sieve-Grip is fitted with the No-Dust Moisto-Rizer, which takes up all dust from the engine wearing parts.

These things go to make up a perfect tractor.
