ARCADE

Hippodrome Vaudeville Tomorrow.

This week's Hippodrome Vaudeville bill which will be presented at the Arcade tomorrow contains an act that is very seldom seen outside the larger cities. It is known as Studies From Life and is presented by the Great Westin and company. The Great Westin has a costly wardrobe, uniforms and wigs and they all denote the artist who has played the largest and best theatres. Westin's impersonations of great personages of all parts of the globe are strikingly true in every detail. Included in his generous list are the life-like impersonations of Napoleon, McKinley, Roosevelt, Bryan, King George VII, and many others. His act is something new and has made a great hit.

Howard and Graf present an act that is full of surprises, including high class singing, a little playlet and heavy furniture juggling in which an entire suite of bedroom furniture is juggled. Dixie Boyd is a petite black-eyed damsel with a distinctive individuality, who as a singing comedienne certainly proves the right to be billed as vaudeville's leading exponent in singing character comedy songs. Remarkable versatility is shown by this artist in her selection of songs and she tells many amusing and interesting stories and wears some beautiful gowns.

Baker and Benton are a classy couple who present an act that has many new and original ideas. It is brim full of comedy lines and laughable situations. They have both good singing voices and get off some new and snappy comedy that has made a great hit along the line.

The Keystone comedy that is on the program is called Hulla Hulla Land and the two-reels are full of fun.

The regular matinee will be given with two complete shows in the evening.

ALL WERE INSURED

Every Lost Soldier on the Tuscania Was Protected.

Every American soldier or sailor lost on the torpedoed transport Tuscania was protected by the United States Government Insurance and Government compensation. This has been officially announced by Secretary McAdoo.

Those who had not applied for insurance were covered by the automatic insurance under the law which is payable to a wife, child or widowed mother. This automatic insurance aggregates $4,300, netting $25 a month for 240 months.

Of those who had applied for and obtained insurance many had taken out the maximum amount of $19,000, netting $57.59 a month for 240 months.

There have been various causes for delay in forwarding checks to the dependents of soldiers and sailors. The distance of many of the applicants from Washington and the mail congestion prevailing more or less all over the country have caused delay both in the receipt of the applications by the Treasury and the receipt of the checks by the beneficiary.

Another cause is that of the checks sent out 10,000 could not be delivered because the dependents to whom the checks were payable had moved leaving no forwarding address or the addresses originally given were incomplete or er-

OREGON FOOD ADMINISTRATOR SENDS OUT LATEST RULES

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 26.—W. R. Aker, Federal Food Administrator for Oregon, has issued the following statement to which he directs the attention of all farmers, poultrymen, wholesale and commission men, and retail dealers who sell supplies to hotels, restaurants or other public eating places in this state:

"The United States Food Administration states that every hen which is sold before the last of May represents a food loss to the nation of about 30 eggs. The total loss of eggs represented by the customary selling of hens between February 1 and May 1 is about 12,500,000 dozen. The value of these eggs is about 80 per cent of what a hen is worth, so that this prohibition against the sale of hens and pullets is not a loss to the farmer, but an actual gain. Therefore, no licensee shall, between February 11th and April 30, 1918, purchase, ship, sell or negotiate the sale of any live or freshly-killed hens or pullets. Farmers should not kill them, and people should not buy them. "As this prohibition applies only to licensees, it does not prevent the producer of the unlicensed dealers from selling his stock. I have therefore set a price of not to exceed 24 cents for live hens and pullets, and 28 cents for dressed, and the same shall not retail for more than 30 cents, and the same cannot be sold by any licensee and as before announced, any dealer selling supplies to hotels, restaurants or other public eating places, must be licensed. There is no restriction on the killing or the sale of roosters or cockrels, or other poultry.

"Fully appreciating that the supply of poultry would become insufficient for ordinary needs, except for the stock now held in cold storage, I am compelled to recognize the price for this stock in other markets, and if poultry is to be retained here for consumption and not to be shipped out of the state, a reasonable price must be assured. I have assurance from a number of cold storage plants that they will not charge over 32 cents a pound, and such cold storage stock cannot be retailed for over 35 cents, and any prices in excess of these will be considered unfair and unreasonable.

Nearly half a million checks were mailed out in January and all possible expedition is being made to get all the addresses and other details correct so that the dependents of the soldiers and sailors will receive their allowances promptly and certainly.

PATRIOTIC MEETING HELD IN THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

One of the most interesting and enthusiastic patriotic meetings was held in the Christian church Sunday evening. The audience was a large one and the program of the highest order. There were four speakers for the occasion and each one was at his or her best. Elder H. L. Ford led off by attributing the cause of the great cataclysm bloodshed and horror to German rationalism which the speaker claimed had been taught in schools, churches, colleges and through the public press until God has been practically eliminated as one of their leading professors boasted was an accomplished fact. The Kaiser, however, was willing to have God as an assistant in his barbarous scheme.

H. E. Cooldrige in a most eloquent and impressive manner unfolded the life of George Washington, holding his audience in rapt attention.

Mr. R. J. Kitchen in a dramatic and polished manner unfolded the inspiring principles of the big-hearted, giant brained man of the Civil War period—Abraham Lincoln. Mr. Kitchen is at home on the public platform.

Mrs. A. E. Ivanhoe brought the woman's portion of patriotism and help in this cruel struggle before the audience in a way that impressed every one with the fact that our women are a very important factor in the winning of the victory over German Imperialism and aggression. We may be justly proud of having such a competent and efficient woman in our city.

The musical and vocal portions of the program richly helped to make the evening a memorable occasion. Mr. J. P. Caldwell used his cornet with telling effect, the tones were inspiring. Mrs. R. J. Kitchen's solo, "Keep the Home Fires Burning," was very appropriate and was responded to with hearty cheers. Mr. G. S. Birnie sang a song of local composition (by a Mrs. Slater Smith) which was a fine hit and brought a hearty ring of cheers. Mrs. J. P. Caldwell contributed a fine patriotic tribute to the flag. The church choir did

SHERRY

E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM BLUE RIBBON FEATURE

Earl Williams, Vitagraph star who is noted for the forceful personality which he registers in his screen work, was born in Sacramento, California. His father was one of the early settlers who emigrated from Booneville, Missouri. Science failed to attract Mr. Williams, for he left the Polytechnic College of California without waiting for his degree. After some training in stock companies he followed the path taken by so many other famous actors of the pictured drama and entered the moving picture field with Vitagraph, as an extra man. His finely carved features and the cogency with which he expresses his strong personality on the screen soon won him recognition by Albert E. Smith, Vitagraph's president, and placed him in the top ranks of leading men. As the ascetic man from the hills in "In the Balance," the Greater Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature, which will be the attraction in the Sherry theatre today and tomorrow, he depicts a man who has secluded himself in his ancestral home. There he leads the life of a recluse, till, through an accidental meeting with a great actress, he wins her heart. This is stirringly told in his powerful story, which is adapted from "The Hillman," the novel by the famous English author, E. Phillips Oppenheim. Mr. Williams as "John Strangeway, the Hillman," and Grace D'Armond as "Louise Mauriel, the actress," are supported by Miss Lam Miles, Denton Vane, Julia Swayne Gordon, Robert Galliard, and Templar Saxe.

Worst Winter in Years.
Snow, wind and extreme cold caused more colds this winter than in past years. Foley's Honey and Tar proved its worth in thousands of homes. Men, women and children checked colds and coughs and prevented serious consequences from exposure. It clears the passages, heals raw inflamed membranes, banishes irritation and tickling throat. Mrs. Edward Strevy, R. 27, Clinton, O., says: "I think Foley's Honey and Tar the only medicine for coughs and colds and recommend it highly." Sold everywhere.—Adv.

PAGE METHOD OF SPLICING BOTH QUICK AND SECURE

You Can't Beat It Anywhere

Loops are turned at the factory in each end of every line wire of Page Fence, and every roll of fence contains a bunch of small coils by the use of which two rolls of fence are joined together in the same manner as you would place two keys on a ring at the same time, thus joining your fence together quickly and securely.

Page Fence is the only fence having this method of splicing and this feature alone has won it many friends and buyers, as it is easy to see the direct advantage the Page Splice has over the other methods of splicing the single wires by hand at each end of a roll of fence.

A BOY AND THREE LAMBS

Lowell Clelle Carpenter, 8 years old, of Tindall, Mo., last Saturday purchased $100 worth of government stamps at the bank there. But this eight-year-old is worth more money, and the story of his rise is interesting. Four years ago his uncle gave him three lambs. Since that time he has realized from them a $50 pony to ride to school, $100 worth of government stamps, $500 worth of government bonds, and later he has bought a $50 "Baby Bond" and has $23 worth of wool on hand. His flock of sheep now number forty-six. It is said he has an ambition to pay income tax, which he no doubt will do in a few years.

The young lad above referred to is a nephew of Mrs. Pete Biever of La Grande.

The case now on is that of C. A. Myers vs. Clarence Decker. The plaintiff seeks damages against the defendant for the alleged destruction of electric light wires.
