ARCADE

Julian Eltinge Again a Woman in "The Widow's Might."

Julian Eltinge, the famous Paramount feminine impersonator, who is appearing at the Arcade Theater tomorrow only, is again taking the role of a woman in "The Widow's Might." This is a charmingly humorous story of the adventure of young Dick Tavish, who sets himself up as a rancher, only to learn that an older hand at the same is about to beat him. How he wins out, with the help of a wife, a baby and an exceedingly pretty girl, makes an unexpectedly refreshing and original picture, which was directed by William C. de Mille.

"Ropin' Her Romeo" is the name of the new Mack Bennett comedy that will also be shown on this bill. This comedy like the others that have been shown in full of fun from start to finish. Polly Moran, Ben Turpin, Slim Summerville and others all help in the making of the comedy in this two reel screen. Due to the fact that the promoters of the wrestling match have rented the theater for Monday night the picture program will not be shown but on Tuesday at the matinee and night this entire program will be presented.

A good kodak that gives entire satisfaction, that you can buy at Silverthorn's Family Drug Store at $2.00, at $4.50, at $7.50, at $10.00, at $12.50 or at as much more as you wish to pay. Better come in and let us show you these. 3-11-18

CLEOPATRA PLEASURES BIG AUDIENCE YESTERDAY.

Popular Film Star, Theda Bara, Appears in Magnificent Production.

In "Cleopatra," the superb, William Fox production, which opened yesterday a two days' engagement at the Star Theater, Theda Bara has secured the most pretentious picture production of the season.

Theda Bara's Cleopatra has courage, beauty of body and feature, and she uses her potent charms to ensnare her enemies and to gain her ends.

The play itself, the record of true historic incidents is of absorbing interest. The central figure is Cleopatra, in which Theda Bara rises to heights of dramatic significance, and whose diaphanous costume, and whose voluptuous, dignified and fragile.

The sea battle of Actium takes place actually under one's eyes, ending in the flight of Cleopatra and the burning of Antony's fleet.

It is unquestionably the most elaborate and sumptuous production ever screened.

The engagement closes with matinee and evening performance tomorrow.

Dorothy Phillips Tomorrow. Dorothy Phillips will vastly extend her already wide popularity in presentations of "Fires of Rebellion" at the Star Theater on Tuesday and Wednesday, when "Bluebird Day" is again at hand. Miss Phillips has done valiant service to the screen in many preceding Bluebirds "The Price of Silence," "The Piper's Price," "Hell Morgan's Girl," "The Girl in the Checkered Coat," "The Flashlight," "A Doll's House," and now comes "Fires of Rebellion," a social labor problem play of great force and purposeful interest.

SHERRY'S

EDITH STORRY LIKES ATHLETIC ROLES.

Edith Storey, the star of the Metro picture "The Eyes of Mystery," which will be the attraction at the Sherry Theater, last day today, delights in playing athletic roles on the screen.

"I feel that my role of Carina Carmichael in "The Eyes of Mystery," is very well suited to me," said Miss Storey in an interview. "I just love the type or role that gives me opportunities to wear sport clothes and to be a real red-blooded athletic girl who rides, swims and shoots. I love the great outdoors which develops the girl of individuality and 'go-to-it-iveness.'"

In this new photoplay, Miss Storey is able to do all the athletic stunts which she enjoys. She makes a thrilling escape on horse-back, and being pursued by a man in a row boat when she rides across a stream, she has a terrific struggle in mid-stream with her pursuer. In other scenes she shows her ability with a gun when, with the aid of a few men, she defends the historic "House of the Mist" from a host of half-crazed Virginia mountaineers. "The Eyes of Mystery" is replete with thrills.

AN ENORMOUS WASTE.

Gasoline and Auto Tires Especially Subject To Loss.

"When statisticians point to a yearly national waste of $300,000,000 in gasoline and tires alone," says Frank Hilton, Franklin dealer, "it is not strange that automobile design should come in for its share of attention, so as to reduce this waste and conserve our war requirements."

"Aeroplane design, which has shown such rapid strides since the war," Mr. Hilton cites, "is being reflected in the construction of automobile engines."

"Most motorists have observed the closer study of the proper methods of cooling, because in the past the limits imposed by water have led to waste of power through over-cooling."

"The progress towards greater efficiency is reflected in the development of light-weight construction. It is no uncommon thing to hear of one thousand pounds of superfluous weight being removed through refined design. The success of the five passenger Franklin, weighing 2,280 pounds is often mentioned as an indication of the possibilities along this line. It used to be regarded as impossible to make an enclosed car to weigh less than 3,500 pounds, but scientific light-weight as worked out in the Franklin now produces a sedan and a limousine weighing only 2,610 pounds."

"And it has been my experience," Mr. Hilton continued, "that when the subject of unsprung weight was mentioned only a short time ago, nobody knew what was being talked about. But now with maximum tire mileage taking on added con-

1500 Tractor Outfits to Help The French Grow More Food

TYPE OF TRACTOR SENT ABROAD BY U.S. FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

American tractors—1500 of them—sent by the U. S. Food Administration, will battle hunger in France. When spring comes they will be in the field. They will help the French to grow 2,000,000 more tons of food.

The idea of reinforcing the waning agricultural strength of France with American tractors originated with Henry Morgenthau, Jr. The Food Administration has designated Henry Morgenthau, Jr. to follow the machines to France and put them in operation. The first 100 tractors were sent to France on the deck of a naval transport and the entire number will reach there in plenty of time for spring plowing.

The tractors will operate mainly in the battle-scarred portion of northern France which has been re-taken from the Germans. These property lines have been largely obliterated. The fields are consequently large and the batteries of tractors will be able to work most effectively. Thus in a few months food crops, especially wheat and potatoes, will be growing in French soil plowed by American tractors—battle lines.

sequence, engineers are seeing to it that axles, wheels, and all under-construction are light as possible, so that tires may be relieved of unnecessary pounding. In fact, it has been established that one pound of weight below the springs is equivalent in destructiveness to ten pounds of weight above the springs.

"The search for efficiency has also developed the easy-rolling car. Inefficient bearings have been cast aside, and any complication of mechanism or dead-weight that acts as a drag on the car, is becoming highly unpopular."

OPPORTUNITY STILL OPEN.

Enlistments May Still Be Made In Naval Reserve Force.

To keep up the complement of the ever-increasing navy, the department has again thrown down the bars for a short time and are seeking competent men who desire to enlist. Enlistments are being made in all the different branches of the service, except in some of the higher ratings. The term of enlistment is for four years, with active service for the duration of the war only.

The naval reserve force offers exceptional advantages. The service and pay are identical with the regular navy, and as practically all the officers are selected from the ranks by competitive examinations, which are held three or four times a year, the chances for promotion and advancement are unequalled. Every man in the service is eligible to take this examination after from three to six months' active duty and shows the proper aptitude for the work. Many of the men who entered the service at the outbreak of the war have commissions, and have been ordered to Annapolis for a short course of training and study in the special branches.

All of the navy recruiting offices are authorized to make enlistments and as a result the number is increasing daily. Men of the draft age are accepted upon securing permission to enlist of their local draft board, under Section 151, selective service regulations.

Grade Operetta Best Yet.

After many weeks of hard practice under the splendid directorship of the grade teachers, the grade children put one of the best grade operetta ever staged in Joseph. This is the opinion of all who saw "Pandora," last Friday night. The costuming was very pretty and aided largely to make the production a pleasing one. Until about a week ago Miss Irene Gaulke was to have taken the leading part but on account of her absence Miss Alma Desler, a high school girl, was put in her place, but despite her handicap because of lack of time Miss Desler learned her part so well that even the most critical observer was unable to tell that she had not received as much training as the other players. Besides the solo work by the principal characters and the pretty dance by Miss Lois Caviness, who was Hope, were several choruses by the whole company of youthful actors. In fact it would be impossible to say enough good things about the operetta as everything was right up to notch. Let us hope for many more like it.

Practice goes on each day for the Glee Club operetta "The Nautical Knot," and Mrs. Parker, the director, reports that it will be put on in two or three weeks.

La Grande Young Man Arrives At Camp And Is Well Pleas'd.

D. E. Silverthorn received a telegram this morning from Harley Richardson, one of the young men who recently enlisted in the aviation service. Mr. Richardson is at the aviation camp at San Antonio, Texas, and reports that he passed all the examinations without a hitch and that he is well pleased with the surroundings. This, coupled with the fact that he is well and feeling fine is about all that could be asked in the way of a satisfactory report from one of La Grande's most popular young men now in the service of Uncle Sam.

If you want to keep your hands and face and complexion in fine condition, drop in and see what our face lotions will do for you. They are just right at Silverthorn's Family Drug Store. 3-11-18.

For Hard-to-fit Women

Some women are hard to fit in corsets; some just think they are.

There are certain types of figures, however—full bust and small hips, small bust and large hips, short stout figures—that require special designing in corsets.

In MODART Front Laced Corsets there are special sizes and models for just such figures. We can give any woman, of whatever size or shape, the kind of style and fit she should have.
