like we have at home, but hills, hills everywhere, some completely covered with trees, some bare and some with clumps of brush here and there, always a change. And the wonderful roads go winding in and out over the foothills and dales, so that there is always something new to see. Quaint little villages are tucked away here and there among the hills, and looking around, you can see a church spire peeping above some hill, for every village has its church, and some of them are wonderful for their age. Decorations and magnificent windows. All along the roads are shrines, consisting of an iron or stone crucifix, set upon a pedestal. Some of them are works of art, having upon them, a life size figure of Christ.

A while ago I had the privilege of visiting the home of "Joan of Arc," and seeing her birthplace. She is very much honored by the French people. I also visited a town with a wall entirely around it. It is claimed this wall was erected by Caesar during one of his invasions of this country. There are gateways in the wall and the massive gates are still hanging. Occasionally one will see a castle with its towers and battlements, perched away upon some rocky cliff, and more often are to be seen the beautiful country chateaus, with their extensive gardens. There is one of these places next to our quarters and it is beautiful. There is a high wall extending completely around the place. In the garden is statuary placed here and there.

The people are fully as interesting as the country. I know you would be as interested as I am for what we have read is not exaggerated one bit. This morning there was a light rain falling, but the sky appears to be clearing now, so I may be able to take a trip. I have been planning for this afternoon. I see you are still at your old game of theatricals. I have wondered if there have been any dramatics going on this winter. I haven't seen a movie since leaving the States. I notice you are still the same old bookworm. Well, I am too, but sometimes have difficulty in finding enough reading material to satisfy my appetite for reading. Am now reading "A Son of the Sea." There isn't a great deal of time to read though. Well, guess I had better close for this time.

Oh, by the way, we are having a company smoker tonight, some boxing, wrestling and specialties. I hereby extend you a cordial and hearty invitation. Said smoker will take place in the third story of our four-story barn. Well, so long for this time. Now don't delay writing for so long, old man, for I feared you had forgotten me. Give my best wishes to your father, mother and Kip. Tell all hello. Will look out for Harry. As ever your pal, LYNN STRINGHAM.

Almost a Young Man Again.

When a man awakes in the morning with back so stiff he can hardly stoop over, with shooting twinges in sides and groins, dark and puffed pouches under eyes—when his movements seem slowed up and he lacks vim and energy—instead of saying, "I'm getting old," he should be on guard against kidney trouble. E. R. Whitehurst, R. F. D. 1, Norfolk, Va., writes: "I had been suffering for more than a year, but since taking Foley Kidney Pills I feel almost a young man again." Sold Everywhere.—Adv.

CHINOOK DRIVES SNOW NEAR SUMMERVILLE

SUMMERVILLE, March 16. (Special.)—"Arabian Nights," a drama given in Summerville on March 2, was given at Island City on March 15 for the benefit of the Red Cross. On March 22 it will be given in Imbler. There will be vocal music by Manda Wagoner, Mary Woodell, Irene Ott and W. L. Starr, and also instrumental music.

A Red Cross benefit dance was given here on Friday, March 15. Ray West has joined the Marine corps and expects to leave in a few days.

George Hardy and family moved back to their ranch north of town after several months logging at the McKenzie saw mill.

L. R. Niederer transacted business in Imbler this week.

The chinook winds have been ridding the mountains of snow and Frank Ott has already turned his horses out on the hills.

Spring is surely here, for all the farmers are getting in readiness for spring work. The farmers do not anticipate a shortage of laborers, but wages are much higher than usual, being $65 per month at present.

Thelbert Choate has purchased a nine-foot cut Deering combine. He doesn't believe in taking chances on labor shortage.

Leo Niederer has rented his father's farm and purchased all stock and machinery. He has also rented Mrs. Emma Hug's farm. He is a first-class farmer and no doubt will be a great help to the farming industry.

Ross Irvin and Ed Behrens motored to La Grande today in Ed's auto.

D. L. Sanderson and family, and John Niederer and family went to Imbler today to meet the train, where they bid farewell to Roy Spencer, who enlisted with the 37th Engineers. Mr. Spencer is now on his way to Fort Meyer, Va., where he will be in training before going "over there." He is well known here, being the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Niederer, and also wish him the best of luck and safe return.

C. L. McKinnis motored to La Grande today.

Mrs. Ed Combs and daughter went to La Grande on Saturday.

Miss Marcia Becker was a visitor at the county seat on Saturday.

Clyde McKenzie was a business visitor in Elgin on Tuesday.

Wm. Sanderson transacted business in Imbler on Saturday.

B. M. Oliver was a business visitor in Elgin on Thursday.

Mike Royce now has 43 kids and expects to have 50 when lambing is over. He says it is no joke to raise goats. Anyone caring for milk goats can undoubtedly get them from Mike as he has several good milkers.

Several Summerville residents were in Imbler to bid farewell to Sherwood Williams, who left for Idaho to take up farming. Mr. Williams has through faithful service in the Imbler bank won many friends who regret his leaving.

W. W. Sanderson motored to La Grande on Sunday afternoon to meet his two brothers, Charles and Stuart, who returned from Portland where they have been employed at the shipyards during the winter.
