Don't Let It Linger.
A cough that follows a gripe or any other cough that "hangs on" from winter to spring weans down the sufferer, leaving him or her in a weakened state unable to war off sickness and disease. Joe Gillard, 148 Fillmore St., Nashville, Tenn., writes: "I was suffering with a dry hacking cough and a pain in my chest, but since taking Foley's Honey and Tar I have been relieved." It soothes, heals and cures coughs, colds and croup. Good for whooping cough. Sold everywhere. —Adv.

Mr. Grain Farmer:
Are you prepared to handle your grain in bulk? Do not wait until Spring and Summer when you are buried with work and worried with labor shortage, but build your granaries now.
You can buy the lumber and roofing paper for a first-class 1000 bushel portable granary for $54.58 and it will last for years. Sacks for the same amount of grain will cost you $125.00 and this would be a dead loss against this year's crop.
A granary of this size can be moved anywhere and can be filled directly from the thrasher, doing away with high priced labor handling and sewing sacks.
The boys in the trenches need the sacks for sand bags for the protection of their very lives and perhaps your boy is among them.
Spend your money in your own valley by buying lumber manufactured at home. When you buy sacks part of the money goes to India.
BUILD YOUR GRANARIES NOW
Be prepared by building them before the farming season opens up. Be sure to get good lumber, well seasoned, as low grade lumber will give you trouble in a few seasons. Don't use green lumber.
Save money—keep what you spend at home—prevent loss and damage from exposure to weather—leave the sacks for our boys in the trenches; help win the war by building granaries now.
Portable granaries of this type are universally used in other sections. One trip with a good team will haul the material for one granary. For particulars as well as prices on Union County lumber for all farm purposes, see

CROWN FLOUR
THE PURE FOOD FLOUR
CROWN FLOUR is made from the choicest of wheat in the best mill on the coast. Therefore, bleaching or artificial coloring is not necessary.
If you are using another brand of flour it is probably bleached as nearly all western mills employ artificial methods in coloring their flour.
Use Crown Flour and eliminate any possibility of getting flour that has been artificially colored.
Ask your Grocer for CROWN FLOUR.

"FEELING ONE'S OATS"
Is a familiar expression growing out of the well established fact that eating oats produces vigor and energy.
GOLDEN ROD OATS
Are milled from the choicest oats obtainable, are free from hulls and can be used in many delightful dishes besides porridge.

The Bookworm.
Occasionally the bookworm who has worked through numberless volumes of mediocre or trashy fiction in the library, makes a valuable find; some novel that is not constructed by one of the half dozen popular recipes for best-sellers. Such a book is "Liliseona's Home," by Selma Lagerlof. This is an exquisite description of Swedish country life; with a slight, but interesting plot, at once humorous and sad, with just a touch of fairy superstition. "Little-Maid," the pastor's daughter, her stepmother, the pastor's wife, the old servants, and the pastor himself are described with the delicacy and clearness of a fine engraving. The atmosphere of the old Swedish homestead is enchanting.

To the war books listed in the "Observer" of last week may be added Cunliffe's collection of "Poems of the Great War."

More books for soldiers have been collected during the week. An especially good donation has been received from Mr. Della Green, including volumes by Hopkinson Smith, Victor Hugo, Jack London, Lew Wallace, Frank Norris, Jules Verne and Robert Louis Stevenson and others. Mrs. J. H. Childs also made a gift of several excellent sets of short stories and other works. We should like to thank everyone who gave even a single volume, but the list would be too long for publication.

Are you efficient, or do you merely put in your time? Ask at the public library for the following books:

- The Young Man and the World—Beveridge.
 - The Exceptional Employee: Training for Efficiency—Marden.
 - Leadership—Brent.
 - How to Live on 24 Hours a Day—Bennett.
 - Laugh and Live—Fairbanks.
 - What All the World's a Seeking—Trine.
 - Freedom of Life—Call.
 - The Subconscious—Jastrow.
 - Shop Management—Taylor.
- Except during a cold snap like that of this week, the library will no longer run its heating plant full time. Instead of firing up late in the afternoon, as we approach the bottom of the coal bin, a fire will be lighted in the fireplace. The fireplace is in the children's room, and readers seem to enjoy bringing their books and magazines and reading by the open fire, while watching the children's pleasure in the picture books and stories.
Library hours 1-6; 7-9 weekdays. Sundays 1:30-5:30, for reading only. The building will be closed during the Liberty Loan celebration this evening.
