WELFARE OF CHILDREN IS NEXT DRIVE

BUT UNLIKE OTHER WAR MEASURES NO MONEY IS ASKED

Patriotic Co-Operation Is Asked to Save the Lives of Children

Following in line with other war activities, the Woman's Committee of the National Council of Defense through the Child Welfare department will immediately launch an educational campaign throughout the nation, which has for its prime motive the saving of a large percent of the 300,000 children under five years of age who die annually in the United States from preventable causes.

It is estimated that fully 100,000 lives may be saved during the year by the united efforts of all persons and organizations interested in child welfare.

This campaign was promoted by the Children's Bureau United States Department of Labor and as a result of the recent conference in Washington, D. C., was endorsed by President Wilson in the following letter addressed to Secretary Wilson and transmitted to Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the Children's bureau.

"Next to the duty of doing everything possible for the soldiers at the front, there could be, it seems to me, no more patriotic duty than that of protecting the children, who constitute one-half of our population.

The success of the efforts made in England in behalf of the children is evidenced by the fact that the infant death rate in England for the second year of the war was the lowest in her history. Attention is now being given to education and labor conditions for children by the legislature of both England and France showing that the protection of childhood is essential to winning the war.

"I am very glad that the same progress are being set afoot in this country and I heartily approve the plan of the children's bureau and the woman's committee of the Council of Defense for making the second year of the war one of united activity on behalf of children and for that sense a children's year."

"I trust that the year will not only see the goal reached of saving 100,000 lives of infants and young children, but that the work may so successfully develop as to set up certain irreducible minimum standards for health, education and work of the American child."

Mrs. Charles H. Castner, chairman Woman's Committee, Council of Defense for Oregon and Mrs. Fred C. Schilke, chairman of the Child Welfare department, will soon have plans perfected whereby Oregon will be a part of this great National program.

Efforts most of the war measures now will not be an issue but those elements which are of far greater value in this campaign, the very deepest thought and the heartiest cooperation of all patriotic citizens.

Oregon, already in the lead in most of the states in all lines of work for children, will be expected early and speedily to go "over the top" in this great work.

The Woman's Committee considers the Third Liberty Loan of such importance as to supersede all else for a short time, then will be inaugurated the Children's Year, plans which will very soon be given proper publicity.

RUSSELL RECOVERS CAR

The Studebaker car, owned by J. A. Russell, which was taken Friday evening while the folks were at a picture show, has been recovered. The auto was found in a lane north of the river. Some of the repairing apparatus was slightly damaged, but there was no extensive damage. The parties who took the machine away have not yet been discovered.

Was Given a Surprise

Friends of Sam Harris dropped in on him all of a sudden Saturday evening and gave him a surprise visit. There was a good bunch of them and they had a good time following the recovery of their unsuspecting host from the first shock of the intrusion. The occasion was one of mutual enjoyment to all.

Gauze Workers' Attention!
The work on gauze dressings will be resumed next week beginning Monday afternoon.

Good Knitting

The knitted garments to which are sent to the division each week reflect great credit on the knitters in this chapter. The work was carefully supervised in the early autumn when the drive began by the joint chairman, Mrs. M. K. Hall, and Mrs. T. N. Murphy. Classes were instructed in the art of knitting throughout the chapter and hundreds patiently learned to knit. The work progressed slowly at first, and only an occasional box of articles was assembled. Experts pronounce the knitting from this chapter the best that is turned into the division. Mrs. M. Acton, Mrs. J. E. Peley and Mrs. Chester Nowlin have been most faithful as teachers. Mrs. Anthony will be found every Friday afternoon to teach beginners, with Mrs. Hall who inspects and ties into bundles the local knittings for Saturday's packing.

deal to the people of Union county to conserve until it hurts and asked that the work of conservation be general instead of by the few.

Everyone was surprised to know that the meat consumption in this nation has increased during the past few months ten per cent, instead of having decreased as all had believed.

Is Wheat Being Hoarded?

Sam Brooks, prominent rancher of the Imbler country, addressed President Kerr and asked if it was a fact that millions of bushels of wheat were being held by the farmers of the country. Dr. Kerr's answer was that such is a fact, whereupon Sam Brooks offered a resolution which was unanimously adopted requesting congress to pass a law conflicting such wheat holdings at any fair price the government may see fit to give.

At a meeting in Imbler Saturday, the same resolution was passed by Starke, Tander valley farmers and President Kerr was requested to wire a report of these meetings directly to Washington.

Mrs. James E. Corbett, who has sons in the service, sang "Danny Boy" and when the fall, round tones of the first few words died away the audience gave forth an applause that gathered strength with every moment until the singer appeared the second time and sang "Our Boys in France." Her voice was full of emotion, her thoughts were "over there" with her boys and the large number of fathers and mothers of soldiers in the Ahermacle, joined her in thought. Plainly she carried them with her from the first word. The closing effect of the song was most pronounced. There was applause, genuine appreciative applause for Mrs. Corbett, but the thoughts she had with her beautiful song sent across the Atlantic lingered. Her last number was a song and silent sermon combined.

Hon. S. B. Houston, of Portland, who happened to be in the city Saturday, was called upon for a patriotic address. He belongs to the fathers who have boys in France, and his talk was of the right sort. Positive in his stand on many things which he wishes the government to do relative to spies and enemies he made no criticism of what had been done by any department, but called upon everyone to join in the work at home.

Comrade Murphy, a civil war veteran, made a few remarks and the longer he talked the more of the war spirit he breathed until finally the old gentleman pumped up and down and almost begged for a chance to go and do his bit in this conflict.

Food Card Demanded

Before adjournment the following resolution was adopted unanimously by a standing vote of the great audience:

"Whereas, Representative patriotic citizens of Union county have assembled, do believe that the voluntary conservation requested by President Wilson through his Federal Food Commissioner, Mr. Hoover, and through Mr. Hoover's representative in Oregon, Mr. W. B. Ayer, is not meeting with the response from the general public that it should meet with, and that the saving of food is not general

BEAUTIFUL SCENERY IN "BROADWAY BILL"

The use of beautiful backgrounds, characteristic of all of Harold Lockwood's Metro wonder plays, is one of the distinguishing features of that star's newest screen romance, "Broadway Bill," which will be shown at the Sherry theatre today only.

There is an episode showing night life in one of the big cafes of Broadway and for these scenes the producers erected a set duplicating the dining room of one of Broadway's most famous hotels. The management of the hotel gave the producers every co-operation to make the reproduction accurate and to preserve the atmosphere of the original, their efforts going to the extent of loaning the services of

Pauline Frederick and Fatty Arbuckle on Same Program

"The Hungry Heart," by David Graham Phillips, which was chosen by Pauline Frederick as her newest Paramount picture, was first published serially in one of the popular magazines; next in book form in 1909 when it was one of the six best sellers of the year. "The Hungry Heart," starring Miss Frederick, is to be shown today and tomorrow at the Arcade.

On the same program with Miss Frederick is the screen's biggest funny man, Fatty Arbuckle. Arbuckle will be seen in his new two reel comedy "A Country Hero" and it is sure "some" comedy.

S-T-A-R

Swift Action in "Follow the Girl"

The interior of a cottage in far Sweden, a transatlantic liner in mid-ocean, a train rushing across the continent, a ranch in the great west—these are the varied scenes of the Butterfly picture, "Follow the Girl," which comes to the Star theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday with Ruth Stodden, supported by Roy Stewart and a fine cast, in the leading role. In the picture there are secret agents of a foreign power, U. S. Secret Service men, Mexican bandits and cattle thieves, cowboys of the practical-joking type beloved of fiction, with their butt an uncouth Swedish boy, the beautiful syp of an unfriendly government and her accomplice—all these varied characters move rapidly through the scenes of a clever story, culminating in a kidnapping, a realistic fight on horseback, the dramatic arrest of the foreign spies, and the working out of a charming love story. After we have followed the girl through all her adventures, and the "paper" is discovered and returned to its proper owners, we experience a sense of satisfaction, which only comes when crime and vice are properly rewarded in a working film story.

Wonderful War Spectacle Coming

Real star shells and trench rockets were used to illuminate the French system photographed at night in "For the Freedom of the World," the wonderful war spectacle film. The Canadian Army's Ordinance department supplied the necessary "fireworks."

Mrs. A. G. Herman is spending the day at Hot Lake.

Every Woman wants to be Pretty, Healthful and Shapely

When a young girl puts on her first corset her figure has a tendency to grow into the line of her corsets whether the lines are good or bad. If her first corset is a bad one and she obtains a bad figure from it, of course a new corset of the same model will fit her better than any corset of superior lines or design, for has she not allowed her figure to take the imperfect lines of the poor corset?

We make this suggestion. Try on one of these.

BEST IN THE LONG RUN

The Conquerors

ALL The Conquerors of The Road. Hail the tires that triumphed in the bitterest struggle ever staged between roads and tires, a conflict of 4,178,744 tire miles. Hail Goodrich Tested Tires.

Hear the story of a good fight well won. One year ago Goodrich, challenging the roads of America to a test of strength, sent forth his Test Car Fleets to battle America's roads in every region of the country.

The roads did their worst. East, west, north and south, as the Test Car Fleets whirled from state to state, the teeth of the road gnawed at Goodrich Tires.

But the tires conquered with phenomenal mileage that doubled Goodrich's pride. From that test covering millions of miles, the Test Car Fleets came back with a new tire standard, the TESTED of Goodrich Tested Tires.

Tested Tires mean certainty of service, proved service, and that means a lot to a tire user. It means long life in a tire, and dependability on the road, for no hidden weakness could conceal itself in that year long test of Goodrich's Test Car Fleets.

SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, proved themselves masters of the road. The spiral-wrapped, cable-cord tire body, and the tough, close-clutch, cross-banded black safety tread defied the rough going.

Under light and heavy cars they proved themselves not for one car or one driver, or one road, but all cars, all drivers, all roads.

Reap the benefits of this nation-wide victory of Goodrich Tires, the sure mileage and dependability of a proven tire service, by demanding tires that won the title, "America's Tested Tires."
