RED CROSS News and Notes.

TO ALL PATRIOTIC CITIZENS:

The La Grande Chapter of the Red Cross is compelled to make another appeal to the patriotic citizens of this community. The funds of the Chapter are inadequate to the demands made upon it for the purchase of material and supplies which it is supposed to furnish.

At the present time the chapter finds itself in debt about $1,000, having expended since April 16, 1917, to April 1, 1918, $24,347.38. Their indebtedness at this time in excess of their assets is $1,017.59.

In order to hold the chapter's charter and continue the good work which is now more necessary and essential than ever before in the history of the war, the chapter has found that it will have to receive a regular monthly income amounting to from one or two thousand dollars, and to this end we appeal to you to fill out the attached subscription blank for as much as you can spare monthly for this very essential work.

La Grande, Oregon.....1918 I hereby agree to pay to La Grande Chapter of the Red Cross the sum of $....., payable on the first day of each month.

Signed..... These coupons and monthly payments can be turned in to either of the banks in La Grande.

ARCADE

IN OLD KENTUCKY.

"In Old Kentucky" which will be given at the Arcade Theater on Thursday evening has entertained more playgoers throughout the United States and Canada than any drama now current, and it remains today one of the most wholesome and interesting, and one of the most absorbing and thrilling of all the stage offerings of the day. It is worth anyone's time to sit through a performance of this delightful drama. There are scenes of realism that leave a strong impression on the mind, and much genuine and sparkling humor, breezy and wholesome. The love story unfolded in the play is an idyllic one, and charms with its simple purity and truth. There is a lovely mountain lass who does heroic things in a natural manner and there is a manly young hero of the right sort. Miss Jen Selkirk in the leading role of the brave mountain girl, gives a splendid portrayal of this trying part. A fine company and a pretentious company and Ethiopian plantation artists help to liven up the performance.

LAURANT AND COMPANY.

On account of a special road attraction the regular Hippodrome vaudeville show will not appear at the Arcade this Wednesday, but Laurant and Company, traveling under the management of the Redpath Lyceum Bureau will present their show of wonders.

Laurant has been under the management of the Redpath people for more than ten years. He presents a show of the latest wonders of magic, large illusions and impersonations. Besides his work, there are with the company two very clever musicians, who will entertain during the intermissions with some very clever work along their respective lines.

No expense has been spared in the staging of this show. Also the greatest attention has been given to every detail including elaborate costumes for the attendants and stage effects.

There will be no matinee Wednesday and but one show in the evening of two hours' duration. The lower floor will be sold at 75 cents, balcony 50 cents and children 25 cents, these prices include the war tax. There are no reserved seats for Laurant, and it will be well to come early and avoid the rush.

SHERRY'S

GLADYS LESLIE IS PRETTY SCREEN STAR.

Gladys Leslie, who is the princess in "The Wooing of Princess Pat," the Blue Ribbon Feature, which will be the attraction at the Sherry Theater today and tomorrow, is one of photoplay's youngest and most beautiful stars.

"The girl with the million dollar smile," was born in New York city eighteen years ago, and her first screen experience was with the Thanhouser Company. She then was seen in several important features on the Pathe program, attracting attention by her work as Sophia in "The Veil of Wakefield," in which Frederick Warde was starred.

Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, a man noted for his success in picking screen actresses, and also for his conservatism, engaged Miss Leslie on a long-time contract to appear in features, and his confidence was vindicated in her first appearance—that of an Irish colleen in "His Own People."

In "The Wooing of Princess Pat," she is the princess who is forced into marriage with the Iron Duke of a neighboring principality, whom she has never met, to save her father's kingdom from a hopeless war.

J. Frank Glendon has the leading male role and others in the cast are Bigelow Cooper, William Dunn, Charles Kent, Templar Saxe and J. Albert Hall. On the same program is Episode No. 13 of "Vengeance and the Woman," entitled "Sands of Doom."

S-T-A-R

FAMOUS HORSEMAN IN PICTURES.

Leading lights of the movies give all sorts of reasons for their entry into the picture field. No one has a more original reason than Neal Hart, just elevated to the position of star, and appearing at the Star theater today and tomorrow in the Butterfly picture, "The Man from Montana," in which he plays the part of a two-listed hero. Hart went into the picture game because he loved horses! And he came by his love of them honestly. His people call Staten Island, New York, their home, and the family homestead has stood there for several generations, during which all the men of the name of Hart have interested themselves in the breeding and raising of fine horses. Season after season they earned trophies in Madison Square Garden, New York. Six of their horses, Sir Roderick, Tycoon, Amherst, Fox Catcher, Richmond and Vulcan, in four successive Madison shows, took the highest honors in their class. In the big home of Neal's uncle, Charles Hart, who owns one of the show places on the island in which Neal and his sisters were born, there is gathered together one of the largest collection of cups and ribbons in American. "Fox Catcher" was Neal's one particular possession, a Virginia-Irish mare, a famous runner and high jumper.
