CHARLES A. BARRETT.

The expected end came to Senator Charles A. Barrett at his home in Athena yesterday. For months he has been ill, gradually growing worse and of late his family has watched his bedside, hourly knowing that in the very nature of the ailment that the life of the Senator would soon cease.

He was a man well known in Eastern Oregon. For eight years he represented this senatorial district in the legislature and thorough honesty of purpose marked every vote he cast in the law-making body. By his close attention to state affairs he became a character of state size, and he was frequently consulted by the leading men on issues and movements of interest to the entire commonwealth.

Senator Barrett was a successful man. He dealt with his neighbors in Athena and in the northern part of Umatilla county for many years and saved considerable of this world's goods. While he was in no way a rich man he was well fixed, as the expression goes. When in the later years of his life he came to a realization that he possessed enough property to make himself and his family comfortable he turned his attention to work for the public, a very laudable thing to do. The people of Union county will ever remember him as a good public servant, a well-seasoned man in affairs of life, and a good friend.

WILL BE MISSED

The passing of S. F. Newhard is but a solemn reminder that the ranks of those who made the beginning in this valley are becoming thinned. Mr. Newhard was one among those who found Grande Ronde in the new and unpolished stage. The settlers were few and the habitations far between.

At the time of Mr. Newhard's arrival in Grande Ronde, the body of hot sulphurous water on the southern rim of the valley was in no particular different from what it was a century before, when it was described as a body of boiling water from which vapors arose and which "gave forth a noisome smell."

Mr. Newhard took up the land surrounding the lake, with the idea that the "noisome" water would some day be of value and benefit to the world. But there was no chance at that time to commercialize Hot Lake to any great extent, and it was many years that the proprietor found his chief source of sustenance from the cattle on the surrounding hills and by delving into the soil. But his judgment that the lake would some day be of great value to mankind was not misplaced.

His native sense and judgment was later revealed when he saw that he was not the proper man to make Hot Lake the institution it was by nature designed to be, so the property passed into other hands, and Mr. Newhard, by years of frugality and industry was enabled to retire in comparative ease.

The old pioneer will be remembered chiefly because of his interest and neighborly association with all who, like himself, had struck this country in its primitive days. He never failed, after removing to Portland, to make the annual trip to meet the Union County pioneers and his familiar "Howdy-do" and "How's all?" will long remain as a reminder of one who enjoyed the confidence and esteem of his fellow men.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by P. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, it cures internally and acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send the circulars and testimonials.

Cheers for the Living Tears for the Dead

THIS MEMORIAL DAY is of two-fold importance to the people of the United States. Not only do we remember the valiant deeds and the great sacrifices made by the boys of 1861-65, when civil war was rending this nation asunder, but we today are confronted with the marvelous bravery of our boys in France, who are fighting for the Republic—who are fighting to free the world. Such valor, such sacrifice as is going on this very hour was never before known in the entire history of humanity. Therefore, as we bow our heads and deeply meditate with fervent prayer for our Allied arms, let us, united as one individual, cherish the memory of those who have died for us and give cheers of encouragement to the living who are waging a war of defense—a war of Liberty—a war for humanity. In this hour it is true there is no east, no west, no north, no south. Neither is there rich or poor, nobleman or peasant in all the allied nations. There is, however, the great brotherhood of man bound firmly together once and for all by this terrible ordeal in which the world is engaged. May God in His wisdom protect our arms and may He return to us our boys who are engaged in the greatest battle that ever was fought.
