"JILTED JANET" IS MISS FISCHER'S HAPPIEST ROLE.

Clever Comedy Idea Yields Picture Star Opportunity For Effective Work In New Photoplay.

Miss Margarita Fischer has a good medium for display of her frolicsome comedy in a new American Mutual drama "Jilted Janet," where in the young star is cast as an embarrassed young beauty jilted by her fiancée because of financial reverses that have overtaken her.

Janet and her brother have taken up orange growing in California, but their farm is small and their house unpretentious. When Janet hears that Ernest Morgan is to marry another and a wealthier girl she sends him a picture of rich Jules Graham's house across the way—just to spite him.

Then Morgan and his bride decide to visit Janet on their honeymoon and in this crisis she "borrows" the house from Graham during his absence. When Graham returns he is amused at the situation and agrees to act as butler for Janet, who is unaware of his identity.

The plot is a good one and full of fast action. Included in the cast are such capable people as Jack Mower, Edward Peil and Golda Madden.

The two Bills, Rafferty and Nixon, will also be on the program. These two gentlemen are well-known Irish comedians and will no doubt add to their many friends after their engagement here.

"Jilted Janet" and the act of vaudeville will be presented at the Star Theater on Saturday. The act of vaudeville being held over again for the Sunday show. 5-31-18

SHERRY'S

William Fox will present "The Conqueror" with William Farnum in the leading role at the Sherry Theatre today. "The Conqueror" is an R. A. Walsh production, and is screened with all the care and attention to detail that is so characteristic of Walsh pictures.

William Farnum appears in the interesting character of Sam Houston, a historic figure in the early days of Texas, whose strong manly vigor and personality carries everything before him, including the love of the "Tennessee Rose," the flower of Southern aristocracy. Houston's rapid rise to power from a rough frontiersman to governor of a state is one of the most vivid picture stories ever told.

The battle between the Mexicans and a detachment of Texas rangers and friendly Indians is one of the most realistic battle scenes ever filmed and is even more exciting than other famous battle pictures. "The Conqueror," all in all, is a wonderful photodrama, that will take the picture world by storm.

General Sam Houston in 1836, in command of a few hundred raw troops met by about 1500 Mexican veterans, led by Santa Anna, on the banks of the San Jacinto. The battle was a rout for the Mexicans, and the next day Santa Anna was taken prisoner. Texas' independence was won by this victory.

"The Conqueror" will be seen at the Sherry Theatre last time today. Eight reels of absorbing interest.

What constitutes a successful Farm Tractor? Isn't the ability to operate successfully and economically under peculiar conditions under which it must work, after all, the real test. Every Samson owner will tell you he can operate the tractor at a much less expense than with horses. Now there is a problem confronting every farmer today, and that is getting a tractor when you want it, owing to shortage of Skilled Labor and Material, demand in Europe, etc. It will only be possible to get about one tenth enough tractors to meet the demand in the State of Oregon this fall, so put in your order now. Don't wait.
