

SEVEN WONDERS OF WORLD

- 1. How the German people can believe all the kaiser tells them.
2. Whether there are any heights of mendaciousness which the disciples of Kultur have not yet achieved.
3. What excuse the pan-German militarists are going to offer the few remaining people after it is all over.
4. What the kaiser expects to accomplish by the wholesale devastation of whatever country his troops may occupy.
5. To what extremes the German people have been put to continue their existence for three years without trade communication with the outside world.
6. Whether the latest premier may not also be the last.
7. How there can still be such things as pro-Germans.—Life.

WITH THE SAGES

- All the greatest men live in their purpose and effort more than it is possible for them to live in reality.—Ruskin.
Be courteous, be obliging, but don't give yourself over to be melted down for the benefit of the tallow trade.—George Eliot.
If mistakes were copyrighted, it would be impossible to make one without infringing on some other fellow's patent.—Selected.
Happiness comes from striving, doing, loving, achieving, conserving—always something positive and forceful.—David Starr Jordan.
So far as I can I will use only safety matches.
No lamps will be filled by artificial light or after dark.
I will see that every match is out before it leaves my hand.
Coal oil and gasoline will be kept in absolutely air-tight, metal receptacles.
If I smoke, I will smoke where neither match, pipe nor stub will endanger life or property.
