MOVES TO FOLEY BUILDING

Increased Business Forces Dixon to Larger Quarters

Attorney H. E. Dixon has removed his offices to rooms No. 20-22 in the Foley office building. This is due to his increased business which forced him into larger quarters. In speaking of the general conditions Mr. Dixon said, "while I cannot say that litigation is especially on the increase I am very much pleased with the increase in my business and I believe that my new offices will be of great benefit because of the added space I will have."

MILITARY TRAINING UNIT.

Department Will Be Installed At O.A.C. This Fall.

O. A. C. CORVALLIS, July 5.—A military training unit under officers and non-commissioned officers of the army will be created next fall at the Oregon Agricultural College, enrollment in which will constitute the student a member of the army of the United States. This will be done under a new provision of the War Department.

Enlistment will be voluntary, but all students over the age of 18 will be encouraged to join. They will be liable to active duty at the call of the President. It will, however, be the policy of the government not to call the members of the training units to active duty until they have reached the age of 21, unless urgent military necessity compels an earlier call. Students under 18, and therefore not legally eligible for enlistment, will be encouraged to enroll. Provision will be made for co-ordinating the work of this unit with the reserve officers' training corps system.

According to a telegram just received from H. J. McCain, adjutant-general, arrangements are being made for selected students and faculty members to be given 60 days intensive training with a view to serving as assistant instructors to help the officers who will be assigned to institutions where the units will be established. No commissions will be granted, but certificates of qualification as instructors will be issued.

The majority of selected students from institutions with Reserve Officers' Training Corps will be chosen by commanding officers of the R. O. T. C. camps. The presidents of the colleges will select one student for 50 students enrolled and one faculty member for each 250 students. This means that approximately 19 students and four faculty members will represent the Oregon Agricultural College at the 60 day training camp, which will open at the Presidio, San Francisco, July 18.

The highest type of physical development is demanded by the government of the men selected. The minimum age limit for students will be 18 and the maximum for the faculty men 45. Both students and faculty representatives will be under temporary enlistment for 60 days, when they will be discharged. Expenses, including housing, uniforms, food, and equipment, will be taken care of by the government. 3 1/2 cents a mile being allowed for travelling expenses. Pay will be $30 a month.

WANTED—500 SUBSCRIBERS.

Must be residents of La Grande or any part of Union county, to subscribe for "The County Gentleman" for one year.

For more than three years I have represented The Curtis Publishing Company, of Philadelphia, making my headquarters in the Willamette Valley.

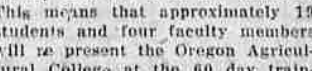

From this present time my headquarters will be in La Grande, and while I also take subscriptions for "The Saturday Evening Post" and "The Ladies' Home Journal," have always made a specialty of "The County Gentleman," which is not only the oldest farm and family magazine in the entire world, but none yet its price, $1.00 per year when paid in advance, makes it absolutely the cheapest. It covers every phase of farming, including poultry breedings, bees, gardening, floral culture, and household economics.

The first farmer in this county who will "phone me, at my expense, that this little weekly magazine covers any branch of farming he may be engaged in, in any but the most practical way, and does not give the boys and girls on his farm or in house, something to think about in each issue that will not make them better farmers, farmerettes, or housewives or better Americans, or that its articles, such as are now running, "The Desert of Wheat," by Zane Gray, that celebrated author, or John E. Pickett's expose of "The National Non-Partisan League," are not alone worth the price of the magazine for one year—$1.00, I will send him a year's subscription for nothing.

W. C. COWGILL, care of Observer Office, La Grande, Phone 37.

You can't make a mistake in buying your Candy at Silverthorn's, it is always fresh and well kept. The refrigerator window from which the bulk candy is sold is quite a success; no chance for dust or flies makes it a popular window.

FULL OF WISDOM

It's easier to go broke for liberty than to go blind.

It's wanting the last word that keeps most of the arguments going.

Selfishness is the hardest obstacle the cause of freedom has to meet.

The largest ambition any man can have is to be the good father of a good son.

A woman may love her husband even though he isn't rich, but she can't help wishing that he was.

In this war our observation is that the gold givers are still a long way behind the boy givers.

One of the false notions some men have is that they can be patriotic without it costing them anything. They can't.

There are two kinds of profiteers. One is making money at his country's expense, and the other is saving money at his country's expense.

A woman can get along on bran bread and corn muffins and all other sorts of Hoover substitutes, but when she gets a desire for a new bonnet only a new bonnet will do.

After a woman has been married for a few years she realizes that it is just as hard for her husband to be good-natured all the time as it is for her to be good-looking every minute.

One of the things we are not going to try to do this year is run a farm by long distance and twilight. We discovered last year that to be a successful farmer requires more than 40 minutes' work Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

WE HAVE OBSERVED

That the man who thinks he lacks time generally lacks energy.

That a fellow doesn't have to be a Marathon runner to be long-winded.

That no amount of culture will make a fat man stop snoring in his sleep.

That in the constant sifting of life men generally land about where they belong.

That there are lots of men with just enough knowledge to be nuisances.

That a homely face saves a woman from hearing a lot of rank nonsense.—Boston Transcript.

WHAT'S NEW IN SCIENCE

One from Bolivian tin mines is being smelted at a new plant in Chili.

A phonograph attachment makes a new clock speak the time every quarter hour.

One of the easiest ways to cool an overheated even is to stand a basin of cold water in it.

The Argentine government will install an electric voting machine in its chamber of deputies.

Clothing made of pressed feathers is a substitute for wool has been invented by an Italian priest.

A shade that folds like an umbrella, for convenience in carrying features a new portable electric lamp.

A new system of incubation hatches chicks by the heat of an electric light under a glass bell in which the eggs are placed.

The building of concrete sea-going vessels having proved successful in Sweden and Norway, Denmark is embarking in the industry.

Hardened copper phonograph needles are the invention of a New York man, who also has succeeded in making a watch spring from the metal.

As a new cotton picking machine is driven over a field four men follow it and pick the bolls with nozzles connected to pneumatic apparatus with which it is equipped.
