ARCADE

ARCADE TODAY ONLY

Several of the scenes of "The Big Show on Earth" are of a character seldom seen in motion pictures. A completely equipped circus with menagerie was leased for this act, and the wild animal scenes are of exceptional interest. They will be enjoyed by old folk as well as children who in these days of war and railroad congestion find few opportunities to see the "white tops" which have thrills distinctly their own.

TURPIN A GREAT COMEDIAN.

Ben Turpin, the Paramount-Mack Sennett comedian whose acrobatic as well as his remarkable versatility and resourcefulness, have made him one of the most popular comedians in motion pictures, is a hypnotist with a unique faculty of forcing bowling balls to do his will while in motion. What queer antics these balls are guilty of under Turpin's hypnotic gaze is well illustrated in "Saucy Madeline," which is to be shown at the Arcade theatre Wednesday. The comedy, in which Polly Moran plays a prominent role, is a scream from beginning to end.

SHERRY'S

"THE GIRL FROM BEYOND" WITH ALFRED WHITMAN

Vitagraph's Blue Ribbon Feature for today and tomorrow will be "The Girl from Beyond," adapted from the novel, "A Texan Romance," by Cyrus Townsend Brady, and presenting Nell Shipman with Alfred Whitman in the leading roles. "The Girl from Beyond" is a drama of unusual strength and gives a decidedly novel and entertaining twist to the eternal triangle. The scenes shift from the effete east to the rugged region of the oilfields where the major portion of the action takes place. The story tells of a man who, in avenging a wrong to his sister, runs afoul of the law and is unjustly sentenced to prison. After five years, he again resumes his place in the world, soured by his bitter experiences and a confirmed cynic. He sinks to the depths with only one definite purpose in life, to avenge the wrong done to his sister. The manner in which vengeance is within his grasp, only to be snatched away by the hand of fate and how he is reclaimed to manhood by "the girl from beyond," makes for a drama that gathers momentum as it unravels and culminates in a smashing climax.

INDIANA WOMAN FOUND RELIEF

Mrs. Thos. H. Davis, R. F. D. No. 3, Montgomery, Ind., writes she had trouble with her bladder and treated for several months without relief. Foley Kidney Pills were recommended to her and she commenced using them. She says she got relief from the first two bottles, and eight bottles cured her. Many similar letters have been written by grateful persons who found relief from kidney trouble, backache, rheumatism and stiff swollen joints. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

THREE-DAY CELEBRATION AT THE WALLOWA LAKE

DAILY FAMILY HOLDS REUNION —MANAGER EGGENSPERGER WILL DISPOSE OF PARK—LA GRANDE PEOPLE VISK—LA

JOSEPH, July 8.—(Special.)—Raymond Cook went to Wallowa the first of the week to visit friends.

Mrs. Josie Miller and Mrs. Sarah Legere left on Sunday's train for Pomeroy, Wash., where they will visit.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mitchell on Friday morning, July 5, 1918 a boy.

On the morning of the Fourth of July the family of F. F. McCully journeyed to Enterprise where they attended a family reunion of the Gally family, of which Mrs. McCully is a member. Those present were: Mrs. L. O. Hoffmann and niece, Edith Gally, of Price, Utah; W. E. Gally, of Anaconda, Mont.; Mrs. G. G. Van Patten and son, of Viola, Kansas; Mrs. M. M. Van Patten, of Buhl, Idaho; Mrs. F. F. McCully and children of Joseph, and G. M. Gally and family of Enterprise.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ronnie and son Claude, left Wednesday by auto for Eugene, where they will visit.

The celebration at Wallowa Lake Park was well attended on the 3rd and 5th. Cars from all over the county made one long auto parade, reaching from Wallowa to the Park.

Manager Eggenesperger of the Park, says that, on account of his wife's health, he must move. He has decided that unless someone buys the Park before then, he will sell out at a private sale on or after the 10th and will close up.

D. E. Shanks and R. J. Norris and families of La Grande spent the 4th at Wallowa Lake Park.

Work continues night and day on the Joseph elevator and a good showing has been made.

HOUSEWIFE CHANGED FROM GLOOM TO CHEER

"My stomach suffering was so severe that I could not have lasted much longer. I did not care so much for myself but did not want to leave my three little children who needed a mother's love and care. A cousin in California wrote me about Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and I took a course of it. I have since been entirely well." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere.—Adv. 7-9-18.

TREATMENT OF BELGIANS

Forced Labor Is Inflicted By Order Of Germans.

The minister for Belgium in Washington, D.C., has prepared the following from material received from the Belgian Government regarding the deportation and forced labor inflicted on Belgian civilians, by order of the German government.

"The last information, which has reached the Belgian Government at Le Havre, France, from occupied Belgium, shows that deportation and forced labor are still being carried on, especially in the military zone which comprises the two Flanders and a great part of the Provinces of Hainaut, Namur, and Luxembourg.

"But deportations and forced labor have at present assumed a new character. The Belgians, instead of being sent to Germany as formerly, are now being sent to work in the regions behind the German front in France and Bel-

Presenting Pajamas as Sleeping Garments

Logic, having lodged itself in the mind of modern woman, makes it easy to explain why she finds so many good reasons for taking to trousers. She still walks in skirts, but she rides, swims, hunts, keeps bees, gardens and farms in bloomers or overalls or breeches. But there is no logic that explains her taking to pajamas for sleeping garments or to replace other negligees, unless it is that she has discovered them to be most becoming.

Anyway, the fact stands that in every representative collection of lingerie pajamas, in two-piece and one-piece styles, have as prominent representation as night dresses and negligees. Also there are about as many garments made of wash satin, crepe de chine and other wash silks as there are of fine cotton. The heavier cotton weaves are a thing of the past in undergarments, excepting petticoats. Among these must be some that are heavy to wear under sheer dresses.

In the picture the pajamas shown are of crepe de chine. With ruffles of lace at the bottom of the trousers and as a finish on the sleeves, everyone will acknowledge that they are alluringly pretty and feminine looking. The short coat is belted and finished at the neck with a net collar.

Another fascinating suit is shown in the little sketch at the left. It has pantalettes breaking out into frills at the bottom and a delightful short smock finished with fancy stitching of this kind made of silk or batiste in white or flesh color employ needlework in contrasting colors for their decoration. In the sketch at the right a one-piece garment decorated in this way consists of pantalettes joined to a sleeveless kimono waist.

Sleeveless Coats.

Among the materials that France offers to America in the building of sleeveless coats is a corded silk and wool poplin. It used to be worn by us. It was made into frocks and wraps and turned out in those dolmans that were trimmed with paillettes and edged with fur.

gism. Besides, the Germans who formerly deported the Belgians under the pretext of giving work to the unemployed, now send them to the north of France and compel them to work, pretending that, in virtue of Article 2 of the order issued by the German General Headquarters on October 3, 1916, every inhabitant of the country may be compelled to give his help in case public calamity, even outside his residence.

"This modification in the policy of deportations took place in 1917. Then, as a consequence of the universal protests raised against this policy, the German Emperor issued instructions to the effect that 'deportations of unemployed Belgians to Germany may be stopped until further order.' But these instructions were carried out only partly and very slowly. Moreover, they did not apply to the thousands of civilians who have been sent behind the German front in France.

"The chiefs of several German armies intentionally misconstrued the instructions of the German Emperor. They pretended to understand that these instructions only forbade the sending of Belgian citizens to Germany, but not to other regions, and thus they continued sending them to the regions behind the German front in France and Belgium.

"At the same time, after the German authorities had pretended to listen to the protests of the neutrals, and had stated that they would stop the deportations, they ceased to take any more men under the pretext of unemployment. But they had recourse to Article 2 of the above decree of October 3, 1916.

which reads as follows: "Every inhabitant of the country is bound to give his help in case of accidents and general danger, and also to bring relief in case of public calamity with all his power, even outside his residence. If he refuses he may be compelled by force to do so."

"It has thus been sufficient for the German authorities to decide that the regions occupied by their armies were in a state of public calamity to take away from their homes, in many regions of Belgium, men, women, and even children 14 years old, and compel them to work.

"The authorities have thus continued, principally in the territories in the zone of the armies, to tear the Belgians away from their homes in order to transport them into the regions immediately behind the German front in France and Belgium. There they are herded like cattle in special camps, compelled to do the work of a military character or interest. Many are sent into the zone of operations and exposed to the fire of the Belgian or allied batteries. Besides they are subjected to bad treatment and brutality. Their complaints do not reach the outside world, for the military zone, where they are sent, is strictly closed and no delegate of a neutral power is ever allowed to enter this territory. Not only men of all walks of life, but even boys from 14 to 17 years of age, women and young girls, are compelled to do hard work of military interest.

Mr. Grain Farmer:

Are you prepared to handle your grain in bulk? Do not wait until Spring and Summer when you are buried with work and worried with labor shortage, but build your granaries now.

You can buy the lumber and roofing paper for a first-class 1000 bushel portable granary for $54.58 and it will last for years. Sacks for the same amount of grain will cost you $125.00 and this would be a dead loss against this year's crop.

A granary of this size can be moved anywhere and can be filled directly from the thresher, doing away with high priced labor handling and sewing sacks.

The boys in the trenches need the sacks for sand bags for the protection of their very lives and perhaps your boy is among them.

Spend your money in your own valley by buying lumber manufactured at home. When you buy sacks part of the money goes to India.

BUILD YOUR GRANARIES NOW

Be prepared by building them before the farming season opens up. Be sure to get good lumber, well seasoned, as low grade lumber will give you trouble in a few seasons. Don't use green lumber.

Save money—keep what you spend at home—prevent loss and damage from exposure to weather—leave the sacks for our boys in the trenches; help win the war by building granaries now.

Portable granaries of this type are universally used in other sections. One trip with a good team will haul the material for one granary. For particulars as well as prices on Union County lumber for all farm purposes, see
