

DOCTOR FITTED FOR LEADER

Much in Knowledge of Medicine to Equip Man for High Public Service.

There is much in the knowledge of medicine to fit a man for the high calling of lawyer and leader of the people, says Dr. Frederick Peterson, in the Century. He continues:

"To reach the goal of national health, the physician's accumulated knowledge and experience must be brought to bear upon the laws which relate to marriage, to housing and the food supply, to education, occupations, recreations, hygiene and sanitation, to contagious diseases, alcoholism, poverty and crime; in short, upon every law which relates directly or indirectly to the health and well-being of the people. His interest reaches into the depths of sociology, biology and philosophy, to the relations between persons and groups, between nations and races. The interests of medicine are fixed only by the boundaries of life itself. When the great state with its great free municipalities is at length established, when war and poverty and disease and unemployment, as we know them, have been banished to the vast rubbish heap of man's outgrown ignorance and folly, it may be that the physicians of that nobler time will be expected to frame wise laws not only to insure individual health but to prevent the disease to which the organism of the state, the body politic, has in all earlier social stages been subject."

WOMEN DRIVE MOTOR TRUCKS

Not So Dressed as Some Jobs, but It's Healthful, According to One of Them.

To release skilled mechanics from other work and thus give some help in the war, there are seven girls at one motor factory whose daily tasks consist in driving newly finished cars from the factory to the shipping dock.

And the girls won't trade jobs now for any of the purely feminine pursuits, says the Washington Times. They get greasy and dirty—they have had to throw away cosmetics and powder puffs because they are futile—but still they like the job and they all say they would not trade it for a place at the kitchen sink or on the firing end of a sewing machine.

"It's a much better job than being a department-store detective," Mrs. Lotta Dupuis, who formerly tripped shoplifters and sneak thieves in a downtown store, says. "Of course it isn't so dressy, but it's healthier and I like it better. Also I can make more money for the support of my three kiddies."

Mrs. Wanda Ludeman backs up Mrs. Dupuis. She formerly was a government operative in rounding up violators of the Harrison narcotic law.

"I took the job because I wanted to help the government, and every woman who does one man's work releases a man for the firing line," said Mrs. Ludeman.

The Modern Way. The conversation in the lobby of a Washington hotel turned to the subject of modern methods when a little story along that line was contributed by Congressman Claude Kitchin of North Carolina.

Some time ago a young man became enamored of a beautiful girl, and after a courtship of some months he mustered sufficient courage to tell her of his great love.

"Tonight," said he as they sat one evening in the alluring gloom of the veranda, "I am going to your father and ask for your hand in marriage."

"That is very fine, Harry," the pretty one replied, "but don't be so old-fashioned."

"Old-fashioned," returned the lover, thoughtfully. "I don't quite understand."

"Don't ask him," was the prompt explanation of the girl. "Tell him," Philadelphia Telegraph.

Welsh Intermarrying. A remarkable instance of Welsh family intermarrying is given in a quaint chronicle of local events kept by one Peter Roberts, notary public, of St. Asaph, who died in 1646. He writes: "Upon Saturday evening, the xxviii day of Novr., 1624, Thomas Mostyn, Esq., and Gwen Parrie, widow, the late wife of the late revd. father in God, Richard Parrie, late Lord Bishop of St. Asaph, deceased, were married; and also William Mostyn, gent, son and heir apparent of the said Thomas Mostyn, and one Anne Parrie, one of the younger daughters of the said late Lord Bishop, were likewise married the day and year aforesaid; and Richard Parrie, son and heir of the said late Lord Bishop, and Marie Mostyn, third daughter of the said Thomas Mostyn, were then married."

Lusty Old Age. What time of life can be compared to the time of lusty old age? Does white hair render falling powers? Nay, no more than the snow that crowns the giant old pine betokens any weakness or decay of the tree. The head and the hairs of our coming Redeemer shall be "white like wool, as white as snow." Herein is the mystery of the strength of old age.

As is a lusty tree, so is a lusty old man. He knoweth the secrets of heaven and earth, and he beareth fruit to the last. He dieth not easily, but like a great oak, whose roots go deep into the earth; he is laid low only by a mighty earthquake of nature.

Sight Not to Be Forgotten. When one is fortunate enough to see a line of swans etched upon the sky near sunset, a mile or more high, as has been my luck but twice in my life, one has seen something he will not soon forget.—John Burroughs, in the Atlantic.

IT HAS TO CHANGE.

The old habit of letting subscriptions to a daily paper run must change, and henceforth the paper bill each month—which is very small—must be paid the same as water rent is paid, or telephone service or light service is paid.

There will be no deviation from this rule and our collector will call on every home during the month. Lay aside 69 cents at the house as there will be no request for a "come back" call.

When you figure up your water and light bill set down 69 cents for the daily paper and we will all be happy. Some have been in the habit of paying at the end of the year. These subscribers are 18-barat so far as being good financially is concerned, but we must ask that payment either be made in advance or each month as we cannot carry the account for a year.

Be Fair WITH THE Printer

BUY YOUR SUPPLIES FROM A PRINTING OFFICE THAT PAYS ITS PRINTERS ABOVE THE UNION WAGE SCALE, AND IN A UNION SHOP.

—It is the oft repeated story. When People of Union County want Printing that is hard to execute, when they want a job of work done that requires skill, workmanship, careful planning and earnest application, they finally come to the Observer's Job Printing Department.

—This office does the work, but in all candor, that is the class of work upon which there is little profit, and frequently some loss, because of the intricate nature and time-absorbing features of such jobs.

—For instance, when a Telephone Directory is to print or a High School Annual, such as the Minir, which is just issued, are to be printed, the Observer Job Printing Department is the only office in the county equipped with machinery, type and printers to get out the work. Union county must have and maintain such a printing office, that can do the technical, high class work when it is wanted.

But--

Are You Prepared ?

Into practically every life comes a time of trouble.

The man who goes down under misfortune is he who has spent as much, or more, than he earned, without thought of the morrow.

The man who comes safely through, is he who has built up a fund to meet unexpected demands.

We respectfully call your attention to the smaller work, which we are abundantly equipped to do and which should, to a certain extent at least, go to the office that maintains a plant, capable of doing the hard class of work. In the smaller work there is a profit and we respectfully call upon business firms possessing home pride who know upon reflection, that in order to keep a big plant running it must have all classes of printing. Do not send us your technical, hard printing, that can not be done by anyone else in the county, and then send your smaller work elsewhere. It IS NOT FAIR. When it comes to prices on smaller work, it stands to reason that this shop can more than compete with any other concern, for we keep a regular force of journeymen printers and pressman and pay these men above the Union scale of wages.

—If you are a believer in well paid labor and want to uphold such principles, send your job printing to this office, where it will be handled at the least possible cost to you, and at the same time you are assured of a good grade of work.
