SALVATION ARMY DOES FINE WORK

FIRST TO EQUIP BUILDING FOR BOYS AT CAMP LEWIS.

Economical Use Of Funds Is A Fine Feature Of Salvation Army Work.

Oregon's closest touch with the actual war service, which the Salvation Army is doing both here and overseas—a touch that has already been felt by hundreds of Oregon boys—is the splendid new Salvation Army building recently erected in Greene Park, Camp Lewis, Washington.

John M. Linden of Chicago, who has arrived in Portland to manage the Oregon state drive for the Salvation Army war service fund, which opens September 15, was present at the opening of the building and in discussing its plans, purposes and scope said:

"When Camp Lewis became the great cantonment that it is—the largest in the United States—the government found that the usual fakers were swooping down upon the men with their well known wares, "hot dogs," pink lemonade, etc. Such as these, were the original war profiteers. To overcome this, the government set aside a large tract of land for recreation and legitimate shops, moving pictures, barber shops, haberdashers, candy and refreshment shops, and in this tract, known as Greene park, named for General Greene, of the Sixty-ninth division, the Salvation Army secured a concession and erected and equipped at a cost of $25,000, a two-story building, 50 x 122, the ground floor consisting of a percola 12 x 50, reading and recreation room 40 x 50; auditorium, 40 x 70, with a seating capacity of 350; lunch room, check room, public telephone, writing and reading facilities, etc. The second floor includes 17 rooms for visitors, each room fitted with hot and cold water, electric lights and all modern conveniences.

"One of the prime objects of the building is to accommodate the visiting mothers and wives of soldiers and the 17 sleeping rooms are exclusively for women. It is the only place of its kind where women may stay over night for a nominal sum, and if there were 150 rooms they would be full every night. The first floor is given over to the comfort and recreation of the soldiers, with reading, writing and lounging rooms, with games, music and refreshments.

"While I was there a woman arrived in Camp to visit her two sons. That she was a real daughter of the soil was apparent. Her home was in the mountains of California, she had ridden 30 miles on horseback and then staged 40 miles more to the train which carried her to Tacoma, and from there she came by auto to the Camp, radiant in the joy of expectancy, but the two sons had started only the day before for their long journey "over there." A Salvation Army lassie found her in a little crumpled heap in one corner of the building sobbing her heart out. An added grief was her penniless condition, she had expected the boys to have a little money to help her on her way home. She was given food and a room and the next day a purse was made up and she was started on her homeward journey.

"It is for the purpose of doing such work as this as well as ministering to the spiritual and physical needs of the boys in the trenches, that Oregon is to be given the opportunity of contributing $25,000 to the $5,000,000 fund, which is being raised throughout the United States."

THRASHERMEN'S REPORTS

Very little thrashing was done in Union county in the month of July.

out the month of August has seen many machines in operation. It is important that thrashing men and combine owners remember to send in their monthly reports the first of September, whether they have been thrashing for themselves also or for others. All the reports of the county must be compiled before they are forwarded to Washington, D.C., and the government insists that they be turned in on time. It is important that you make your report out to the best of your ability and make notes as to anything that you may not understand.

BOYS ARE APPRECIATIVE.

Thankful To Red Cross Chapter And Citizens For Courtesies.

The Observer is in receipt of the following note, under date of August 25, which is self-explanatory: Editor, Evening Observer: Through your columns we wish to thank the La Grande Chapter of the Red Cross and your citizens generally for your kindly reception of our contingent en route to camp. The little courtesies which you so lavishly bestowed will leave lasting impressions, and it is well to know that persons unknown to us were so deeply concerned about our welfare and comfort.

Thanking you very much, we remain appreciatively yours, UTAH DRAFT CONTINGENT. En route to Camp Lewis.

HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Mrs. Frank P. Wood, Box 18, R. F. D. 2, Merrill, Me., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills help me so much. My husband also has received much benefit from them. He was so lame he could not stoop over and now he feels no pain." Lame back, sore muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic aches and pains are quickly conquered by Foley-Kidney Pills. Don't neglect your kidneys nor mistake symptoms of overworked or disordered kidneys for the slowing up of age. Sold everywhere.
