Men Feel Tired, Too.

While much is said about tired women it must be remembered that men also pay the penalty of overwork. When the kidneys are weak, inactive or sluggish, when one feels tired out and miserable, lacks energy and ambition. Foley Kidney Pills are tonic and strengthening. Wm. H. Clark, Springfield, Ohio, writes: "I found no relief from kidney trouble until I discovered Foley Kidney Pills. Now I am in a shape." They act quickly and surely. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

Show Thyself a Man

By REV. W. W. KETCHUM
Director of Practical Work Course,
Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT.—I go the way of all the earth: be thou strong therefore, and show thyself a man.—1 Kings 2:2.

An old man lay dying. Behind him was a checkered and romantic career.

In his youth he was a shepherd. He became king of Judah, and upon Saul's death was elected king of Israel as well. His sons Absalom and Adonijah, separately and at different times, tried to wrest his throne from him. At last, however, he had the satisfaction of seeing the son whom he had chosen to succeed him crowned king. As he lay dying he called the young king into his presence, and this is what Solomon heard David, his father, say: "I am going the way of all the earth. Show thyself a man."

Not by Clothes.
Solomon must have pondered the meaning of these words, and as we look back over his life it might be wondered if he did not interpret, "Show thyself a man," to mean that he should wear costly and ornamental array. His magnificent robes made such an impression that our Lord, holding forth a lily, said: "Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these."

Strange, is it not, that even in these days, when the realities of life are being borne in upon us as never before, there are folks who act as if they thought clothes instead of character make the man.

You can test this in most any social gathering. Two men enter; one, with heart as black as hell, but dressed like a fashion plate and with the airs of a gentleman; the other, with sterling character, but green and awkward, wears ordinary plain clothes. The first is a center of attraction while the second is unnoticed unless some one, out of pity, keeps him company. I do not say this would be so if the real value of each man was known, but in the absence of such knowledge, is it not true that often we act as if clothes and not character, make the man?

Not by Wealth.
It may be Solomon thought his father meant that he should acquire wealth, for he amassed a great fortune and became the richest man of all time. He erected a palatial residence that took thirteen years to build, and had such sumptuous surroundings and so much wealth, that the queen of Sheba, hearing of his glory, came to visit him and when she saw it all, exclaimed: "The half was never told."

How many there are today to whom wealth is an indication of manhood. Let it be said that one is rich, and immediately these people do him honor, as if what he possesses, instead of what he is, makes him a man. It is a bad custom we have of asking how much a man is worth, rather than what is his character. A man may have a good character with dollars, and just as easily, he may have a bad character without them. It is not money, or the want of it, that determines a man's character. It is what he actually is.

Wealth may induce to badness, and so may poverty; neither, however, need be blamed for ruined character, because God will give strength and grace to bear either, if we ask him.

Not by Culture.
Possibly Solomon thought that culture makes a man, for we read that he became the wisest of all men. Yet after acquiring understanding in many things, it was he who said at last: "Trust in the Lord and lean not to thine own understanding."

We should remember that God puts no premium upon ignorance. He expects us to develop and increase in knowledge.

The splendid schools and colleges of our day offer youth great opportunities for development; but should all the culture and learning of the world be acquired, and one know not God and Jesus Christ whom he has sent, he is still ignorant of the greatest and most vital truth—truth that is essential to his character, and without which he lacks the power to build that Christian character which alone can stand the testings of God, and having stood them, endure throughout eternity.

The apostle tells us that "other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ." And he says: "If any man build upon this foundation"—not learning, not culture, but Christ—"he shall receive a reward." provided of course his building be of such material as will stand the test of fire. And so he adds: "Take heed how ye build thereupon."

Yes, let us take heed how we build thereupon; what kind of Christian character we erect; but first of all, we need to be definitely sure that we are building upon the only foundation, which is Jesus Christ our Lord. Then as we build our Christian character upon him, may each one of us show himself a man.

Christ's Desire.
In our business Christ wants not so much ours but us.

HESS MILL AT NORTH POWDER DESTROYED

LOAN CAMPAIGN PROGRESSING
—BOY RECEIVES INJURIES IN PLAYING WITH A KNIFE.

NORTH POWDER, Sept. 10.—(Special.)—C. J. Forsstrom and Jim Wilson made a trip to Portland a short time ago and returned in Mr. Wilson's new car, a Case Sportster. This is one of the finest cars made. They report the roads as very bad part of the way, making them go out of their way. However, they made good time in spite of that.

Carl Johnson of Union has been visiting with friends and relatives here.

Mr. Mercer received the news that his son, Cleve, had arrived safely in France.

Dean Olson and Fred Brent are the last two young men drafted into the army. Bert Richardson went last Monday and so did Chas. Harris. Bert McCurry failed to pass his examination and Clifford Gilkinson was granted an extension of time.

Miss Vesta Gibbs had a narrow escape from what might have been a serious accident last week. While taking hay, the team became frightened and broke away from her control. She was jolted on the tongue of the rake and from there on to the teeth. She escaped with a few bruises and scratches. She is busy again raking hay.

Mrs. Rette Allen has gone to Whitney, where she will teach for the coming year. Mrs. Allen is one of the tried teachers of this section having taught here for some years.

Parley Newman is planning to attend the O. A. C. this year. Parley graduated from the North Powder high school last spring.

Mrs. Carmen Van Bunkirk, who has been very ill for several months, is reported to be improving.

Mrs. Rose Fugit had a sale of her household furniture last week preparatory to going to Seattle, where her husband is working in the shipyards.

Mr. Hall, formerly superintendent of schools here, visited this place to arrange for moving his household goods to Astoria, where he will teach for the coming year.

George Ito has moved his family to Portland for the winter.

The Hess sawmill was destroyed by fire last Wednesday night. This mill was located eight miles west of town. The origin of the fire is unknown. The lumber in the yards was saved. This was a new sawmill, having been run about a year. The loss falls heavily on all as it was a large employer of labor.

C. B. Mays, Wm. Coughanour, W. McGrath, Will Lund, Herman White, Chas. Johnson and Crate Mann, the Liberty Loan committee for North Powder, went to La Grande on Wednesday to meet with the other members of the board and get their instructions.

They are going to do their part to put North Powder over the top on a hurry move.

The little five-year-old son of Doctor Lee met with a serious accident one day last week. He had a sharp-pointed butcher knife playing with it, when in some way the knife slipped, striking his eye and piercing it. He was taken to Baker to a specialist to have the eye treated. It is thought that the sight is not injured.

Anderson Bros. of Cove, have finished a job of plumbing for the flouring mill and will go to Medical Springs, where they have a job that will take some time.

Ben Bertram came down from North Yakima. He came through on his motorcycle.

Mrs. Ross, former editor of the North Powder News, left for her home in Portland last Wednesday morning. Mrs. Ross gave this place a good paper and her friends wish her every success wherever she goes.

School begins on September 9th. Prof. Smith and a corps of eight teachers have been selected.

The M. E. minister, Rev. Mr. Pratt, who had charge of North Powder along with other points, has been transferred to Wallawa. Rev. Mr. Hansen takes his place.

George Lee is reported to be very sick with rheumatism and will go away for treatment.

Mrs. Robert Shaw is visiting with parents in La Grande. She will be gone for some time.

Mrs. Forecey is giving lessons in French to Miss Alfa Gradener, and expects to have more pupils in the near future.

Tell of Rain's Approach.

Distinctness of distant sounds, such as the whistle of locomotives several miles away, etc., is a sign that portends almost to a certainty the approach of rain. Haymakers heed it particularly.

was reported through box 13, and was caused by a defective flue. The property was located at 1010 Fourth Street and belonged to Mrs. Laughlin and was occupied by Mr. Prince. The fire was discovered between the walls near the chimney and was put out before much damage was done. Eleven volunteer firemen responded, at a total cost of eleven dollars.

The chief of police reports four arrests for the week. Two for the state and one charged with having liquor in his possession and one for disorderly conduct. Number of street lights out for the week, two.

The street and water department is charged with a total expenditure for the week of $123. Thirty-three of this is charged to the water and sewer department and ninety to the street department. Aside from the regular clean-up work and a street flushing, gravel has been hauled on Jefferson and the weeds cut from the fire hydrants and two leaks on the pipe line have been repaired. It was necessary to cut the pavement on Second street in order to locate a leak on the 18-inch line. Also hauled rock and gravel on B street. Also flushed all the fire hydrants and low places in the lines. We have two men cutting logs for the repairs to the spillway and expect to begin excavating there early next week. Visited Beaver Creek yesterday, and found it necessary to treat the water in the reservoir again with blue vitrol. The creek bed between the reservoir and the intake shows considerable algae and the water in the reservoir also shows a slight growth. I am not certain that the condition can be remedied, but think it can. Coal creek is running at about half of its usual flow. We are conserving all the water and putting it in the main pipe lines. Have put the temporary flume in place in order to get the additional flow from Beaver Creek at a point below the present intake.

Mr. Westley Harrison has secured the signature of the heirs to the Tael estate and has named his arbitrator and the arbitration contract is now ready for the signature of the president of the Commission. The new are light is being installed today at the intersection of Fourth and L streets. This is the light requested by the school district in order that the school yard might be better illuminated.

Man Loses Hope.

"For 10 years I suffered severely from stomach trouble. The doctors said I had cancer of the stomach and nothing would do but an operation. I took my last round of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy 2½ years ago. Since then I sleep well, eat what I want and feel fine." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by Druggists everywhere. —Adv.
