That no band of cowboys could have accomplished what the gallant horse defenders did in the way of riding and shooting is amply attested by the stirring scenes obtained. The U. S. sharpshooters never went after a band of snipers or a force of notorious Villains with more determination than they showed in their mad dash "over the border" to rescue the pretty heroine and the man who had gone single-handed to her defense.

Our Boys in France and Home Protection

The men on the firing line represent the best of our American youth. One in four of our boys is home sick, rejected because of physical deficiency. Heavy times the kidneys were to blame.

If we wish to prevent our boys coming out too soon, or if we want to increase our chances for a long life, Dr. Pierce of the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., says that you should drink plenty of water daily between meals. Then procure at your nearest drug store, Amuric (double strength). This "An-u-ric" drives the uric acid out and cures backache and rheumatism.

If we wish to keep our kidneys in the best condition a diet of milk and vegetables, with only little meat once a day, is the most suitable. Drink plenty of pure water, take Amuric three times a day for a month.

Send Dr. Pierce ten cents for trial package. "Amuric"—many times more potent than lithin, eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.

Mr. Reger Jones says: "Just a few lines in regard to Dr. Pierce's Amuric Tablets which I took for kidney trouble. I am glad to recommend them to everybody. I know that they are good or I would not recommend them. After taking a few bottles I saw that the swelling was going down so I continued their use. I have quit taking them now and am tired—getting along fine and dandy."

"One old lady, 35 years old to whom I had recommended Amuric says that it did her good, took the swelling out of her feet."

The Life of John Buckley.

It was ancient history to some that the "Life Story of John Buckley," edited by the well-known J. C. Buckmaster of the South Kensington museum, London, was really the story of its editor's life. It was one of the books of his room in 1907, one of the best bits of biography we have in fact, and I am not surprised to find that the question of its authorship has hobbled up once again in the old country.

APPEAL TO WORKERS

Australian Declares That Labor's Cause is That Of Allies.

The following appeal to American labor is addressed by W. M. Hughes, the famous Australian political leader, who believes that upon the work of American machinists, farmers and shipbuilders depends victory for the allies.

Workers of America, we are in the greatest of all wars. It is a people's war, a fight for democracy and liberty, which we must fight out to a finish. There is no other honorable way. The future of labor depends on victory, and victory depends as much on the workers as on the soldiers actually fighting in the field. More than that, it depends on the workers of America, the men building ships, making munitions, providing for the soldiers over there.

You are a great army of skilled workers whom Germany fears most of all. You are pacemakers in this great race against time. Upon you the eyes of the world are turned, for you rest a tremendous responsibility. Not only the millions of American soldiers, but the soldiers of all the allies look to you to see them through to that victory for which they are fighting so heroically.

Workers of America, to you has come a great opportunity. You have the power to render a lasting service to the cause of liberty and democracy. The cause of militarism is a deadly menace to American democracy, and to labor. If Germany triumphs labor and democracy must fall. Be up and go!

THE TRUTH ABOUT CANDY

Shall the Candy Factories Survive?

The candy industry normally is using 8 per cent or less of all the sugar used in the United States—at present about 4 per cent.

That is small—very small, considering the importance of the industry. Candy making is the thirty-eighth largest industry in the United States.

Over $110,000,000 are invested. Over a hundred thousand people—mostly women—make their living from it.

That candy is a food has been firmly established by scientists and chemists and physicians and proven out by men in the trenches and in the camps—in all forms of heavy work where bodily fuel is needed.

The candy manufacturers have willingly given up half of their sugar, and will go to any lengths to help win the war.

On the other hand, the voice of reason tells us that it is not a part of the government's program to suspend any industry, unless it is absolutely necessary—especially when it is recognized that that industry is making an established food product.

If people do not take their allotment of sugar in candy form, they take it in other forms—in coffee or tea, on fruit, etc.

It is largely a matter of taste, but we all know that the human system needs some sugar.

So conserve on sugar, but recognize candy as one way to enjoy that portion of sugar which the Food Administration allows us in America.

Please recognize that out of 84 pounds of sugar used annually per capita in this country, less than 7 pounds goes into candy making, normally. Today the candy industry allotment has been cut to half of that, 3 pounds, or 4 per cent of the total amount of sugar used in the United States.

Yet candy is plainly and fully established as a food product. We claim the industry and the product has a right to live.

If everyone in his home will save a little sugar there, the candy industry can survive, because there will be enough sugar for the Food Administration to spare the candy makers.

Save some sugar in the home and use some of your sugar allowance in the form of wholesome, nourishing candy.

—In normal times the candy industry uses only 8 per cent of the sugar used per capita in this country. Right now this amount has been cut squarely in two.
