WILL DELAY REBUILDING

J. L. Caviness was down from North Powder yesterday on business. He stated that he will not rebuild his saw mill this fall. It was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago, and he suffered considerable loss. The labor condition and the nearness of winter prompts Mr. Caviness to wait to a while before he re-installs a lumber manufacturing plant.

Coughed So He Couldn't Sleep. Bronchial coughs, tickling in throat and asthmatic spasms break one's rest and weaken one so that the system is run-down and serious sickness may result. Enos Halbert, Paoli, Ind., writes: "I had a severe cold this fall and coughed continually at night; could hardly sleep. The first bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar relieved me, entirely curing my cough." It covers irritated membranes with a healing and soothing coating, loosens phlegm and clears air passages. Sold everywhere.

BUILDING TO BE LIMITED

NON-ESSENTIAL IMPROVEMENTS MUST BE DEFERRED.

Construction To Extent Of Thousands Dollars Permissible On Farms.

According to instructions received by the county chairman, T. J. Scroggin, from the State Council of Defense, there are to be no building improvements for the period of the war. This ruling is intended to cover such projected building construction as may be classed as non-essential or that are not absolutely necessary. It is possible to build a home if it is shown that an undertaking is a necessity. The rule at first was intended to apply to all classes of buildings, but later it was deemed expedient to make an exception on farm improvements, but even the expenditures on this class of structure must not exceed $1,000. It must be shown also that the farm buildings are a necessity. The rule applies to all classes of building material, whether of wood, brick or concrete. It is entirely a matter of conservation of material and man power, to be effective until after the close of the war.

The circular from the state council of defense also intimates that there are to be limitations on road work and similar kinds of improvements of a public nature.

Those who have building plans on hand which they cannot well postpone are expected to make the applications to the county chairman, together with a complete statement and affidavit as to the essential features of the case and other details pertaining to the same.

What Have YOU Done in this Drive?

YOU—not the other fellow, but YOU—what have you done in the Liberty Loan drive?

Have you dug, and dug, and dug—or are you like a few well-fixed people of La Grande and the Grande Ronde valley, who have bought bonds to the amount of the laundry girls—and should have bought twenty times as much?

If you are of that kind, we are after you. You know how you stand on the Bond issue—we know how you stand. The boys in France and the general public are soon to know how you stand.

Now, don't try to stultify your conscience—Don't try to be hypocritically patriotic—Just Come Clean, and buy your limit.

Every laundry girl in La Grande has bought bonds until it hurt—for their hearts are right.

Every farmer and every business man has not done his part. Most of them have, but there are a few who have not.

Please do not force our hand, for we hold a "full house," and are not afraid to call you.
