Goat Furnishes Milk and Churn.
About 70 miles northwest of Mount Sinai—where, as you remember, Moses received the Commandments—is a butter factory, the machinery of which has not been improved since his day. It consists of a bag of goat skin suspended from a tripod of poles. The Bedouin women partly fill the bag with goats' milk and then have plenty of time to discuss the neighbors as they patiently rock the bag until the butter is separated from the whey.—Popular Science Monthly.

To Retain Friends.
To retain friends of the right sort means that one must prove a friend of similar caliber. But on the other hand, if a girl or woman is influenced only by display (which at best is an empty, shallow affair) she cannot hope to hold the sincere regard of persons who in truth are worth while. The really level headed girl will cling fast to the honest friends of other less palmy days—perhaps to the friends who make no display but who are sterling through and through.—Exchange.

YO-HO FOR UNCLE SAM'S YEOWOMEN!

Here are three of Uncle Sam's women yeowomen, or yeowomen, as the Charleston navy yard. In the American navy a yeoman is an appointed petty officer who has charge of the stores in his department. These girls make excellent navy clerks, and release men for sterner work. The miss in the middle is a radio operator.

MR. BIRKINGTON WAS LATE

Mrs. B. Had Been at the Jewellers on a Similar Mission Some Few Months Before.

Mr. Birkington drove up in a "taxi" and entered a jeweller's shop accompanied by his valet, who carried an oblong box of steel. Mr. Birkington asked for a private interview, and, on being shown into the office, he opened the box, exposing a splendid array of diamond and pearl necklaces, earrings, turans and rings. "Mrs. B.," he said, "is now abroad. Before she returns I want you to extract these stones and replace them with good imitations, selling the real jewels and giving me the money. This of course is to be a confidential transaction." "I should be glad to do as you ask," said the jeweller, "but two years ago Mrs. B. called here on a similar errand to that which now brings you and the errand in her case was successful. The paste jewels that you offer me are worth little more than the hire of the 'taxi' awaiting you outside!"

WOULD AMEND LORD'S PRAYER

Seemingly Nothing Was Sacred From Revising Mind of This United States Senator.

A well-known senator annoys his colleagues sometimes because in his desire to make legislation thoroughly good he insists on many amendments. During discussion in committee recently, this senator, whose name is not Brown, insisted on amending and amending, practically without end. Finally, somewhat exasperated, a colleague said to him, "Brown, I believe if the Lord's prayer were being discussed here, you would want to amend it."

Brown replied: "Yes, I would. I would change the clause 'Lead us not into temptation' to read 'Give us strength to resist temptation.'"

Dames Once Scorned Coal Fires.
Coal and its products were not always so popular as they are today. Alexander Findlay, a Welsh chemist, reminds us in his book, "The Treasures of Coal Tar."

"The introduction of coal, especially as a domestic fuel, was for a long time regarded with disfavor," he writes. "Even in the seventeenth century it met with an active boycott on the part of 'the nice dames of London,' who 'would not come into any house or rooms where sea-coals were burned, nor willingly eat of meat that was either sod or roasted with sea-coal fire'—doubtless by reason of the pollution of the atmosphere by smoke and of the stench produced by the burning coal." Coal was more popular in England in 1850, when mauve dye appeared as one of the coal tar products and became so much the rage that Punch referred to the fashion epidemic as the Mauve Menstrues.

Mule Meat.

"If the Germans capture any American mules," says the Birmingham Age-Herald, "they may be tempted to try mule steak." Perhaps so, but we trust none of our friends over there will ever be called upon to resort to any such expedient. We are proud of our mules, the great work they have done and are doing over here and over there for victory. So appreciative are we of the mule's services that we are ready to stand fast off when he attempts to bray the "Star-Spangled Banner," but we can never, no never recommend his steak even to the despised Boche as anything approaching a gastronomic dainty.—Nashville Banner.

Inventions.

A craze for invention is sweeping the country. Many a man who has never been able to invent an excuse to hand the wife for getting home late is now accomplishing wonderful things. Already 2,000,000 appliances for the destruction of U-boats have reached the patent office. One man has evolved a brick boat, built entirely of brick from the keel to the crow's nest. The chief value of this construction is that the brick boat will fool the wisest U-boats. It sinks as soon as it is launched and the U-boats are never able to find it.—New York Mail.

Protect the Bumblebee.

Expert agriculturists in Australia and the Philippine Islands realized the importance of the bumblebee to the clover crop, and imported immense numbers of them to help along the crops of their countries. The bumblebee is a tireless worker and keeps steadily to the business of protecting our interests. If he went on strike or were driven away, as might have happened not so long ago, when everybody considered all insects a pest, the parasites would soon get the upper hand and destroy our clover crops.

Wifely Sarcasm.

"Where shall we go tonight?" asked Mrs. Twobible. "I would rather stay at home and rest," answered Mr. Twobible, with a groan. "I'm tired out, my dear. You have no idea of the wear and tear I'm subjected to in business." "Oh, yes, I have. I've never visited your office yet that I didn't catch you either listening to somebody else telling a yarn or telling one yourself. The strain on you must be terrific."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Their Caliber.

"I wonder what the caliber thinks of the lightning-trained Yankees now?" "I guess he thinks they're some shock troops."

Had Elephants Break Step.

It is a tradition among newspaper men—and one that may be founded on fact—that in the old days when Barnum's elephants were marched across the Brooklyn bridge, in the quiet hours before daybreak, the keepers were instructed to prevent the huge animals from keeping step lest the superposition of strong vibrations might injure the structure.

Self Denial.

You must practice self-denial if you would get well and keep well. There is no other way—no short cut or royal road to health. Do not permit yourself to be deluded on this subject.

Mothers of Oregon Prepare for Trouble!

When a girl becomes a woman, when a woman becomes a mother, and when a woman passes through the changes of middle life, are the three periods of life when health and strength are most needed to withstand the pain and distress often caused by severe organic disturbances. Many thousands along the Pacific Coast would testify just as do the following:

MEXSON, OREGON.—"I am certainly glad to recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I think it is a God-send to womanhood. During expectancy I was, oh, so sick with that terrible morning sickness. I was so bad that I just could not eat one thing. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I was relieved at once—no more nausea, no heart-aches, no backaches, and I got through so well."—Mrs. W. T. Pockrus, Care McCready Camp.

SORELLA, OREGON.—"I have suffered everything during expectancy but the time I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I never raised a meal and had comparatively no suffering. I would surely recommend this 'Prescription' to all prospective mothers and, also, for young girls coming into womanhood. A friend is taking this medicine now. I advised her to get it and improving fast. One would not know she was the same woman."—Miss H. E. Olson.

British Urged to Keep Goats.
"Goat getting" is coming right along as a national sport in England, says a London dispatch. Everyone who knows anything about Nannie is writing to the papers urging everyone to get one goat at least and more if possible and keep them. The right kind of goat yields about two quarts of milk daily and the gentlemen of the species—the boys with the Farmer Brown whiskers—are said to produce first-class mutton.

It doesn't matter how much a man and his wife disagree as long as he doesn't let her know it.—Boston Transcript.
