

Who Is On the Lord's Side?

By REV. J. H. RALSTON, D. D. Secretary of Correspondence Department, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—Whose is on Jehovah's side let him come unto me.—R. V.

It is related that at a certain point in Lincoln's presidential experience, when the affairs of the Union were in a precarious condition, a friend remarked to him that it was a good thing to have the Lord on our side. Mr. Lincoln very seriously replied that he was more concerned about whether he were on the Lord's side. There are indications that the German Kaiser is more concerned on having the Lord on his side than about being on the Lord's side.

The natural tendency of man is to seek his own or the things of humanity, rather than the things of the Lord, and man is simply asking what some particular course will bring to him, or what it will bring to his time. The chief end of man in these days is not to glorify God. In this, grievous wrong is done. When a course of action is before one, the chief question should not be, "How will it affect me?" nor, indeed, "How will it affect my neighbor?" but "How will it affect God?"

The great need of the day is a new sensing of God—God at the beginning, God in the middle, God at the ending. The right thing for man is to ask where God is, and to go where he is. If man would do that many of his great theological questions would be settled. God manifests himself through his Word, and if men would go to the Word of God with these questions they would soon be substantially correct on all of them.

The text suggests the question, "Who is on the Lord's side?" or rather, "What man or woman has a right to say that he is on the Lord's side?" In the particular case before us, the people had made a golden calf and were worshipping it. To do that was to break the first two commandments of the Decalogue, and it became open idolatry. It is inevitable that a man who will worship some thing, or some one else, nor can a man be on the Lord's side if he does those things that the Lord hates.

If a man would know his duty to the Lord he should seek to know what the Lord thinks of certain things, and here again he must take the Lord's judgment through his Word, for he cannot know what the Lord thinks unless he knows his Word. As to particular actions, a man may be left to his own judgment, but as to the great principles that lie at the root of things, the Lord makes clear declaration in his Word. Does the Lord love a liar, brutality, deception? The remnant of God's image in man says at once, "No! No!" Does the Lord favor truth, liberty, kindness? That same remnant of God's image says, "Yes! Yes!" And consequently, the duty is clear, and he should stand for these things. We might sum up everything by saying, "Ye cannot serve God and mammon."

The scene connected with our text was probably this: There was a golden calf and people were dancing about it. Moses stood aloof and made the cry, "Whose is on the Lord's side, let him come to me." According to the constitution and nature of man we make appeals to him as to his conscience, to his sense of duty or privilege, and he must make choice.

What is it to be on the Lord's side? It is a natural inheritance from our stanning first parents that we will either be indifferent to God's commands or we will positively refuse to obey them. Fundamentally, the issue is the same. In the case before us, the worshiper of the golden calf either continued his dancing and worship, or just endeavored to be neutral. A man must "come across;" he must take a positive stand. The position of a neutral is the position of the enemy of God. There are no neutrals in our country now as to Germany. Politically we were neutral until the president said that a state of war existed, but now the neutral is a pro-German. We must be out and out for the United States of America. A man's religious obligations could be illustrated by taking the two sides of an imaginary line, and to an imaginary line there can be only two sides. It is one thing or it is the other. We must be positively, clearly, professionally on God's side, or we are against him. In the day in which we are living the ideals and motives are to be more sharply defined than in former days.

An eloquent man said very recently that heretofore men were living to make money, and now they are dying to preserve righteousness, a tremendous reversal of form. Precisely so of a man's actions; if their character is to be determined by whether they are right in the sight of God rather than whether they have been personally or socially beneficial, man will arrive at the realization of the purpose of God and at the realization of his own greatest happiness.

CANADIANS PLAN BIGGER PLACE IN MERCHANT MARINE OF WORLD

Expansion is the fate of many industries these war-torn times. Perhaps in no other line of industry is this felt more keenly than in that of transportation. New problems arise weekly, if not daily. The man who can solve the problems and handle the situations is the man who goes forward and upward. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has just had such a problem to solve. It has done so by creating a new office and appointing Vice President George M. Bosworth to fill it. The new office is that of Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Limited. Mr. Bosworth has resigned as Vice President of the railway to accept it. The creation of this position is a natural result of the growth of the shipping interests of the Canadian Pacific system which has now in its owned and chartered ships, one of the largest mercantile fleets operated by any single corporation, a fleet which is actually greater today than it was at the beginning of the war. So it is not surprising that these shipping interests believe that they could no longer be considered a side issue, and Mr. Bosworth will henceforth devote the whole of his time to this important branch of this great transportation system.

Mr. Bosworth is the logical man for the new office. He began his career as a railway man in 1875 in the town of his birth, Ogdenburg, New York. Seven years later he joined the Canadian Pacific as Assistant General Freight Agent of its Ontario and Quebec lines. By 1910 he had climbed to the vice president's chair. He took a particularly active part in the building up of the Company's shipping interests and when the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Limited was formed, took charge of that Subsidiary Company of which he is now appointed Chairman.

William R. MacInnes, who will succeed Mr. Bosworth as Vice President, was born at Hamilton, Ontario. He has filled many offices since he entered the Canadian Pacific's service as a clerk in its Purchasing Department. Since 1903 he has been the Company's Freight Traffic Manager. The Empresses and Princesses of the C. P. O. S. Ltd. are known in many ports and to a vast number of travelers. Thousands of our boys are going "over" here in Canadian Pacific bottoms. Practically all of the trans-Pacific and trans-Atlantic merchantmen owned by a number of the great passenger liners of the Pacific trade, have been transformed into transports operating from North Atlantic seaport a neat and workmanlike construction. The work of putting in the meters will be continued and will be finished by the middle of the coming month. We are doing this at times when we can spare the men from other work.

UNCALLED FOR LETTERS.
List of letters remaining uncalled for in this office for the week ending October 4, 1918:

Wanted Full Particulars.
Before little Bill and his mother reached auntie's home he was cautioned to be on his good behavior and to be nice to "mother's friends." But he was such a little boy to be good all the time, and a few hours after his arrival he apparently sized up the situation and asked, "Well, who else do I have to be nice to besides mother's friends, and Aunt Mary's friends, and Aunt Margaret's friends?"

Egyptian "Kissar."
The Kissar is one of the most ancient of Egyptian instruments. It is found represented in monuments antedating the birth of Christ by 2,600 years. It consists of a circular body with a large triangular frame above, from the cross-bar of which five strings pass to the bottom of the frame. It is tuned to the pentatonic scale.

The Better World.
If I had to choose between a world in which millions of people had things to believe that they would die for and run the risk of dying for, and a cold, weak, safety first world backed up by lawyers, I should prefer a world I could die in.—Gerald Stanley Lee in Saturday Evening Post.

Took Out Dreadful Soreness.
When the kidneys are weakened or overworked so that they fail to filter and throw all impurities out of the blood, the poison remains in the system, and backache, soreness, lameness, and rheumatic pains are likely to develop. Mrs. David Henry, 65 S. Lincoln Ave., Washington, N. J., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills are doing me much good, both my kidneys and the rheumatism. They took all the dreadful soreness out of my limbs." Sold everywhere. Adv.
