SHERRY'S

HUMAN INTEREST STORY

Manager Trull Feels Certain of Appreciation of "Les Miserables"

"Human interest is the keynote," says Manager Trull of the Sherry Theatre, "of that unparalleled production of 'Les Miserables.' Very many people are familiar with Victor Hugo's masterpiece and the critics all over the country have the highest words of endorsement. It was the judgment of the New York Herald reviewer that 'the photoplay probably is as close an approach to literature as has been accomplished on the screen," and The Morning Telegraph declared "the visualized work is every bit as strong as the printed word."

"There are people who are continually crying for better pictures. To them we would say, 'See LES MISERABLES.'"—New York Tribune.

"Quite the best picture that has been seen heretofore."—N. Y. Times.

"In strength of plot and human interest LES MISERABLES surpasses the memorable 'Honor System.'"—New York American.

$35,000,000,000 HUN HOME DEBT

GERMANY FLOATED HER LOANS AMONG HER OWN PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Study Her War Bonds Represent Much of the Nation's Wealth.

Germany's financial situation has been undertaken by government agencies with a view to throwing light on Germany's ability to make reparation for devastation of invaded countries. Unofficial reports indicate that Germany's national debt, represented mainly by domestic war bonds, is now nearly $25,000,000, or more than two-fifths of the estimated national wealth.

Although there has been no intimation of the amount which the allies will expect Germany to pay, it is certain to run into billions of dollars, and necessarily the terms of payment must accord with Germany's ability to pay. This ability will be measured by the nation's power to revive her industries and trade and to tax this for state purposes.

PROVIDE WORK FOR SOLDIERS

CAMP LEWIS.—The United States Department of Labor and Army officials here are making arrangements to either secure their former places of employment for released soldiers or find other positions for them. It has been made evident by the large number of letters received from former employers that many of them are holding the positions for the soldiers.

No Slackers.
Father—"Why don't you stick to work more? It ought to be a real enjoyment to you." Son—"It is, sir, but I don't like to give myself up wholly to pleasure."

Interest was dominant through it all."—New York Herald.

"An excellent example of what the movies can do for the classics of literature."—N. Y. World.

"Months of preparation have been spent and the splendid photoplay showed fine evidence of this fact."—New York Globe.

"A delicious piece of character work. It was a triumph of art for William Farnum."—New York Evening World.

"The film moves on with a dramatic intensity that never flags. Always the human interest is uppermost."—New York Evening Telegram.

LES MISERABLES will be seen here at the Sherry Theatre today and tomorrow.

Manager Trull states that while the great nine act masterpiece has commanded prices from 50c to $2.00, that regardless of the heavy expense incurred in producing this picture, the prices at Sherry's will be 25c for adults and 10c for children at both matinees and evenings, being resolved that prices shall not keep any one from seeing it.

ARCADE

THE "UNBELIEVER"

The petrification of the finest story the great war has inspired, Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews' "The Three Things," which is the attraction at the Arcade Theatre today under the title of "The Unbeliever" will be recognized at once as one of the genuinely significant achievements in the art of the silent drama.

The combination of military spectacles, superlatively thrilling action, minute review of the grim business of waging war, the torture that has been Belgium's, romance and study in spiritual growth which it presents, places it well to the forefront among the most engrossing silent dramas the screen has disclosed.

Phil Landicott goes into the Great Struggle firm in his conviction that the working classes are "different," that the Germans are "swine" and that there is no God. When his ex-chauffeur saves his life on the field of battle and sacrifices his own in doing it, Phil learns to judge people as people—not as classes. After the battle, when "the choir of the dying chanted their anthem of faith and hope" out in the desolation of "No Man's Land," atheism gave way to faith in a Divine Power. In the field hospital even the wounded Germans seemed to be human. It is a powerful, gripping story, visualized in a masterful fashion by an all-star cast, featuring Ray McKee and Marguerite Courtot, assisted by an army of the United States Marines, and strengthened by a quality of photography that has rarely if ever been equaled and never surpassed. This super-feature is presented by George Kilane.

FAREWELL BANQUET IS GIVEN DR. PHY

ent to express himself. Those expressions were of a nature that rang so true and meant so much that Dr. Phy cannot but enter upon the duties to which he has been assigned with a positive knowledge of the high esteem in which he is held by his home people.

As a token of friendship the guests presented the doctor with a very fine knife. In his response he told of his career in the Grande Ronde valley; how he tried with all of his energy to make a success of everything he had undertaken; how he had left Hot Lake, once with a depressed feeling, but returned with every fibre in his body focused in determination to make the institution greater than it ever had been. His words were from the heart indicating his feeling for the men present, and all other friends, who wish him well in his work.

In the talks that followed, Charles E. King, who has been at the Lake for several years an invalid and unable to take part in the battles of life, told of his appreciation of the doctor. He spoke in such a manner that it was hard for mature men to refrain from moistened eyes, for he told of the certain death which had hovered over him, and but for the care and attention of the man whom the party met to honor he would have been beneath the sod long ago. "I only wish," said Mr. King, his voice quivering with emotion, "that it were possible for me to tell the world—yes, to shout from the housetops and the mountain tops—the things that swell in my heart. Could I but make everyone know the worth of the man who has done everything for me, and many others as well, I would be willing, this moment for the curtain to be rung down, for I would feel that I had in a small measure requited for the good I have received."

Those present at the banquet table were J. J. Carr, County Judge J. E. Phy, Judge Thomas H. Crawford, T. J. Serogin, William Siegrist, Herman Siegrist, Oliver Daseh, G. L. Larison, Dr. McAllister H. W. Tinker, Charles Reynolds, E. E. Kirtley, Frank Lilly, W. G. Windas, Charles E. King and Bruce Dennis.

Dogs' Claim on Humanity.
Canine capacity for untiring and unflinching loyalty is the dog's strongest hold on human friends and protectors. It is the quality which gives dogs their greatest advantage over all other animals as pets.

MORE LOAN CALLS FOR NEXT YEAR

act as a restraining influence.

This policy, when formulated, will be set forth in a statement by the committee. This may be issued within a few days.

Special effort will be made to discourage the floating of questionable, or highly speculative security issues, although without authority to coerce promoters, the committee must rely mainly on the co-operation of investment bankers and other banking interests, whose leaders have assured the committee of support.

Government war bond selling in the future will be along distinctly new lines. Bonds will have short maturities, and Secretary McAdoo explained Wednesday that by this is meant from three to seven or eight years. In addition, issues will be smaller than in the past, and probably will be marketed more continuously.

May Change Interest Rates.
War Savings organizations throughout the country will assist in placing the bonds, Mr. McAdoo said, in more direct manner than in past Liberty Loan campaigns. The 4 1/2 per cent interest rate borne by the last two Liberty issues may be changed, depending on other terms of the securities.

The heavy over-subscription of the fourth Liberty Loan, with a total of $6,989,047,000, or 16.48 per cent more than $6,000,000,000 sought, will enable the treasury to postpone the next issue longer than otherwise. It still is expected by spring.

National managers of the War Savings movement conferred Wednesday over plans for further consolidating War Savings and Liberty Loan committees in each locality in preparation for the next issue of bonds.

Why Patronize Portland When Western Oregon Is Never For This Section

Did Portland and western Oregon elect Walter M. Pierce governor? No. Then why depend upon Portland? Why not patronize a home industry and help build La Grande and Eastern Oregon. We do your work for 30 per cent less so why pay solicitors and freight charges? We call and deliver, and we show you full size rugs—not samples.
