Well, there was joy in Berlin, all right—Berlin, N. J. The folks of that place celebrated—again—last Monday night with a big funeral procession to the town cemetery where Kaiser Bill was ceremoniously interred with a hilly in his hand.

Edsel to Henry—"Now that the war is over, papa, you mustn't forget to take down the flags!"

Victory! Whoopee! Celebration! Casualties: Killed in action, sixteen; wounded in action, not yet compiled.

ARCADE

THE MAIN STORE FOR AD- MIREES & BILLIE BURKE

The admirers of Billie Burke, the popular Paramount star, will be afforded an unusual treat when her latest photoplay, "In Pursuit of Polly," is presented at the Arcade theatre today. In this picture, Miss Burke will be seen as a chauffeur in overalls, who does not disdain to repair her broken-down automobile and who, while engaged in this delectable occupation, is discovered by a millionaire, who offers to assist her. Of course, she accepts and later becomes his bride.

In this picture Miss Burke plays Polly Marsden, a wealthy society woman of New York, who is unable to choose between two men who love her, and who to settle the question agrees to wed the first man who captures her affections. As the motor away, she has an hour's rest of her suitors.

Many interesting situations develop as the result of this plan, all of which are overflowing, many of them comical and others highly dramatic. In the course of the story Polly comes in contact with three spies who are seeking to destroy American munitions plants and by a clever combination of circumstances, she assists Colby Mason, a millionaire and Secret Service operative. He comes to the conclusion that Polly is getting in conjunction with these spies as their confederate and is forced to place her under arrest as her affections reach the scene. It then develops that according to the agreement Polly belongs to Mason but having captured her first and he subsequently claims her as his bride.

Miss Burke is effectively supported. Thomas Meighan is her leading man and others in her support are Frank Losee, A. J. Herbert, William Davidson, Alfred Hickman and Benjamin Deely.

Secret of the Storm Country," is a daughter of the famous stock actress, Lillian Lawrence, and made her stage debut at the age of three months.

Under the management of Charles Frohman, the youthful Miss Terry played child parts until she was 20 years old. Then she entered a convent, Notre Dame Academy, and remained there for seven years. When she returned to the stage it was under the Shubert management in "Girls." This led to an engagement for two seasons in David Belasco's company, "The 19th," in which Miss Terry replaced Julia Dean. She has played in New York in "Smoldering Flame," "Somebody's Darling," "Search Me," "Success," "Our Country First" and "Single Love." Miss Terry entered pictures two years ago playing the lead with William Farnum in "The Sign of the Cross." Since then she has appeared in Famous Players, World and Equitable Film Productions, also as leading woman for Earl Williams of Vitaphone in "Arsene Lupin," "The Hawk" and "Apartment 29," and with Mrs. Vernon Castle in "Vengeance is Mine," for the Astra Film Company.

BUT IN THE WOMEN LIKE THE BISHOP'S ORDERS?

(By United Press) LONDON, Nov. 19.—(By Mail)—"Our women—Heaven bless them and dole them!" This will come from a bishop who deplores the way that English women have taken to trousers. Most people are of opinion that if Heaven were interested in the dressing of women they would still appear in trousers at the present period. Women's garb often is an outward expression of soul, and though these 4 years of hardship women have had to clench their fists and keep a stiff upper lip while they carried on their men's work, women have had to step into the breach and play a part—and they play the part allotted to them better if they are dressed for it.

Really Great Victory.

It is a conquest when we can lift ourselves above the annoyances of circumstances over which we have no control; but it is a greater victory when we can make those circumstances our helpers, when we can appreciate the good that is in them.—Lucy Lae com.

SHERRY'S

SHERRY'S TODAY ONLY

A new light illumines the William Fox's armament. The star is no less a person than Miss PERRY, Hyland who makes her first appearance under the Fox banner in "The Debt of Honor," at the Sherry theatre today only.

This dainty, clever actress, who seems so well and is such a delight to look upon, has as her vehicle, a play that is topical in that it has to do with the pernicious spy system that is still tearing at the roots of American preparation for the big war. Honor, Miss Hyland's role, is adopted by a senator who is at work on the sending of transports to Europe. There is a leak. The wife, in love with a spy, is giving him information. To save her adopted father's name, Honor takes the blame for her foster mother's indiscretion. This is how she pays her debt to him. Her sweetheart, however, refuses to believe her really and together they set the spy, help their country and Honor wins her way back to the affection of her "daddy."

The situations are said to be gripping, and the photography is beautiful.

FIX THE ICE HOUSE Little Work Now Will Be Fine For the Summer

Of course, you're planning to be a plenty of ice next summer. It will be mighty helpful on those hot days in July—sunbath in the home and saving in the dairy.

Are you ready? Is the ice house in good repair or will you be when a good freeze comes, that you have a right place to store it? It will be to your advantage to spend some of your spare time now in getting the ice house in shape. Repair the sides and see that the roof doesn't leak.

If you haven't built an ice house, this is the time to do so. Don't be without the next summer. It's expensive and inconvenient to depend on neighbors or haul from town. You can build a good ice house if you want to know how, write to the United States department of Agriculture, P. O. and ask for a free copy of Farmers' Bulletin 227. Do it now.

In view of the fact that Union county was the first to introduce the publishing, as slanders, of those who failed to do their part. It is of interest to note that the same district has evolved, with the assistance of state leaders, another new plan which undoubtedly will prove efficacious in bringing to light flagrant slackers and hold them up in their true light to the community in which they live and to initiate a movement to put out-right pro-Huns where they belong.

Public sentiment is a bitter enemy and in many cases its sting is not felt because the suspected person is not conclusively proven to be pro-Hun. Once that fact is established, life will become miserable in any loyal community such as Union county. Where favorable evidence to bring federal indictments.
