JOSEPH BEGINS THE ROLL CALL

NO. 5 JOSEPH BEGINS
EDITORS LISTEN TO LOCKLEY'S
LECTURE ON WAR

The Whole Community is Ready for the Holiday Events.

JOSEPH, Dec. 18.—(Special)—A beautiful day favored the start of the 1919 Red Cross Roll Call here Monday. The willing workers reported no trouble in raising the required amount. Dollars are pouring in. Red Cross buttons are appearing on every level.

The editors of Walla Walla county met Monday morning at Enterprise to hear Fred Lockley of Portland, Mr. Lockley impressed upon the minds of the editorial pen pushers the fact that the W. S. B. pledges must be met by New Year's day and asked that they use their papers to carry this message to the people.

With a light snow on the ground colder weather prevails at present in Joseph and vicinity.

The way the interior of some stores are trimmed for Christmas would certainly do credit to a city store.

Mrs. J. R. Carter was in Joseph last week visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oswald Estes. She returned to her home in Enterprise Friday.

Daniel Mulverhill, for three years an employee on the Arnold ranch at the Buttes left Friday for the east.

Guy Morelock, who has for several months been out the Officer's Training camp at Eugene, returned and his father, T. H. Morelock left for Caldwell, where Guy will manage a sheep camp. Mrs. Morelock expects to return shortly.

Two of our teachers left Monday for their homes to spend Christmas. They were Miss Mildred Dean, who went to Walla Walla and Miss Maude Baily, who went to The Dalles.

Arthur Collinsworth is moving into his new home on upper Main street this week.

A. J. Galbraith went to Portland last of the week on business.

Chas. De Forest, Portland engineer, was in town last week.

Post Master W. C. Wilson announces rush of mail has started.

According to the Portland Journal, Tom Adams shot and killed a fellow miner in a fight at Home last week. The trouble was over a woman, who Tom claimed to be his wife.

Adams is now in jail at Baker City and his children by his wife have been turned over to their grandfather, George Biggs of Joseph.

It is the opinion of those who know that Tom will "go over the road for life" as he was in a shooting scrape near here some time ago. He resided in Joseph for many years and is well known here.

More Cattle are Shipped.

Last Saturday's freight train took four more cars of live stock from Joseph to Portland. The shippers were O. E. Gerson, 1 car of cattle and hogs; T. H. Morelock, 1 car of cattle and hogs; J. W. Warner, 1 car of cattle; and last Saturday Mrs. Gerson will ship two cars of hogs to Portland.

Thos. Thompson and James Larson were up from Home the first of the week.

M. R. Trent of Portland was last week.

Mrs. Maude Scott and her husband, Chas. Gerson, left this week for Billings, Idaho, to visit relatives.

Miss Jessie Sturman, superintendent of Joseph schools, is reported to be recovering nicely from the influenza.

James "Benny" one of the most energetic and popular traveling salesmen on this branch district at the Home in Condon last Friday of the flu.

"Benny" as he was called was a favorite among Joseph merchants and they will miss him.

Arthur Dodson and family left Monday for Kansas, where he will visit. Mr. Dodson expects to spend the winter in the valley.

Paul Vogt of La Grande was in business visitor from La Grande the first of the week.

The Joseph Milling company are shipping another two cars of flour this week. This is their last shipment under the present government control of which they held.

The fleet will probably go to Honolulu, as an order was received from that place the first of the week.

Richard Bird, a Joseph soldier boy, who has been in training at the California State Normal school arrived home Monday having been honorably discharged.

MAY McNEELEY PASSED AWAY

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McNeely Died at Early Hour This Morning.

May McNeely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McNeely, who has been a sufferer from pneumonia the past two weeks, died at the family home on Second street at an early hour this morning. The young lady was the elder of two daughters of the family and the other daughter, Louise, is also an influenza patient.

The funeral will be held Friday, but the exact hour has not yet been determined upon.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

The girls' basketball team are organized. The Freshman-Sophomore game was held last Wednesday evening. The score was 28 to 8 in favor of the Sophomores. The players on the winning team were: Julia Hulse, center; Mildred Hoyt and Frieda Klopstein, forwards; Ruby Shirley and Margaret Klopstein, guards; and Myrtle Hoyt, side-center. The freshmen players were: Roberta Smith, center; Margaret King and Vera Ladd, forwards; Lois Pearson and Dora Jones, guards; and Ella Miller, side-center. The captains, Mildred Hoyt and Margaret King, both did splendid work in making baskets. The freshmen played at a disadvantage not having played before. The sophomores should be complimented for their splendid team work.

JUNIOR-SENIOR

The Junior-Senior game was held Friday evening. The seniors won with a score of 24-12. Junior players were: Ruth Williams, center; Essie Johnson and Eva Ledbetter, forwards; Frances Pearson and Thelma Osterling, guards. The seniors were: Ruth Johnson, center; Ardis Palmer and George Wade, forwards; Helen Sims and Florence Thompson, guards. Jean Tuttle played center for the seniors in the last half. Ardis Palmer, Senior captain, made many baskets. Julia Hopkins, Junior, and Thelma Nixon, senior, both splendid basketball players, were absent on account of the influenza.

Miss Mildred Riddle, gymnasium instructor, is the coach for the girls' team. She expects to organize a team to play outside schools during the winter.

The basketball boys are practicing every evening after school. They hope to finish all class games before Christmas, so that they can begin the outside games after the holidays. The senior captain is Elwood Lyman, and the junior captain, Harry Proctor.

Mr. Murphy, who has lived for fourteen years in Japan and Korea, gave a very instructive lecture to the high school students recently.

He spoke of the Japanese and Chinese languages, illustrating by the use of a blackboard. The Japanese and Chinese use the same written language although their speech differs. It is entirely a matter of signs. Each sign means a word and there are over six thousand in all, but they do not spell at all. Mr. Murphy's lecture was enjoyed by all, as it was an unusual and interesting subject.

Miss Jacquette Wheatley is taking the place of Miss Williamson while she is absent.

Miss Zilpha Allen has substituted in the Central school this last week for an absent teacher. She taught the second grade.

Mr. Hazard, the short-story writer, has been visiting the High School and giving some interesting talks on the writing of the short story. He thinks that the short story will be the literature of the future. He says it has taken the place of the longer novel in Dickens' and Thackeray's time, because the people of today are always in a hurry, they wish a picture of human life and experience, without going through a long description and plot. Mr. Hazard is a student of the short story and has sold eleven stories to different magazines.
