Lena Shaw.

Lena Shaw was born at North Powder, Oregon, June 12, 1889, and she died at the home of her sister, Mary L. Eaton, in this city, January 10, 1919. She leaves to mourn her passing, her mother, Ellen Shaw, of this city; five sisters—Mary L. Eaton, of Union; Hannah Huffman, of Enterprise; Agnes Edwards, of Washington, Wash.; Nellie Colman of North Powder; Margaret Brown of Cascade Locks; and three brothers—Jas. T. Shaw, Alex Shaw and Stanley

Shaw, of North Powder. Her father, Thomas Shaw, departed this life January 24, 1904; also a brother, George F. Shaw, died April 8, 1906. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to these relatives, who mourn the passing of a daughter and sister.

Lena Shaw was a member of Mountain Gem Rebekah Lodge of this city, and at their next meeting was to have been installed in the office of Noble Grand, the highest honor in the power of that lodge to give her.

At the time of her death she was in the employ of the Home Independent Telephone Co., having been engaged in that line of work almost continuously for the last ten years. This, her chosen occupation, gave her a wide circle of acquaintances and she was loved by all who knew her. Her days were full of quiet friendliness for her associates. Modest and unassuming, she did her duty as she saw it, and the father said: "Child, thy work is finished—it is enough, come home."

WILL AUCTION OREGON WOOL

HALF-MILLION POUNDS TO BE OFFERED AT BOSTON

Date of Sale January 30th—Part of Government Holidays to Be Sold by Sample.

PORTLAND, Jan. 18.—A start is to be made soon in disposing of the 15,000,000 odd pounds of government wool stored in Portland. A lot of approximately 500,000 pounds will be offered at auction in Boston on January 30. Notice of this effect has been received by Charles H. Gresham, United States Wool Administrator and distributor here. The wool will be sold by sample.

The removal of all restrictions on wool importing, which took effect on January 10, is what the trade has been working for since the signing of the armistice. It was known to be under consideration by the authorities, but the possibility of conflict with the anglers of the stock owned by the war department was considered weighty enough to delay the raising of the embargo. This allows unrestricted importation from Argentina, Uruguay and South Africa of wools for private account. Importers will be required to secure licenses for importing these staples, but licenses will be issued freely.

During the last few months the army quartermaster has been the only importer who might obtain a license for wool from Argentina, Uruguay and South Africa. All the wool imported either by the syndicate or by the direct representatives of the Quartermaster has gone into the army stock and these wools are still being received in Boston and New York.

The latest possibility heard in the trade is that the government may stop its embargo in order to give support to the value of the raw domestic clip, and carry the war wools to another year.

Advises from Great Britain state that developments are aimed to raw wool give hope for early release of government control in its domestic markets, though uncolored trade is far off. The prospect is that this year's domestic British clip will not be bought by the government. Most of the terminal officials themselves are against such purchase, as the English and Irish clip seem to be in line for distribution in a free market.

Pela an Old City.

Pela was a Thracian colony when the Romans swooped down and took it in 128 B. C., and a Roman existence followed this descent of the world-conquerors. In 379 it was virtually bottled out of existence when the Goths, during the reign of Emperor Theodosius, defeated the Venetians in a battle on the banks of the Danube, and won the town—and kept it out of the hands for a century and a half. It came back finally and was incorporated again and in 1815 was Austria's principal navy harbor.

COVE FARM BEING STOCKED

LA GRANDE MEN GOING INTO SHEEP RAISING.

Robert and Harris French Starting in With 1100 Head of High Grade Animals.

COVE, Jan. 18.—Two brothers, Robert French, of Cove, and Harris French of La Grande, have gone into the sheep business partly because the younger man's health demands an outdoor life. They are starting with 1100 head of highgrade sheep on the old French farm, about a mile out of Cove, where extensive improvements, including a fine large barn, are nearing completion.

These young men are nephews of Stephen French, who erected the Assumption Episcopal church, rectory and guild hall, and whose endowment field of 100 acres, lying in an oblong body across the entrance to Cove, for support of an Episcopal Girls' school, all combine to add an attractive feature to Cove's naturally picturesque location.
