FREAK CHINOOK VISITS JOSEPH AT CASEY SIDING

RECONSTRUCTION WORK BEING CARRIED ON

Large Shipment of Cattle Is Made From Joseph—Train on Time Every Day for a Week.

JOSEPH, Jan. 21.—(Special)—The chinook which did so much damage the middle of last week kept up until Sunday morning. Very little trouble was caused after the first night. Linemen for the electric company and the telephone company are still repairing lines and poles.

Otto Hartvigsen and family left last Saturday for Portland, where they expect to spend the winter.

Mrs. H. E. Davis was a passenger on Saturday's train to Walla, where she went to visit her son Guy.

Thomas O'Mally returned last week, after spending some time in Walla Walla.

James Winston and Anah Jennings returned from Portland the last of the week.

The work of repairing the damage done by the wind is being carried on all over town. Chimneys are being set up, roofs repaired and other reconstruction work being done.

Mrs. W. G. Beth and son Kirk and Mrs. A. L. Cook were visitors in Enterprise the first of the week.

Shipments from the local cattle yards last Saturday were as follows: Pogue Brothers, 1 car of hogs; O. E. Gerding, 1 car of cattle and hogs, and H. B. Davidheizer, 1 car of cattle.

Hugh Wilson has recovered from the influenza.

One of the many strange things done by the wind last Wednesday morning was to throw a large concrete block from the south end of the school building clear over to the north end and drop it through the roof into the assembly room. This was evidently done at the same time the collapse occurred.

Miss Gladys Kinney of Enterprise visited her brother for a short time Sunday in Joseph.

Attorney E. F. Barker of Walla Walla was in town the last of the week on important legal business.

Mrs. O. O. Eckley of Enterprise and Mrs. R. C. Duke of Walla were Joseph visitors last week.

Engineer Pete Heiver has been pulling the Joseph-La Grande train in on time every day for over a week. Who said it couldn't be done?

MAY SCRAP PACIFIC & EASTERN RAILWAY

PORTLAND, Jan. 21.—Discontinuance of operation of the Pacific & Eastern railway within ten days was authorized yesterday morning in an order issued by Judge Wolverson in the United States court. There is no fund out of which operating expenses may be paid and the closing of the receivership rapidly by selling the railway and equipment for their scrap or auctioning the property as it is if a purchaser can be found, is expected. Last week the Pacific & Eastern was forced into receivership on petition of a minority of New York and Baltimore mortgage bondholders and W. F. Turner, president of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway company, which owns all of the stock and the majority of bonds, was appointed receiver. The money-losing road reaches from Medford thirty-three miles to Butte Falls. There is some hope that timber interests may buy the property and extend the line seventy miles to a connection with the Southern Pacific railway running northerly from Klamath Falls.

TRIAL FOR ALLEGED VIOLATION OF HEALTH RULES TOMORROW

The trial of Mac Wood of the Golden Rule, who was to appear in police court this morning in answer a charge of having his store over-crowded, in violation of the city's health regulations, was postponed until tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, owing to technical defects in the prosecution's preparation for the case. H. E. Dixon has been retained by Mr. Wood, and J. D. Slater, the city attorney, will prosecute.

Mr. Wood will plead not guilty, he says, and fight the case.

LEAGUE IS TAKING FORM

ORGANIZATION OF NATIONS IS NEARING ACCOMPLISHMENT

Statements of Principal Nations Approaching Accord—Structure is Definitely in Sight.

PARIS, Jan. 20.—Callers at the Paris White House Sunday were Senator Leon Bourgeois, the league of nations specialist on the French peace delegation; Lord Robert Cecil, who occupies a similar post for the British, and General Jan Christian Smuts, the South African leader, who also has a plan for a society of nations.

President Wilson thus had an opportunity to discuss the French and British viewpoints on this question and to get further ahead with the work of reconciling the different projects with his own ideas.

The plans for a league of nations have been reduced to very definite form. The general indications are that the statesmen of the principal nations are steadily drawing together on a structure which will have the support of all, the informal discussions having brought the community of ideas to a point where it may reasonably be expected soon to appear on paper.

It is understood that the general plan which is now most approved in substance by all the parties concerned rejects the theory of the super-sovereignty of an international police force.

Working Out Disarmament.

It also contemplates the working out, as the development of the league progresses, of the most delicate question of all—disarmament—which particularly affects the British navy. The same principle, it is proposed, shall apply to the other nations associated in the war against Germany.

The idea is founded on the argument that no nation would dispose of instruments by which it expects to defend itself until it has been demonstrated that the forces proposed as a substitute will be efficient.

In the opinion of the international lawyers such decisions will remove from actual settlement by the peace conference, at this sitting at least, many questions on which complete agreement might not be expected now, but upon which full accord seems probable as the development of the plans for a league of nations advances.

Facing Many Problems.

Such a plan will delegate to various commissions and committees detailed problems which shall be reported with recommendations to the league itself. The probability of such a plan being adopted justifies previous forecasts that the principal accomplishments of the peace conference as it now sits in Paris will be agreement on broad general principles, leaving the details to be applied in accord therewith, and the making of a preliminary peace which will return the world at the earliest moment possible to its normal status.

ELECTION WON BY 3 VOTES

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Jan. 21.—By a margin of three ballots, R. C. Bradbury, of the Olene district, was selected for a three-year term as director of the Klamath Irrigation district at the election held on Tuesday.

Ninety-three votes, a small representation of the water users, were cast at the election. Mr. Bradbury received 48 and his opponent, Robert Chayne, of the Spring Lake district, 45.

BOIL DRINKING WATER

Owing to the shortage of water at Beaver creek it is now necessary to get part of the supply from the Grande Ronde river. All water needed for drinking purposes should be boiled as a precaution against germs or contamination. While the conditions at the river are much improved over former years, there being now little or no chance for contamination from the meat company's plant, the city health board urges boiling of drinking water as a precautionary measure.
