With thirteen cars of excellent Eastern Oregon cattle—and here's hoping thirteen will not be unobtainable in this case—Warren Chandler, the veteran stock buyer left last night for Kansas City, where he expects to find a good market for this high class product.

Among those from whom the cattle were purchased by Mr. Chandler are James Dobbin, of near La Grande, Mr. McGregor of North Powder, W. J. Towsey and George Benson of Union, and five cars of Wallawa county cattle. It will be seen from the growers names that Chandler is not entering the Kansas City market with any second grade stuff on this trip.

How many U-boats had Germany? Never more than 246, we are told by Captain Persson, the German naval authority. In the single year 1917, sixty-six of these submarines were destroyed by the Allied navies, chiefly British and American. Only a small percentage of the U-boats were at sea at any one time; sometimes not more than twelve per cent. The weakest point about the U-boats was the fact that their own crews had little faith in them, and considered an order to go to sea almost as a death sentence.

The Germans have restored $1,200,000,000 in stocks and bonds which they took from Belgium and northern France. In many cities they had looted the safe deposit boxes. Germany was obliged by the terms of the armistice to restore this property, and it will be distributed to its rightful owners.
