YOUTH BOUND OVER TO GRAND JURY

Chester Roberts, a local youth, appeared in the justice court yesterday afternoon, in answer to a charge of having attempted to steal an automobile. He was bound over to the grand jury under $100 bonds. The money was furnished and he was released last night.

Young Roberts was taken into custody by the police Saturday night, in company with another boy, who will be given a hearing in the juvenile court, at 8:00 o'clock this afternoon, before Judge Pky. The boys' story was that they had climbed in the car merely to sit down, but one of them stepped on the starter button, and the car, which they said had been left in gear, ran ahead into a car parked in front of it. They got out and were trying to roll the car back when the police seized them, they stated.

The machine which they are accused of having tried to steal, belonged to W. D. Mitchell.

BAPTIST MINISTER SPEAKS ON PEACE

REV. S. C. LAPHAM IN SERMON SUNDAY SEES PRINCE OF PEACE TRIUMPHANT

Rev. S. C. Lapham, preaching in the Baptist church Sunday, gave an address very appropriate to the spirit of the times. The Scripture on which his theme was based was the verse, "His name shall be called the Prince of Peace. He shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people; and they shall beat their swords into plowshares and their spears into scythes; nations shall not lift up the sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

He declared that though Christ taught the principles of peace, the world has never heeded them, and instead militarism and brutality have dictated the position of nations in the world ever since the creation. The result has been that untold misery and suffering throughout the world have resulted all through the ages of time down to the present day.

Peace makers, the minister declared, have in the past been regarded as deluded fools and impractical idealists; for people said that peace was impossible and that war must always be. Today, however, he said, there is evidence of the working of a change over a large part of the world. We are beginning, as nations, to look up to the Prince of Peace, confessing that men have been all wrong, and that if the world is ever to live in happiness, Christ's love must rule it.

POLICE COURT CASES ARE INCREASING

D. K. Ford and James Parker paid a fine of $15 and $10, respectively in police court yesterday afternoon, following their apprehension by the city's officers of the law on charges of being intoxicated.

Otis Perry was fined $5.00, for having violated the traffic ordinances. Two other complaints on the same count were laid out yesterday against John Dyer and David Geddes.

There has been a distinct increase in the number of cases appearing on the police court docket since the addition of a third man to the police force a week ago. J. L. Smith is the new cop.

CLEVEREST PICTURE

"SHARKS STUMBED"

After spending more than a month in carefully working out the preliminary details of the production, Miss Lois Weber has just completed the staging of a new feature photoplay.

The story was filmed under the story title "For Husbands Only" (merely a title, not a restriction) it will be shown first at the Arcade theatre on Wednesday and Thursday as a Jewel Production. It may be said with safety that it will prove to be the cleverest and most fascinating subject Miss Weber's studio has yet produced. The famous woman director, who evolved the drama from an idea embodied in a magazine story by G. B. Stern, is responsible for a number of ingenious twists which are certain to startle and delight theatre-goers who are fond of novelty.

Miss Mildred Harris, the little lady who created such an instantaneous success in "The Price of a Good Time," and who is the featured player in another Lois Weber production shortly to be released, is the star of "For Husbands Only." Lewis J. Cody has the principal male role. Other players who enact prominent parts are Miss Kathleen Kirkham and Fred Goodwin, who has just completed a principal part in Miss Mary Pickford's latest picture.

A feature of Miss Weber's new production will be the appearance in many of the scenes of the Degenia-Shawna dancers, the advanced pupils of Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn. The settings in which they dance are among the most exquisite ever shown on the screen.

The story, like many of those which have come from Miss Weber's studio, is remarkably unlike anything that heretofore has been pictured on the screen. In fact, the story as planned by the feminine master of cinema craft is so unusual that even the cleverest student of screen drama will find himself baffled in his efforts to anticipate the climax of the play until the final scene is presented.

Ladies, bring your husband to see "For Husbands Only," at the Arcade Wednesday and Thursday. 2-24-19

Old Folks' Concert Will Be Given on Evening of Friday, March the 7th

Plans for the Old Folks' concert, which are being made by Mrs. R. H. Coker, wife of the pastor of the Christian church, are materializing in a very satisfactory manner. Mrs. Coker says. Those who are taking part in the program are hard at work practicing their particular parts and those who are primarily interested in the concert are confident that complete success will attend the event.

The date for the concert has been set for Friday evening, March 7th. The program will be given in the Christian church.

THIRD NUMBER OF LYCEUM COURSE

Thursday evening this week the third number of the High School Lyceum course will be given in the auditorium of the high school. The program will be given by the Ionian Serenaders, a musical organization of fine talent. This will undoubtedly be a program that everyone in La Grande will enjoy, and the promoters of the lyceum course are looking and hoping for a large attendance. Further particulars of this entertainment will be given in The Observer tomorrow.

With the Colors

Miss Violet Byng, 2201 N. Fir st., is in receipt of the following letter from Corporal Roland C. Ingram:

Souilly, France, Jan. 15, 1919. Dear Friend: I received your letter night before last and surely was glad to hear from you. I haven't been getting much mail lately. Guess everyone thinks that because the war is over I don't want to hear from them. I haven't the least idea when I will get home, the way things are lined up for us now it will be six or eight months, but we are in hopes that they will take it away from us before that time. We have 1700 miles of roads under us and a lot of Hilde prisoners.

We are in the worst place in France, neither far ahead of the old No Man's Land, nor back far enough to be where there are any people, nor are there any good towns near. I would rather have been sent with the army of occupation than left here where we are, but there is no help for it I guess. Just my hard luck again.

I got your picture all right. I thought I told you last time. Thank you so much. McKinney is here with me now. He knows I have your picture, he doesn't seem to be falling off very much. That doesn't flatter you does it? I am sending you a picture I had taken shortly before I left the States, it is the only one I have at present. I doubt if you would know me now though, if you saw me.

By the time I get home you will be so used to seeing soldiers that you or no one else will make any fuss over us at all, you will just say "There's another one of those soldiers."

I am at the regiment headquarters now, doing camp police duties. I have five men from my company under me, and between 35 and 45 Hilde. I don't have a very hard job, only overseeing and inspecting the work. This is an awful camp though, nothing but a field of mud, and with over 1700 men in camp, they make considerable work to police after them.

I am sending you a 5/8 dl souvenir which is just about all that we can buy here.

There may be a lot to write about here, but I don't know what it is so will close.

I am well thank you. I hope you have not caught the flu. Give my regards to your mother and any one else who is our mutual friend.

HEY! HEY! LOOK! LOOK! Be sure and come to Zuber hall Wednesday, February 26, 1919. One big laugh after another. Because all of the fun makers will be there to attend the masquerade ball. Come, laugh and grow fat. Forget your troubles and have a good time. 2-24-19
