FROM RIVER RHINE
Mrs. Angus Stewart, of Evanston, Wyoming, writes to the Observer that her son, Colin Stewart, has recently returned home from his visit to Germany. The Stewarts were formerly residents of this city, and Colin is over seas, with the La Grande Hospital Unit. His father and mother have received from him a bottle filled with water from the river Rhine, an iron cross, and about fifty pieces of foreign money, among other things. In a letter written January 31st he stated that the boys in the hospital unit were getting ready for the long hike back again across the Atlantic.

INSANE MAN FOUND

CONFESSES HIS CRIME
John W. Montgomery, who has been in the custody of city authorities for a week, has made a confession of violations of the Mann act. He stated that he used his wife for immoral purposes at Glens Ferry and Nampa, Idaho, Baker and La Grande, Or. A federal charge will be made against the man.—Pendleton Tribune.

"RICH MAN, POOR MAN" IS SUPERB PICTURE

The thousands of admirers of delightful Marguerite Clark who have seen her "Bib" pictures, will be interested in the presentation at the Arcade theatre, today and tomorrow of her latest photoplay, "Rich Man, Poor Man," a picturesque of Maximilian Foster's successful novel, by George Broadhurst, for Paramount release.

The story of this admirable picture deals with the fortune of Betty Waynes, a charming girl, who after many years spent in a boarding house, enters the home of John K. Beaton, a cold-hearted, selfish financier, presumably as his grandchild. Although a rich man, Beaton is a poor man in everything else, for he loves no one and every one despises him for his eccentricities and erratic temperament.

Betty brings love and sunshine to his life and he refuses to permit her to leave him even after he discovers that she has been foisted upon himself through the forgery of a man whose sole desire was to make Betty happy. Betty is the central figure in numerous thrilling scenes, and finally finds happiness in the love of a young man who really is the grandson of Beaton.

Miss Clark is splendidly supported by a large array of fine screen players, chief among whom are Frederick Warde, the famous tragedian, Richard Barthelmess, George Backus, Otisola Nesmith, Mary Davis and Augusta Anderson.

SENIOR "Y" CLASS FORMED
For the benefit of young men who are not able to attend any of the other physical training classes at the Y. M. C. A., a special class for seniors has been formed, to meet Tuesday and Friday evenings at 8:30. The first class will be held this evening. Young men between the ages of 20 and 30 are eligible and will be welcomed by the physical director.

O-W band announced today that the band is holding a big dance the night of March 27th, St. Patrick's day. Refreshments will be served and the band will be used for the occasion.
The members of the band are highly pleased with the support they are receiving from the citizens of La Grande and they intend to do all in their power to show their friends a good time through the medium of their organization. Their uniform fund is growing rapidly and the men already have visions of appearing at an early date in full regalia.
Further particulars of the dance will be published as the plans for it are completed.

ELKS WILL GIVE ANOTHER DANCE

The Elks social committee announce another big dance to be held at the Elks club next Monday night, March 3rd. The programme for the coming event has been arranged in response to numerous requests from Elks who attended the dance on February 17th, when over one hundred couples enjoyed the hospitality of this popular order. On that occasion the crowd was so large that the social committee was unable to offer individual attention due them but they promise that on next Monday night, those who attend, regardless of the crowd, will be shown every courtesy and consideration for the assurance of a royal good time. They also extend to all Elks and their families a cordial invitation to attend.

Mrs. Cassidy of Shoshone, Idaho, is in La Grande in a visit with her sister, Mrs. J. H. Dupes.

Jim Blakeley in Portland
Clustered around him in the lobby of the Imperial yesterday were a number of racing and stockmen. They vividly described the coming Pendleton round-up and related tales which brought memories of the good old wild west days in Umatilla county. "Big Jim" Blakeley was the spokesman. His relay string is always entered at the Round-Up and he is prominent as the owner of race horses and the raiser of the stock. "Big Jim" writes Wallawa in large letters after his name.—Oregonian.

First Woman Legislator.
To Mrs. Vilhova-Kuneticka belongs the distinction of being the first woman in central Europe to be elected to a legislative body, according to Continental press reports, one of which says:
"She was present at the Prague constituent assembly on January 6, a meeting of all Czech deputies, elected by the free choice of the people of the Czech lands to the four legislative bodies, the only woman in the Bohemian diet. She was deprived of her mandate by the decision of the Austrian government on the ground that the Austrian constitution does not provide for the election of women deputies."

A Near Employee.
"Ever been on government work before?" asked the manager of the job-seeker.
"Very nearly, sir," was the reply.
"What do you mean by very nearly?"

AND FORTUNE
Tom Mix, the daring screen star, in "Page and Fortune" at the Sherry theatre. Built around the theme, truly a Western, "Page and Fortune" teems with action that will satisfy even the most ardent gun fan.
The play is pervaded at all times by the figure of its hero, who does startling things in a perfectly natural and plausible way. Tom Mix, by the way, is one who is capable of unusual feats, both when he is on horseback and when he is not, but he always gives the impression that they are perfectly reasonable and proper things to do.
The story of the play hinges around two towns, one of which is composed of men who have been driven out of their homes because they objected to the tyranny of a corrupt sheriff. The newer town is only waiting for a leader to wreak its vengeance. Tom Mix is the one who is capable of fighting their wrongs, and he has an added incentive when the girl he loves is stolen by the sheriff.
A Mutt and Jeff cartoon will also be shown.
