Band Expect Uniforms Soon
J. T. Ridenour, manager of the O-W band, has received word from the firm from whom the band uniforms were recently ordered, that the suits will be completed and shipped from the factory by March 24th. At that rate the band boys will be able to make their spring showing about April 1st.

Andrews Believes in Punishing.
"I notice the Humane society of Portland is offering a reward for anyone found putting out poison for any purpose, and I, as one of the sportsmen of Union county, believe it should be carried out all over the state," said A. V. Andrews yesterday. Mr. Andrews thinks heavy punishment should be inflicted upon all who who commit this offense.

Court Over at Enterprise
Judge J. W. Knowles and Court Reporter Herbert Hanna returned to La Grande Thursday night from Enterprise, where they had been for three weeks for the term of circuit court. Their stay in Enterprise was a busy one. The cases on the calendar kept the court busy for twenty-four days, and twelve night sessions were necessary in that time. Judge Knowles states that he will hold special session of circuit court in La Grande in about ten days or two weeks, to deal with cases held over from the regular term in February. He expects to go back to Enterprise in about a month for a special session there, also.

Water Plug Blows Out
Yesterday a water plug blew out on Monroe street and if there had not been a man by the name of L. M. Hoyt it is probable that a goodly portion of La Grande's water supply would now be in the sewer. As it was the water ran for four hours before Hoyt could be summoned from his ranch to use his knowledge as water superintendent and locate a tap where the water could be turned off. It seems that the city charts of the water system are incomplete and when the accident occurred the new employees were puzzled where to find the cock that stopped the flow. Mr. Hoyt came at the request of the city and saved much trouble.

Death of Former Resident
Word has been received of the death of Joe Lafferty, a former resident of this locality. For many years he was employed at Hillgard and when the Spanish-American war broke out he went with the Oregon regiment to the Philippines. After leaving the service he became interested in mining in the Philippines and he remained in that country but made a trip back to this section four years ago. The mining enterprise was a dredging proposition which gave very profitable returns. The only surviving relative, so far as present information goes is a brother, Elyseas Lafferty, who remained from Hillgard several years ago to Hood River, where he now resides.
