A campaign was launched Tuesday night by the Albany, Lebanon and Seio Chambers of Commerce to authorize a $1,000,000 bond issue for road work in Linn county, at the June special election.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS
Mrs. John Riggs, of Pumpkin Ridge, is visiting friends in La Grande.
R. S. Yerxa, of Portland, arrived this morning on No. 6 for a brief visit with friends.
Mrs. Ray Sion is visiting with relatives and friends in Sumnerville and vicinity this week.
John D. Anderson, of the Maxwell Service Station, left last night on a brief business trip to Portland.
Many La Grande people are happy to see their friends Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Conrad now residents of this city.
Mrs. J. C. Niederer, who has been in Portland, returned a few days ago, feeling much better as a result of an operation.
B. C. Hamilton, proprietor of Hamilton's Garage, is a visitor in Portland this week. He took the train west yesterday.
Mrs. Murphy, of Hood River, who had been here visiting her sons, Drs. R. P. and L. L. Murphy, for a few days, left this morning to return to her home.
H. F. Stanfield, of Echo, was in La Grande yesterday, the purpose of his visit being to file an isolated tract application at the land office. Walter Helmick of Happoner, filed a similar application yesterday.
Fred Craft, a former O-W employee, returned to La Grande Wednesday night from the eastern states, where he had been in the service for several months past. He spent a large part of his time at Camp Meade, Md. He is visiting his father here.
Henry G. Proctor, who has been in the Marine Corps since the fall of 1917, arrived home this morning from the Philadelphia Navy Yard, where a few days ago he received his discharge. Since enlisting he had been at Mare Island, Calif., at Galveston, Texas, and at Philadelphia. He was in the school of naval aviation in Philadelphia, Pa., at the time the armistice was signed, and he was then placed on guard duty in the ship yards. It feels mighty nice to get back to the old town again, he says.
Chas. Watkins left on No. 6 this morning for Baker, where he will visit the four locals of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen. Mr. Watkins, who is the employees' organizer for the Four L's, had just returned yesterday from a trip over the southern part of the state of Idaho, and reports that Loyal Legion is rapidly gaining strength in the Boise and Payette districts, where there are large numbers of men employed in the lumber industry. He declares that officials of the organization confidently expect to see it 100 per cent strong within the next three or four months.

CONTINUED INTEREST IN FOUR L'S ORGANIZATION
A well attended meeting of the Loyal Legion of Loggers and Lumbermen was held last night at the Y. M. C. A., when several matters of importance were discussed. A draft of the by-laws for this newly established local were submitted and were adopted by the meeting. Letters read from the Wallowa and Esters local showed that excellent progress is being made at those places in swelling the membership of the Four L's.
Much interest in the La Grande local is being displayed by the men of the lumber mills and camps here, and arrangements have been made to hold meetings in the Odd Fellows Hall twice each month.

OREGON PIONEER DEAD
Word was received in La Grande yesterday of the death at San Diego, Calif., of Martin L. Olmstead, in his seventy-fifth year. Deceased had many old acquaintances here, but he was particularly well known in Baker, having lived there in the early '90's, when he was circuit judge for Grant, Baker, Union and Wallowa counties. Mrs. Olmstead and two sons, one of whom is in the service survive him. The late Mr. Olmstead was formerly post department commander for Oregon of the G. A. R.

DEATH OF L. I. DUNCAN
Telegraphic advices received here today from Portland announce the death in that city of Leroy J. Duncan, a young man well known among railway men here. He had worked with the O-W, until a couple of months ago. Deceased was a member of the Moose lodge.
