Miss Harriet Young, well known La Grande musician who is now located in Pendleton, writes the Observer that she has undertaken the presentation of Leopold Godowsky at the Oregon theatre in Pendleton on April 15th and asks all who delight in hearing the famous player to take advantage of the opportunity of visiting Pendleton on that date, regardless of the weather. The Pendleton Eastern Oregonian has the following to say:

A note of great interest is that Leopold Godowsky, who is to appear at the Oregon theatre a week from tonight is not only a great pianist but a noted composer as well. His remarkable talent asserted itself when he was only three years old and at seven he composed some pieces of much originality. He made his debut at nine years of age in his home town in Russian Poland and for three years toured Russia and Germany. At fourteen he toured America, later returning to France to study with Saint-Saens and after several years toured France and visited London, playing at Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee at Marlborough House in 1897, where the Princess of Wales accepted the dedication of his Valse Scherzo. Godowsky also has appeared in concerts and recitals throughout this country and Canada. He is placed among the greatest living pianists, even being declared by Dr. Bachmann and others as having the most wonderful technique of any. His repertoire is immense and his style broad and brilliant.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Arbutle received word by wire today from New York stating their daughter, Miss Nora, was wedded yesterday to V. H. Pabst, formerly of La Grande, who had just returned from overseas service in France. The bride is one of La Grande's own girls having been raised in this city and is well known and very popular with all. She holds the distinction of having been the first lady city treasurer of this city and when the war came on and the government was short of clerical and stenographic help she went to Washington, D. C., where she has worked faithfully in one of the governmental departments since. Mr. Pabst was a citizen here several years ago and was engaged in civil engineering. He is a student of Columbia University, of New York City and is an excellent young man in every way. Before enlisting in his country's service he was employed by the New York Interurban Traction company and upon his return from France he resumed his old position with that concern. La Grande people rejoice in the marriage of these young people and wish them the greatest happiness in their new home, which will be 161 Rhaca street, Elmhurst, L. I., New York, after a short honeymoon at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Charles E. Cochran presided at one of the smart early-week festivities on Tuesday, when she entertained at a luncheon at the Benson in compliment to her sister-in-law, Mrs. George T. Cochran of La Grande. Mrs. Cochran chose lavender sweet peas for the blossoms that adorned her table, and these fragrant blooms she had artistically arranged in a basket centering the board.

At each place were dainty printed place cards in lavender and pink coloring. Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock and in the afternoon Mrs. Cochran had a theatre party at the Orpheum for her guests. Those who shared the pleasures of the double social event were Mrs. George T. Cochran, Mrs. Gustav Bruere, Mrs. Ralph Robinson, Mrs. Edward Strong, Mrs. Louis Woerner, Mrs. O. L. Price, Mrs. J. B. Waters, Mrs. R. A. Stewart, Mrs. W. D. McWaters and the hostess, Mrs. George Cochran, who is the chairman of the Victory loan committee in Union county, came to Portland to attend the state conference and left for her home in La Grande on Wednesday. While here she was entertained at several attractive gatherings—Oregonian.

Mabel Douglas, who for some time was the popular piano organist at the Arcade theatre, has returned after a prolonged absence and will make this city her home in the future. She has opened a studio in the new Foley building in the room formerly occupied by the Red Cross shop and intends to devote her energies to musical instruction. Miss Douglas was a student at the Northwestern Conservatory of Music and the Minneapolis School of Music and is recognized as one of the high class instructors of the Pacific coast. Her work in La Grande as piano organist recommends her to every home and undoubtedly she will meet with excellent success in her venture. The social circles of La Grande are delighted with the return of this young lady and general rejoicing among musical people is being experienced.

One of the most important of the week's social affairs was a charming dinner given by members of the P. E. O. Sisterhood last evening at the Foley in honor of the visit of Mrs. Mabel Setlemier, Grand Worthy Matron of the order of the Eastern Star, and a member also of the P. E. O. Mrs. Setlemier is spending the week-end visiting friends in the city, following a series of visits to members of the O. E. S. at various points in this part of the state, which included a visit to local chapter last night. Covers were laid for sixteen at the dinner. A color scheme of yellow and white was employed in the decorations. Those present were Mrs. Mabel Setlemier, Mrs. E. E. Kiddle, Mrs. F. W. Whitling, Dr. Dora Wade, Mrs. Vincent Palmer, Mrs. Wm. Wade, Mrs. J. K. Wright, Miss Ethel Wright, Mrs. H. H. Hus, Mrs. Lee Warnick, Mrs. G. G. Currey, Mrs. L. B. Moe, Mrs. Fred Currey, Mrs. H. S. Brown, Mrs. F. G. Schilke and Mrs. Albert Hunter.

One of the pleasing social affairs of the past week was a party complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Prince, held at the home of Dr. Margaret Ingie by the teachers of the Central school. The party was in the nature of a farewell for Mr. Prince, who at the end of his present school term is leaving his position as principal of the Central school. The evening was very pleasantly spent, a program of music and games being carried out, and Mr. Prince was made the recipient of a handsome club bag, the gift of the teachers in his school. Appropriate remarks accompanied the presentation, revealing the high esteem in which Mr. Prince has come to be held by his associates by reason of the fine work he has done during the years he has been in La Grande, and though the evening passed merrily, it was apparent that there is genuine regret felt by the teachers of Central and of the other city schools over the loss which the school and the staff will soon sustain. Those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hampton, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Prince, Dr. Margaret Ingie, Mrs. Stella Ingie, Mrs. McEachern, Mrs. Folkerson, Miss Susan Deal, Miss Mary Kirkwood, Miss Lela Bloom, Nell Mahaffey, Miss Genevieve McLarsen, Miss Mollie Metty, Miss Hulda Anderson, Miss Lena Foster, Miss Mollie Snider, Miss Blanch Clarke and Miss Jane Jones.

The regular monthly social meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church met with Mrs. S. C. Smith, 1702 1-2 Washington avenue, on Wednesday forenoon, April 9th. During the devotional exercises Rev. N. Sherman Hawk sang a beautiful solo, "Shall the Circle be Unbroken," which was appreciated by all. Mrs. R. W. Leighton, chairman of the entertainment committee had arranged before hand to have fifteen pictures pinned up at different places in the room, representing that many business firms or goods advertised in the Evening Observer, the one guessing correctly the largest number of firms or goods represented received a prize. Mrs. J. K. Switzer was the best guesser. After the contest a dainty luncheon was served. All present greatly enjoyed the afternoon's program.

The Walla Walla Union of recent date contains the following: "An enjoyable party was given by Miss Harriet White at her home, 815 W. Main, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Ben Miller of La Grande, Ore. The evening was spent in dancing and cards. Recitations and solos were given by the guests, Miss Junnita White giving an exhibition of her latest fancy dancing. A four-course luncheon was served. Decorations were in green and white. The guests present were: Mrs. Miller, Misses Velma and Helen Keiser, Mildred Bickerson, Julia Williams, Junnita and Pearl White, Messrs. Kenneth Williams, Glenn Bean, Jack Lonan, Ned Vanderpool, Paul Williams and Theodore Lonan. The hostess was assisted by Miss Julia Williams."

The members of the Parkdale club were most pleasantly entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. S. Carroll in May Park. Mrs. Carroll was assisted by Mrs. C. C. Coolidge. A literary and musical program of unusual merit and enjoyment was presented and the remainder of the time was occupied in a social way, including participation in a satisfying course of refreshments. There was a large attendance of the membership. The next meeting of the club will be two weeks hence at the home of Mrs. Eckley, who will be assisted in the entertainment by Mrs. George Ryanson.

The Retail Clerks' Union is to give another of their popular evening entertainments on April 25th at Rex hall. The evening will be devoted to dancing and social features and the committee in charge assures everyone that repetition of the recent successful event is guaranteed. The Clerks' union is fast becoming one of the organizations of the city that is important in the social life of La Grande. So successfully has all of their undertakings been that now announcements from their committee is a guarantee of a good time.

Mrs. Parker's class of girls of the Christian church Sunday school held their class dinner Monday evening, April 7th, at the home of Mrs. Grace McAllister, 1104 M street. ADVERTISING VICTORY LOAN

PUBLICITY BLANKET TO SPREAD OVER THE STATE.

Portland Man Will Contribute $5000 in an Appeal to the Patriotism of Oregon.

A Victory loan advertising blanket will be spread over all Oregon. W. S. Kiepatrick, manager of the advertising bureau, has received information that J. L. Etheridge, president of Morris Brothers, Inc., Portland, in aid of the Victory loan has contributed to the advertising fund sufficient for one of the most distinctive publicity efforts ever made in any state in aid of the government. It will be launched just preceding the drive in Oregon. Every daily and weekly newspaper in Oregon will receive for simultaneous publication an advertisement almost a full page in size. This will mean 150 advertisements, 100 column inches each, or 15,000 inches of advertising at a cost of $5,000. It is Mr. Etheridge's idea to make this appeal not only from a patriotic standpoint, but for the purpose of acquainting Oregon people with the true worth of a government bond as safe, sane, and profitable investment. The publication date selected is April 17th.

The contribution is expected to serve not alone in carrying Oregon "over the top" but as a stimulus to the advertising fund campaign in each community of the state.
