WORLD WIDE MOVE ON BOLSHEVISM

Organized Forces of Civilization Must Be Set Up as a Bulwark Against the Great Menace.

PARIS, March 14.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A world-wide campaign of civilization against Bolshevism is earnestly advocated by the former Grand Duke, Alexander Michaelovitch, brother-in-law of the former Emperor Nicholas of Russia, who is in Paris, he says, to tell the truth about Russia. The former grand duke, who was for a time kept prisoner in Crimea by the Bolsheviks, urges that representatives of neutral nations should be invited to attend the peace conference to decide upon the means of fighting "the danger threatening the stability of the universe."

To a correspondent of the Associated Press, the former grand duke said: "Bolshevism is an evil force which attacks the world, ruins civilization, culture and all the moral laws. The present chaos and suffering in Russia is today a striking and living illustration of what may be in store for any country which permits Bolshevism and the lawless principles for which it stands to obtain a foothold within its borders. To everybody it is clear that the world must use all means to stop the spread of this poisonous disease. It is the sacred right of the peoples of each and every country to be warned and defended by their governments. They must not be led astray by false promises, which lawlessness and disorder can never fulfill."

"The organized forces of established order must be set up as a bulwark, utilized as an instrument against the tyranny of the formidable forces of disruption and anarchy. The answer to Bolshevism is a firm and decided stand against it. In order, however, to achieve success combined and coordinated action on the part of civilized nations is essential. "The present offers an exceptionally favorable opportunity for initiating and organizing this campaign. Now assembled in Paris are the representative statesmen of the world. Their mission is to establish a lasting peace. But such a peace, no matter how recently and universally desired, is impossible of attainment so long as the moral and social, the industrial and political fabrics of all civilized countries are threatened with upheaval, overthrow and destruction by the volcanic forces of Bolshevism. To blind ourselves to this fact would be criminal folly. "Advantage should be taken of the presence of the peace conference for the express purpose of reviewing the danger threatening the stability of the universe, of probing the difficulties it presents, and of deciding upon the best means to adopt to avert the threatened catastrophe. Certain tentative decisions have, I believe, already been arrived at by the great powers in regard to their policy for counter-acting the work and influence of Bolshevik propagandists in their respective states. But the Bolshevik peril is not local or national or even continental; it is world-wide in its scope and menace. Frontiers offer no bulwark to its advance, oceans do not hinder its expansion. "Neutrals as well as belligerents should, therefore, be invited to attend the peace conference for the discussion of this vital question, which has far more bearing on the question of world peace than any subjects of indemnity and colonization now being discussed. In particular, I would emphasize the importance of labor and socialist organizations being represented. It is of vital moment that the voices of labor and socialism should be heard at

Bust From Roosevelt Death Mask

James E. Fraser, the noted New York sculptor, is making a bust of the late President Roosevelt from the death mask taken of the former president. Fraser was a close personal friend of "Teddy's," and the bust is being produced from the mask at the request of the family. Fraser is best known as the designer of the "Seattle" and his statue—"The end of the Trail."

this critical time. It is of vital moment also that socialists especially should realize that Bolshevism means the undermining and overthrow of democratic principles and ideals just as it assuredly means the destruction of the fundamentals of moral, social and industrial organization. "I strenuously urge all civilized nations to combine in resistance and repudiation of Bolshevism. No half-way measures will suffice. Any idea that this new peril and the ideas which it represents may be tolerated, is absolutely fallacious and is today leading civilization to disaster. Bolshevists, wherever found, should be declared outlaws and treated as such. All the anti-Bolshevik organizations, which are formed in different countries, must have full moral and material support of the respective governments. "But if, concurrently with the adoption of sternly repressive measures in all civilized countries, an anti-Bolshevik campaign were inaugurated in Russia, the moral and material effect would, I believe, be tremendous. It would inspire the terrorized population of Russia, already incensed against Bolshevism, with fresh hope and courage and incentive to renewed effort to destroy Bolshevism. "Of course, Russia is the acknowledged center of the Bolshevik propaganda. But rest assured that the Bolsheviks have taken good care to keep a careful eye on the press and all means of attempting any counter-propaganda in the territory which they now hold. But, if branded as outlaws and their government repudiated, they will be cut off from any outside aid or consolation and their aspirations to the overthrow of civilization would be laid in ruins. At the same time the districts of order and their people who are fighting for liberty would receive tremendous moral courage and their faith in the eventual overthrow of their tyrants would be renewed. "Immediate action is necessary. All classes in every civilized community are in grave peril from the spread of this infection of virulent disorder. It has extended beyond Russia into Germany and is even manifesting itself in Great Britain, the United States and other more distant countries. "I would, therefore, repeat with emphasis the warning uttered by one of the world's statesmen, who declared that "no time is to be lost if we are to save the world from the despotism of anarchy as we saved it from the despotism of autocracy."

BETTER THAN CALOMEL
 Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.
 Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong Epsom or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So dangerous liquids, it is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place. "I have used Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets and they have cured my liver, and I feel better than I have in a long time."—Mrs. J. W. Smith, 1234 N. 1st St., St. Paul, Minn. "I have used Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel 'lumpy' and 'heavy.' Note how they 'clear' the liver and how they 'bring' the bowels back to normal."—Mrs. J. W. Smith, 1234 N. 1st St., St. Paul, Minn.

MEMORIAL FOR BELGIAN CIVILIANS

BRUSSELS.—(By Mail)—It is planned to hold a combined memorial service for the numerous civilians, men, women and children, who, in no less dramatic circumstances than 1914, were shot by the Germans in Belgium, during the occupation.

It is intended to arrange a huge funeral procession of carriages, each representing a town or village where civilians were massacred. The carriages will be covered with the Belgian flag, and escorted by the defenders of the Year, and each will be preceded by a list of the names of the victims. At the same time the bodies of the most prominent among the dead will be transferred to special mausoleum on the Place des Martyrs, where the victims of the revolution of 1830-31 lie.

SOLDIERS RETURN TO FARMS
 DEPARTMENT REPORTS SHOW Representatives at Demobilization Camps Help Veterans to Find Jobs and Assist Farmers

That large numbers of returning soldiers and sailors are seeking work on farms is the statement made by Assistant Secretary G. I. Christie, representative of the United States Department of Agriculture on the Council of the Emergency Committee on Employment for Soldiers and Sailors, before the first meeting of the council, March 17. He told how department representatives in the demobilization camps are aiding returning soldiers and sailors to find jobs.

The creation of the emergency committee was made necessary because the United States Employment Service, lacking funds, was forced to curtail its machinery to about 15 per cent of normal and close most of its branch offices. To meet the need, and with the concurrence of the secretaries of war and labor, Governor B. Clarkson, Director of the Council of Defense, appointed a committee under the chairmanship of Col. Arthur Woods, formerly police commissioner assistant to the secretary of war.

The Emergency Committee
 Other members of the committee are: Franklin D. Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy; E. N. Hurley, chairman of the United States Shipping Board; Nathan D. Smyth, Department of Labor; G. I. Christie, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture; B. S. Butler, Chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce; Matthew Wolf, American Federation of Labor; Elliot Goodwin, general secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; S. P. Bush, Industrial Board of the Department of Commerce; culture for city life. Reports from farm-help specialists, county agents, and other agricultural people indicate that the large majority of men who came from the farms and who are given any reasonable opportunity are again taking up this work. It is found, too, that the large body of men who left the farms to take up war work in connection with the building of cantonments, war industries, etc., are returning to the farms in large numbers.

"Farmers are offering good wages, in many cases a partnership in the farm business, and are building suitable houses and supplying better living conditions. All of this is appealing to men who have experienced hardships in the city as a result of poor living conditions, high cost of living, and other unusual expenses. "For a number of years farmers have been short of labor. Much work has been allowed to go undone. There is now an opportunity for farmers to get a supply of labor which can be used in plowing, draining, building fences, clearing lands, repairing buildings and in other ways making improvements and placing the farm in the condition in which they wish to see it."

DETAILED FREIGHT TRAIN HOLDS PASSENGERS UP
 Train No. 6, from Portland, was nearly three hours late in reaching La Grande today, due to having been held up by a derailed freight car at Dunsmuir, on the other side of the mountain. A wheel breaking on one car in the freight train this morning put the car off the track and caused some of the track to be torn up at a point about one mile east of Dunsmuir. No. 17, going west this morning, was also held up by the accident. The track was not cleared until early this afternoon.
