NEW SERIALS OPENS WITH SLASHING FIGHT

Excitement Right On the Red Is Offered in Initial Episode of "Man of Might."

It happens in the first episode of "The Man of Might." No Vitaphone serial could open without it—a fight between William Duncan and Joe Ryan, a fight such as thrilled millions who saw "The Fighting Trail" and "A Fight for Millions," a smashing test of brute strength and endurance between two of the screen's most powerful and reckless favorites.

When Bill and Joe start to fight before the camera, everybody else in the studio is right there.

"Go to it," says Director Bill.

"Come on," says Red-Man Joe.

Ringside seats at $5 per would be cheap to see what happens then. In this particular fight, Duncan wins the first round and Ryan is leading in the second, thanks to repeated flogging (with a pistol), when the sheriff calls time.

All this is one of several smashing, big scenes in the opener of this serial, which will be seen in the Sherry theatre today and tomorrow. Edith Johnson is the heroine and the authors are Albert E. Smith, president of Vitaphone, and Cyrus Townsend Brady.

BARRYMORE IS IDEALLY CAST IN FILM COMEDY

Star Has Humorous Role in "Are You a Mason?"

John Barrymore could not be more ideally cast than in the stellar role of the film production of the sensational successful farce, "Are You a Mason?" by Leo Ditrichstein, which will be displayed at the Arcade theatre tomorrow and Thursday.

Two scaperness, father-in-law and semi-law have hit upon the device of pretending to be Free Masons so as to be able to plead lodge meetings as an excuse for spending their evenings away from home. There is genuine fun in the relationship of these two mock Masons, each of whom fears detection by the other, and the domestic and comic complications caused by their indiscriminate and inartisticly provide a fund of humor rarely evidenced in stage or screen comedies.

Mr. Barrymore, as the young bogus Mason, makes the most of the many humorous incidents. Others in the cast include Ida Waterman, Charles Dickson and Helen Freeman.

In addition to this big comedy feature and a two-reel Sunshine comedy, another big feature has been added for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

Miss Florence Lynch of this city has been engaged to sing at both evening performances on the above-named evenings the big song hit, "Mickey."

"Mickey" has proven to be a big favorite of the new songs in Seattle and Portland, and no doubt the same will hold true here in La Grande after the picture fans have heard Miss Lynch's beautiful voice sing this popular number.

LOCKWOOD AT HIS BEST IN "PALS FIRST"

Distinguished Star Does the Most Brilliant Work of His Career in New Picture.

Harold Lockwood has the most congenial role of his brilliant career as Danny Rowland in "Pals First," a six-act Screen Classics, Inc. production, distributed by Metro, at the Sherry theatre today and tomorrow.

As Danny Rowland, a thief, a pick-pocket, a safe-cracker owing two years to San Quentin prison, who finds refuge with his pal, Dominic, in a Winifred hall, when he is believed to be the long absent master of the house, Dick Castleman, only to be exposed by his pal when Dominic hears of his engagement to Dick's sweetheart, Jean Logan, obliging him to reveal himself as the real Dick Castleman and to explain that his deception was practiced for the purpose of bringing back the lost soul of his pal.

Harold Lockwood has a most colorful role in a picture which it is believed will be numbered among the most successful vehicles he has ever had.

AT ARCADE "MICKY"

The much-talked-about and long-looked-for film production, "Mickey," is at least announced for a idea showing. It will be seen at the Arcade theatre next Saturday and Sunday.

Unlimited in time and money Mark Sennett has stopped at nothing to make this seven-reel comedy which stars Mabel Normand, a super-picture, "Mickey" is a blending of every human emotion, with the element of surprise ever in view. There are not rare scenes between train and motors, outlying "chases" on horseback, an eye-filling ballroom scene, and everything else that is known to filmdom. Mickey (Mabel Normand) is a horrid-segment little tomboy whose mischievous pranks are always getting her into trouble. Mickey has her share of romance and adventure too, and in addition performs breath-taking stunts that thrill.

CONCERNING THE ENEMY ALIENS

BERLIN, March 13. (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Belated announcement of America's action last December in abolishing restrictions upon movements of enemy aliens in the United States, is published prominently in the morning papers. The delay is understood to be due to the fact that the German government has only just been informed of the action. While the news, according to a semi-official announcement, now is published to reassure relatives and friends of Germans in America, it undoubtedly is intended to contribute to the very general feeling among the German people that the United States is treating the conquered enemy as fairly and considerately as possible. It also is likely to increase the realization even among classes of which Count Reventlow is an exponent that Germany must rely upon the services of America as an advocate to obtain what she considers just and reasonable terms of peace and eventual restoration to a place in the family of nations.

Germans of all classes constantly comment upon the courteous and considerate behavior of officers and soldiers of the American army of occupation. Writing personal letters and communications from the American zone of occupation, they never fail to emphasize this. Though disappointed at the delay in sending food and the amount of it eventually granted, the American soldier or civilian in Germany everywhere is received as an honored guest. The hatred and abuse which was vented upon Americans before America's entry into the war has been replaced by an almost officious, super-friendliness.

The correspondent of the Tagesspiegel who has just visited Coblenz and the American zone comments on the "rigorous discipline" imposed upon American officers and soldiers to obtain the possibility of annoyance to women and to the civil population and upon absence of chauvinism, theatrical displays of triumph or unnecessary interference with the German civil authorities.

The correspondent's chief criticism of the Americans is based upon the strictness with which orders are enforced against the exchange of gifts food or cigarettes between American and Germans. He says that twenty-three of the sixty-six sentences imposed upon Germans by the American court in Coblenz in January were for "unauthorized possession of American property," arising from the enforcement of this order. He tells of the case of one American officer who was cashiered "merely for putting his arm around a waitress in a cafe."

GREAT WELSH LECTURER COMING

Nephew of David Lloyd George to Be Here Soon in Lyceum.

Arthur Walsyn Evans, nephew of David Lloyd George, son of the great Welsh revivalist, will be here soon on the Lyceum course and his lecture will be one of the longest remembered events of the season. He is undoubtedly one of the most brilliant men who have come upon the American platform in the last decade.

HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

April 17th; 8:15 P. M.

Single admission 50c

Dr. Lincoln McConnell, who speaks on the Lyceum course in the high school auditorium the evening of Saturday, April 19, is a southern evangelist who has made an international reputation through his ability to speak forcefully and interestingly. "Dead Lions," the lecture he will give in La Grande, is humorous, philosophical, and practical. It has been called the "Lyceum Classic." Dr. McConnell has given this lecture over 2000 times, and everywhere it has met with enthusiastic response and approval. Dr. McConnell has been a prime favorite in the cantonments since the beginning of the war, where his red-blooded addresses have thrilled the American boys who were preparing for the fight for democracy being waged on the soil of France.

Dr. McConnell has two sons now serving under Pershing. To hear him is to get new inspiration for the big tasks ahead of us.
