LOCAL HAPPENINGS

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Chapman, of Enterprise, were La Grande visitors over Sunday.

Wm. P. White, of Walla Walla, came in Saturday night and remained in the city over yesterday.

Dr. G. H. Stonebrinker and daughter, of Dayton, Ore., were among the Sunday visitors in this city.

E. C. Keckritz, who had been visiting at Walla Walla for a few days last week, stopped in La Grande over Sunday on his way home to Union.

Mrs. George W. Marshall, of Imbler, was operated on at the Hot Lake hospital Saturday and is reported to be doing as well as could be expected.

Harry Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lamar Carter of this city, arrived home a couple of days ago after ten months of overseas service with the A. E. F. He was with the 91st division in the battle of the Argonne and later was at Ypres in Belgium.

J. H. Keeney returned this morning from Portland, where he had been a visitor over the week-end.

Traveling Auditor Allen, of the O. W. head offices, Portland, arrived in town this morning on one of his periodical visits to the offices here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Russell went to Baker on No. 6 this morning. Mr. Russell to attend to business matters and his wife to visit her daughter, Mrs. E. W. Cox, of that city.

Wm. Peare left yesterday morning for Portland, to attend a meeting of the State Board of Optometrists. Mr. Peare is secretary of the board.

Merton Kiddle and wife left last night for Chicago and other points east. Mr. Kiddle will look into the flour situation while in the east. They will be gone about a month and will return home by way of San Francisco.

Lamar Carter, who was struck by passenger train No. 6 a few days ago at Thorne Hollow, is reported today to be getting along excellently, considering the nature of his injuries. The arrival of his son, Harry, home from overseas did much to improve his condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Del Maryand and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Deslot, of Cleiquet, Minn., who had been visiting at the Norman Deslot home in this city for a few days, left yesterday for Portland. The visitors are looking for a location in the west and may return to La Grande again, if they do not like Portland better. They were among the many Minnesotans who lost all their possessions in the disastrous forest fires which swept the Duluth district last summer.

Leonard Fuller entertained the members of the Lone Scouts and the Observer carrier force at a theatre party Saturday evening. The occasion being his twelfth birthday. In addition to minor presents the boys presented Leonard with a fine base ball bat which he says is "sure some slugger." After an evening spent at the theatre, games and ice creams the boys returned home wishing him many happy returns. Those present were George Meats, Arthur French, Merlin Mason, Jesse George, Gene Colner, Carlence Grant, Leslie Harlan, Howard Kerr, Dallas Jacobson, Lawrence Kerr, Leonard Strong, Owen Price, Wesley Williams and Leonard Fuller.

ENLIST AID OF LADYBUGS
Washington Orchardists Will Use Five Million to Insure Fruit Crop.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., April 28.—The services of 5,000,000 patriotic ladybugs have been enlisted to insure a bumper fruit crop in Washington state this year.

The bugs were collected in the mountains last fall. They have been kept in cold storage, and are to be liberated in the Yakima, Wenatchee and Clarkston fruit districts. The bugs kill off the aphid, the worst fruit pest which farmers and horticulturists have to combat.

NAZIMOVA'S 'EYE FOR EYE' EXCELS 'REVELATION'

"Eye for Eye," which will be shown at the Arcade theatre today and tomorrow, and in which Nazimova was seen in the leading role of Hassouna, has created new and greater heights in the annals of the silent drama.

Hassouna, a young and very beautiful Arabian girl, lives in the sequestered city of her tribe in the desert. Here comes Captain Cadore, an officer of the French navy in pursuit of his duty. In a religious frenzy the tribe capture and make him prisoner, intending to kill him at dawn. Hassouna has seen the handsome young Frenchman and falls in love with him. By strategy she effects his release and escape and then confesses her deed to her father. The tribe is enraged at her act and condemn her to death—choosing to abandon her in the desert where she will perish from thirst. She is rescued by another tribe who take her to the city of Tangiers and sell her as a dancing girl to a travelling circus.

After many hardships and much ill-usage at the hands of the brutal manager of the circus she is rescued and taken to the home of the man she aided in the desert. In scenes which occur during this period of the thrilling drama Nazimova is superb in the utter abandon of her art—she becomes the passionate, fiery young child of the desert who does not know the meaning of the word restraint.

In the scenes in which she does the dance of the Veils she holds the audience in the palm of her hand—not a sound to break the rapt attention with which her work is received. It is a picture which arrests the attention and expands the imagination—transporting the beholder to the heart of things Oriental and mysterious and telling a story of intrigue and passion, which is not to be surpassed.

The play was taken from "L'Occident," a successful drama by Henri Kistemacker, the Belgian dramatist, and adapted for the screen by Juno Mathis and Albert Capellani. The direction was the work of Mr. Capellani under the personal supervision of Maxwell Karger.

THE RAINBOW TRAIL AT SHERRY'S

William Farnum, starring in "The Rainbow Trail," is the stellar attraction at the Sherry theatre today. This film is replete with tense and thrilling situations and proves that Farnum is easily the greatest delineator of Western types now playing before the camera.

The story is a sequel to "Riders of the Purple Sage," but those who did not see that picture will in no way be at a loss in viewing "The Rainbow Trail," as the incidents in the latter production are all in a separate form.

Mr. Farnum is again seen as Lassiter, the feared rider of the range and the terror of the Utah border. In deed, this sterling player portrays two roles in "The Rainbow Trail," that of Lassiter and of Sheffort, who searches the mountains for the girl he loves. Last times today.

If I Were a Farmer
If I were a farmer I would keep at hand a few reliable medicines for minor ailments that are not so serious as to require the attention of a physician, such as Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for coughs, colds and croup. Chamberlain's Liniment for sprains, bruises and rheumatic pains. Chamberlain's Tablets for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation. By having these articles at hand it would often save the trouble of a trip to town in the busiest season or in the night, and would enable me to appear, and thereby avoid the more treat slight ailments as soon as they serious diseases that so often follow.—Adv.

Any one owing the La Grande Pharmacy will please call and settle their account at once, either by paying cash or giving note. We have discontinued credit business and must close all accounts. All accounts not settled at once will be placed with collection agency. 4-24-19 La Grande Pharmacy.

Taking the Guesswork Out of Business

OTHER INVESTMENTS MAY LURE BUT BUILD THAT HOME FIRST

The building of a home is the first investment a family should make—first, because it is used every minute of the day and every day of the year, because it is "home."

The purchase of a home may be rated as the best investment a family can make, best because it is of stable value; it does not pass out of style with the changing seasons; it does not lose its charm with continual use.

Building without plans and careless designing are the big items of expense. Select a plan designed by an architect—it will cost no more than a home in which the modern conveniences are missing. It may be a modest cottage or bungalow, it may be a model of architectural beauty, but unless it has the many new built-in features it is not up to what is now considered modern.

Our Catalog—A Magnificent Volume of 400 Modern, Moderate-Priced, Step-Saving, Convenient Homes, Barns, Silos, Grain Bins, Hog and Poultry Houses and other buildings. Every design is the work of an expert. There are no dark corners and all matters pertaining to sanitation and ventilation are perfect.

We have listed for every one of the designs all the necessary lumber, millwork, built-in features, hardware, paint, number of days labor, etc., making it possible for you to build for a definite sum of money, without waste, and every modern built-in feature included.
