LA GRANDE CANYON WOMEN ENJOY HAPPY DAYS

LA GRANDE CANYON, April 26.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Titus of Tulelake are the proud parents of a baby boy born Friday morning, April 25. Mrs. Titus was formerly Miss Martha Miller of this neighborhood. Everyone is real busy farming these nice spring days.

Miss Minnie Drumsnik, who is employed at Hot Lake, entertained a party of young folks of the same place at dinner Easter.

There is small wonder that Mrs. Mary I. Council is a happy person these days. Her daughter, Miss Louisa, returned from the Open Air San, in Portland, about ten days ago, greatly improved in health and then she received word that a little girl, Ivy Catherine, had arrived at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Katie Watson, April 8, at Acampo, Cal.

Gloria Krouse is able to be back in school again. She broke her arm at the elbow some time ago.

Mrs. Neil McClure entertained quite a number of the Get-together club members at her home Thursday afternoon. A dainty lunch refreshed the guests before the time for leave taking.

Let us all show our appreciation of what the Union County boys have done for us by being present in La Grande when the Union County Army and Navy Auxiliary leaders a reception for returned soldiers upon the day the hospital unit stops off in La Grande on their way to Camp Lewis. 4-28-19

Two weeks ago they Wynn purchased 1120 acres of wheat land near Pendleton for $24,000 and sold it Friday to C. S. Wilkes for $95,000.

IDEAS ABOUT AGE ARE WRONG

Writer Complains That World Thinkers of All Men As if They Were Young.

It is the fashion nowadays to speak of a youth of eighteen as if he were a child, and of a man of thirty-five as if he were yet growing. The ancients had no such ideas, and it has taken the lack of seriousness of the past three or four generations to spend them as they are. I often remember with pleasure a reference of Guy Patin—the charming literary physician of the seventeenth century—to a M. Lenglet, a man of twenty-six, professor of rhetoric at the College d'Harcourt, rector of the Paris university. Guy Patin says a man of twenty-six, as he might have said a man of forty-six; there is not the least intention of contrasting this man's years with his high position. William Pitt was not supposed either to be a crude youth, and the French revolutionists—most of them men between twenty-five and thirty-five—were never taxed with immaturity.

We think of all men who are not elderly as if they were young men, liable to the mistakes of young men, and this not infrequently leads them to act as if they really were very young men. But most lads of seventeen are clear about their ethical code, and who is there who has gathered some experience, and has not found that the possibility of foregoing the cleanliness of their souls is more unpleasant to them than to most of their seniors?—Ernest Dimmet, in Atlantic Monthly.

Stilwell's Meat Dep't

SOME OF THE MANY EVILS OF THE CREDIT SYSTEM. The first and largest probably is the fact that it costs you more (no argument necessary) to purchase the necessities and near necessities of life if you have it charged. For cash you would have received a larger quantity (of like quality) for the same amount of money and many of the near necessities you wouldn't have purchased at all. Did it ever occur to you that running bills is bad for your health? Fact! That person who really intends to pay his bills worries more or less (mostly more) about them and worry is one of the greatest of health breakers. That credit merchant who fails to add a substantial per cent to his selling price to cover loss on bad accounts, bookkeeping expense and interest on the money tied up on his books will surely fail. If he does add that per cent who pays it? None other than you who worried over those bills, but paid them. The merchant didn't even pay for the goods he had charged; let alone the service, and you paid more for those necessities because the other credit customer failed to pay. In other words you paid for a service that did you no good—a service that was a detriment to you, in fact.

The Moral Is Plain
PAY CASH
Conserve your Health; Conserve Your Dollars and conserve what you conserve for that rainy day which will surely come. For cash we sell quality meat for less.
