When the Wedding is Simple

It, because these are war-times, or for other reasons, the bride makes up her mind to have only a simple wedding. Her first step to that end will be the ordering of a simple wedding gown.

The bride can forego staidness with a good grace when she recalls all the shimmering and airy fabrics that may be chosen to make a wedding gown of whatever degree of formality.

The simplest of wedding gowns is provided on the finished bride who chooses it as the illustration above. It is simple, practical and the bottom of the skirt with a wide band of white erge material.

Man Has Much to Learn

Man thinks he is a smart fellow now. And so he is, but it must be somewhat of a bump to his pride when he considers how long it took him to learn the few things that he knows.

For it is really only a few things that man yet knows compared to the things that surround him. He is ignorant of both the kingdoms of the earth and the birds, that he can indicate the outer waters of the sea and the inner winds of the air, but these are probably small achievements in view of that which it is possible for him to achieve in the future. Los Angeles Times.

Lack of Training

Katherine's parents are trying to teach her politeness, although she is only four years old. As a result she watches opportunities to use "Please me" and "Thank you." The other day she watched another girl reach her year-old brother. "Thank you, brother," Katherine greeted expectantly but in vain. Finally she could stand it no longer. "Mother," she said, indignantly, "I wish I could be sense enough to say 'Thank you!'"

In fact, he is No. 4 in division No. 2, and it appears that Atlanta is about to lose Mr. Papankolopetous. WANTED

Clean Cotton Rags Suitable to Wipe Machinery, 2 cents a pound. La Grande Evening Observer

Orange blossoms appear in a little cluster at the waist and in still smaller sprays where the veil is knotted at each side. Instead of a bouquet, the youthful bride carries a white prayer book having markers of narrow white moire ribbon with loops and knots that hold small sprays of orange blossoms. This and the arrangement of the veil are little innovations that add a new interest to the always interesting wedding dress. It almost goes without saying that the slippers are of plain white satin and the stockings of silk.

Taking the Guesswork Out of Business

OTHER INVESTMENTS MAY LURE BUT BUILD THAT HOME FIRST

The building of a home is the first investment a family should make—first, because it is used every minute of the day and every day of the year, because it is "home." The purchase of a home may be rated as the best investment a family can make, least because it is of stable value; it does not pass out of style with the changing seasons; it does not lose its charm with continual use. Building without plans and careless designing are the big items of expense. Select a plan designed by an architect—it will cost no more than a home in which the modern conveniences are missing. It may be a modest cottage or bungalow, it may be a model of architectural beauty; but unless it has the many new built-in features it is not up to what is now considered modern. Our Catalog—A Magnificent Volume of 400 Modern, Moderate-Priced, Step-Saving, Convenient Homes, Barns, Silos, Grain Bins, Hog and Poultry Houses and other buildings. Every design is the work of an expert. There are no dark corners and all matters pertaining to sanitation and ventilation are perfect. We have listed for every one of the designs all the necessary lumber, millwork, built-in features, hardware, paint, number of days labor, etc., making it possible for you to build for a definite sum of money, without waste, and every modern built-in feature included.

WE ARE EXCLUSIVE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE NATIONAL BUILDERS BUREAU READ THEIR ADS IN THIS MONTH'S ISSUE OF THE DELINEATOR, THE WOMAN'S MAGAZINE AND THE DESIGNER.
