BUILDING UP OUTSIDE BAKERY BUSINESS FAST

The Dutli Bakery in this city is paying a great deal of attention of late to outside business and the manager is building up a large bread trade up and down the line. So much has trade increased that Mr. Dutli admits he is almost swamped with work. "I have always believed in working about all a man can," said Mr. Dutli today, "but the heavy increase in business of late is making us all work a little more than we had figured upon."

A larger force will be employed as soon as the men can be obtained and the Dutli bakery expects to be the heavy producer of bread in the inland Empire country.

Is New City Treasurer
Mrs. Ward Fowler has been the city treasurer since Thursday, May 1st, succeeding Mrs. Agnes Rusk, who tendered her resignation a short time ago. Mrs. Fowler was formerly in the office of Sheriff Warlick, at the court house.

W. B. Sargent Improving
News from the Grande Ronde Hospital last evening regarding the condition of Mr. W. B. Sargent, well known local lawyer and member of the La Grande Investment Company, was somewhat more encouraging. Friends are hoping to see him soon take a complete rally and be around amongst them again.

Ladies' Aid Meeting
The Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. W. H. Hohnenkamp, Wednesday afternoon, May 7th. The envelopes, which were given to the ladies of the church for the Lenten sacrifice, will be collected and opened at this meeting. Come and bring your envelope if you can; if not send it with some one.

Leaves for California
F. R. Borden, after inspecting his wheat lands in the Grande Ronde valley, left last night for Los Angeles where he goes to attend a birthday party for his mother and the mother of Mrs. Bridges, who are each seventy-four years of age and in excellent health. He will return in July accompanied by Mrs. Bridges.

Visitor From Elgin
A. H. Parsons, owner of one of the largest and best appointed farms in the Elgin neighborhood, made a hurried trip to La Grande yesterday. Mr. Parsons says that the crop conditions seem to be promising, but everyone is looking for a little rise in the temperature to make things look better.

Geo. Carpy in the City
Geo. Carpy, a former La Grande who is now receiver of the United States Land office at Lewistown, Mont., arrived in La Grande Friday evening, to spend a few days here with his wife. Mr. Carpy came Friday with the expectation that the hospital unit, with which his son has been serving overseas, would arrive in a couple of days.

Steam Car in Town
A. J. Murray, of Baker, agent for Eastern Oregon for the Stanley Steamer, was in town for a couple of days during the week, demonstrating his car. He was accompanied by his son Arthur and went out Friday to Walla Walla county points. The steamer attracted a great deal of attention while in town, its performance on hills especially calling forth praise. Mr. Murray has placed the La Grande agency for the car with the Galloway-Rees Company.

Death of "Pleas" Brown
P. J. Brown, known throughout Eastern Oregon as "Pleas" Brown, died at his home in Baker Friday night. He was a resident of Union county before the "panhandle" section was annexed to Baker. He served a term as county commissioner of this county, but declined a second term. He was widely known as a successful stock man and energetic citizen. He was 65 years of age and is survived by three daughters and two sons, who are residents of Baker.

Former Resident a Visitor
John Gavin, a former resident of La Grande, arrived from Portland yesterday and will remain a few days on a visit with friends and to look after some property interests which he still retains as here. Mr. Gavin was one of the early settlers in Starkey and later lived in La Grande and then removed to Portland where other members of the family are now located. His son, Willie Gavin, has been in the navy service but is now first mate on a marine vessel and when last heard from was in the vicinity of Lapland.

Hospital Boys Enjoyed Easter
Letters recently received from members of the local hospital unit say that "on Easter Sunday we had all the eggs we could eat, for breakfast; for dinner we had roast turkey, cake and apple pie. Can you beat that?" and also, "We were the first unit to march off the 'Leviathan' when she docked." "We are being held here on account of car shortage;" "when we entered New York harbor three bands which were on board started playing national airs and we began cheering. Everybody was allowed on deck whenever they wanted to be coming over;" "This boat has twice as many soldiers aboard as there are people in La Grande."

Old Residents Back Again
William C. Hanson, well known contractor and old-time La Grande citizen, arrived with his family from Portland Friday evening by automobile, to take up his residence here again. The Hansons had been making their home in the Rose City for the past year and they will now be at home to their friends again at 1307 Fourth street. Their motor journey from Portland was not pleasant, to say the least. Four days were spent on the way, in all. The roads as far as Pendleton were fairly good, Mr. Hanson stated last night, but between that town and La Grande they are in very bad shape. The Hanson's car bent an axle in a rut coming down last night and at a place about twenty miles from town they got stuck.

Ladies Appreciated "Beautifiers"
F. F. Mitchell, who recently opened up a shoe shining parlor in the Foley Hotel building, thought he had the germ of a bright idea when the notion struck him that a ladies' rest room would be a winning feature in connection with the parlor. He decided to try it out a couple of weeks ago, fitted up a little room with dressing table, chairs, etc. On Friday, however, Mrs. Mitchell was seen disgustedly tearing down the furnishings of the room down. Some of the fair sex who had come in to get a shine on their "toes" had later retired to the rest room to take some of the shine-off their noses, and when they were gone the proprietor found that his bowdler hair wax and other beauty accessories were gone also. Mitchell is looking for another bright idea now to see what he is going to do with his extra space.
