HAWAIIAN ELKS HOLD FAIR

HONOLULU, T. H., (Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Hawaii's second territorial fair will open June 9 continuing until June 14. Temporary buildings, patterned after those erected in mainland military camps during the war emergency will be filled with exhibits representing all phases of Hawaiian life and industry. Many of the Joy Zone entertainments are to be conducted under the supervision of Honolulu Lodge of Elks.

Horse racing will be made a feature of the fair and a number of events are on the program for each afternoon. In all there will be 28 races, with purses aggregating more than $5,000. A number of horses will be transported from the coast for entry.

CUT PRICE ON SHOES.

BRUSSELS, April 3.—(By Mail.)—American shoes were placed on sale here today. Great crowds struggling to reach an objective on the northern side of the Rue Neuve becoming noisy and unruly, caused a call to be sent to the police station for reserves. The objective was an American shoe store which had just advertised for sale a carload of footwear, at prices ranging from fifty to sixty francs. In the shopping district shoes were worth from eighty to one hundred and fifty francs and here these crowds were battling for the privilege of purchasing shoes at the lower cost, equivalent to $10 or $12 a pair. The supply was exhausted before sundown. As two poorly dressed women emerged from the store one was heard to say "Blessed be the Americans; I have saved fifty francs."

NAVY COOPERATES WITH RED CROSS

Six Submarine Chasers Have Been Passed Into Service to Carry Supplies.

ATHENS, March 29.—(Associated Press Correspondence.)—In its already extensive and growing work in the Greek Islands, the American Red Cross has the cooperation of the United States navy. Six submarine chasers have been placed at the disposal of the Red Cross for transporting personnel and supplies to the various islands where refugees are concentrated.

On the Island of Mytilene the conditions of the Greek refugees who fled there from Asia Minor five years ago has become desperate. Red Cross workers are regularly visiting all the towns on the island, and clothing has been made to about 25,000 of the 51,000 refugees.

At the outbreak of the war in 1914 the Greeks were driven out of Asia Minor. There were about 3,000,000 of them before the war. More than 500,000 escaped to the islands in the Aegean. Thousands were massacred. The others, driven out of their homes by the Turks and sent inland, are now returning, only to find their homes either destroyed or occupied by the Turks who refuse to move. Prior to Allied occupation armed bands of Turks roamed the countryside plundering and murdering Greeks wherever found.

The refugees in the Aegean Islands intend to return to Asia Minor as soon as conditions permit. At present the Greek government gives each refugee six cents a day.

The American Red Cross is devoting much attention to the prevention of further epidemics such as the typhus scourge which took such a heavy toll at Mytilene. Efforts are being made to relieve overcrowding and the consequent unsanitary conditions which enable epidemics to gain headway.

Food is scanty and costly on the islands and most of the refugees are underfed, even in the large towns where conditions are better than in the outlying villages. The clothing situation is the worst, for not only is the purchase of clothes is out of the question for the refugees. Nearly all of these persons are in rags. The hospitals are short of medicines and other supplies and have been crowded on account of the prevalence of influenza.

Clothing, blankets and medicines are needed on all the islands. Canned meat for broth is wanted in the hospitals. The American Red Cross is supplying clothing to the refugees. American women run the workshops where clothing is made up into garments on the three islands of Mytilene, Chios and Samos. American Red Cross men field workers often travel on donkeyback up into the villages on the mountains and distribute food and clothing. American doctors and nurses provide medicines and attend to the sick.

When the American Red Cross officers arrived at Mytilene with their cargo of supplies, scenes of the greatest enthusiasm took place. The party was escorted to a carriage, the horses were unhitched and the carriage was drawn by a cheering crowd to the residence of the governor general, who commandeered a private home and placed it at the disposal of the arrivals. All living expenses were paid by the Greek government.

MINISTER REJECTS OFFER

RAPID CITY, S. D., May 9.—Rev. Paul S. Johnson, a local Presbyterian minister recently rejected a telegraphic offer of $6,000 a year and expenses from a Canadian chautauqua company located at Calgary. Rev. Johnson's present salary is $1,500 a year. He gave as his reason that he felt that there were more possibilities for doing good in work here.

FOUR MINUTE YOUNGSTERS

DENVER, Colo., May 9.—Patrons of Denver motion pictures were astonished recently when the intermission came in the show during which speeches were made on behalf of the Victory Liberty Loan, to see boys and girls mount to the speakers' stand and talk to the grown-ups. This is the first loan campaign in which this plan was followed and it has worked out successfully.

Elimination speaking contests at the Manual Training high school resulted in the selection of five youthful "four minute" men and "four minute" girls whose services were donated to the loan campaign.
