ELECTRIC SUCTION CLEANER

Once Tried--Always Favored

Silently but surely, myriad particles of grimy dust are continually wafted into even well-kept homes; dusting, sweeping only serves to set them in motion to gather elsewhere. Curiously enough, the very air that once carried them about is now modernly employed in their removal; safe-guarding home furnishings against the ravages of dust and dirt, AIR is now electrically harnessed to suction clean where toil-some sweeping was once a mockery. The highest development in this type of home aid is recognized in the APEX Electric Suction Cleaner.

The Apex Cleans Under Things

Most conspicuous and universally appreciated, is the exclusive inclined nozzle. It cleans under low furniture, pokes under radiators and tables, renovates all those hard-to-reach places impossible to clean by any other methods.

But you must really try it to understand! Ask us to demonstrate.

NORMA TALMADGE SEEN IN CHARACTER ROLE

In Norma Talmadge's latest feature picture, "The Forbidden City," which comes to the Arcade theatre for today only, she is seen in her first character role in several months. Miss Talmadge is presented in this picture by Joseph M. Schenck. Her role is that of a Chinese girl in the first part of the picture, and as a Chinese-American girl in the latter part. It is a dual role and one which is very difficult to portray. The story is by George Scarborough, author of Miss Talmadge's recent picture, "Her Only Way."

the picture is the Hall Flashing Spans, a secret chamber in the Chinese Emperor's palace where young girls who refuse the emperor's love are killed. The first part of the story takes place in Peking, while the closing scenes are laid in Manila.

A special musical program has been arranged by Mabel Douglas, the popular organist at the Arcade theatre. She will present selections from the opera "Martha" for the approval of the patrons of this popular play house and will no doubt please all those who will have the pleasure of hearing her.

A REMARKABLE PHOTOPLAY

Pauline Frederick's new Paramount photoplay, "Pedora," a picture of Victorian Sardau's famous play, which was the starring vehicle of Sarah Bernhardt and Fanny Davenport for many years, will be shown at the Arcade Monday and Tuesday. It is in every respect a remarkable photoplay, in which the gamut of the human emotions are run and the dramatic construction of which is unrivalled by any other drama ever written. Miss Frederick is admirably supported by such players as Jere Austin, Alfred Hickman, W. L. Abington and other capable screen artists.

EXPLAINS NEW REVENUE TAX

ICE CREAM AND OTHER DELICACIES MUST PAY.

Milton A. Miller Issues Final Decree Regarding the New Tax On Sweets, Etc.

PORTLAND, May 10.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has made the following statement in the nature of a tentative ruling with reference to the collection of the Luxury Tax under Section 904 of the Revenue Act of 1918. Printed regulations will be issued shortly.

MILTON A. MILLER, Collector. Section 904 of the Revenue Act of 1918 imposes a tax upon certain articles sold at retail in excess of a specified price. The tax is to be paid by the consumer to the vendor and cannot be absorbed by the vendor in the sale of the article. This tax has been referred to as the "Luxury Tax." It is effective on May 1, 1919, and the rate of tax is 10 per cent on the amount paid in excess of the price specifically mentioned in the Act when such article is sold by the vendor.

Merchants will be required to render returns covering the tax collected during a given month and although their records shall be kept in such a manner as to indicate the tax received on each sale, the form of monthly return required of them shall show simply the aggregate amount of tax collected under each subdivision of the section of the law, that is, the total amount of tax collected on sales of men's and boy's hats, under one head, and women's and girls' hats, under another head, under another head, etc., under another head, etc., showing the classification of such sales. This monthly return must be sworn to by the vendor and filed by him with the collector for the district in which the vendor has his principal place of business. The return must be filed on or before the last day of the month following the one in which the sales were made. In other words, the return covering sales made in May must be filed with the collector and the taxes paid on or before the last day of June.

The tax under this section is measured by the price for which the article is sold. It is on the actual sales price and not on the list-price, where that differs from the sale price. The tax cannot be included in the price but must be billed as a separate item.

If articles are purchased which are subject to tax and are subsequently returned to the vendor, the sale being rescinded, no tax is payable. If the tax has been paid it should be refunded to the purchaser and the vendor may take credit therefor against the tax in the subsequent monthly return. If a taxable article is sold by the vendor and later exchanged for another article at a higher price the purchaser paying the difference, the purchaser must pay the tax on the second sale and the vendor shall give credit or refund to the purchaser of the tax paid on each of the taxable articles returned, and take a credit therefor and include it in his subsequent monthly return.

The tax attaches when the article is sold, that is to say, when the title to it passes from the vendor to the purchaser.

Ordinary repairs or alterations are not taxable. The unit of measurement in determining the price for the purpose of the tax on carpets and rugs, is the square yard. All floor yardage must be converted into square measure, and fringes will not be computed when considering the yardage.

The method of keeping accounts by the merchants shall disclose the total number and amount of sales of each of the taxable articles, including any credits or refunds, and the books of every person liable to tax shall be open at all times for the inspection of examining revenue officers.

In computing a tax a fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it shall be increased to a full cent.

Alvin Snapp Becomes the Purchaser of the La Grande Pharmacy

Mr. Alvin Snapp has purchased from Adolph Newlin the La Grande Pharmacy and the transfer takes place tomorrow morning. Mr. Snapp, the new proprietor, has been engaged in the drug line the past twenty years and for the past ten years has been employed in different pharmacies in La Grande. He has an extensive acquaintance among the people of the community and a high standing in the business and social life of La Grande.

Mr. Newlin, who also enjoys a large acquaintance and relationship with the public and who has been highly successful in his business undertakings, has no present plans to announce as to the future. His intention is to take a rest from business cares and enjoy a vacation, for a few weeks at least.
