MAISEL GOES TO BALTIMORE

Player Once Hailed as Star Passes Out of American League With Short Paragraph.

Fritz Maisei, once hailed as a possible star, and with all the signs of being one, passed out of the American league with a three-line paragraph. Maisei's friends say he was ruined when Bill Donovan tried to make an outfielder of him. Others more harsh say his indifference and his money-madness finished his career as a big leaguer. Take your choice. Maisei figured in the big St. Louis-New York trade a year ago. Of all the players involved Shuster and Gibson still are with the Braves and Pratt is with the Yankees. Plank and Carlton never reported. Nummy was shipped away by the Braves during the winter and now Maisei goes.

The home uniform will be white with a blue stripe, and the traveling suits will be of gray. Any player who was in either branch of the service during the war will wear a clover on the left sleeve.

WHEN WALLY SCHANG BUNTED

Slim Love Knows How It Feels to Expect a Bunt and Have Batter Hit Out Home Run.

"Slim" Love knows the embarrassment that seizes a pitcher who is expecting a bunt and then has the batter cross him with a home run.

It happened in a game he was twirling two seasons ago against Boston. The score was close, when one run was much to be desired, and Wally Schang was up with a man on second and none out.

"Put it over there; let him bunt and get out," the infielders were shouting at "Slim."

"Slim" says he did just as he was instructed and came in with the pitch, ready to jump on the bunt with hopes of getting the runner going to third.

Wally Schang.

"The trouble was," Love explained, "that Schang did not do as I had calculated he would. He hit a liner to my left, barely missing me. The ball kept mounting and never stopped until it reached the fence. Before it was returned, Schang had scored."

EXHIBITION GAMES PAY WELL

Final Contest in San Francisco Between Cubs and Seals Drew 10,000 Paid Admissions.

The Chicago Cubs in their exhibition games in California with Coast league

Cubs drew better attendance than in three years past. They took it to mean revival in baseball interest, but maybe it was because the Coast league teams generally were beating the Cubs hip and thigh. The final exhibition game in San Francisco between Cubs and Seals drew nearly 10,000 paid admissions.

Doomed to Wretchedness.

Let a man choose what condition he will, and let him accumulate around him all the goods and gratifications seemingly calculated to make him happy in it; if that man is left at any time without occupation or amusement, and reflects on what he is, the meager, anguished felicity of his present lot will not bear him up. He will turn necessarily to gloomy anticipation of the future; and unless his occupation calls him out of himself, he is inevitably wretched.—Pascal.

Stranger to Western World.

The Asiatic zoological expedition, sent into the South Chinese mountain province of Yunnan to investigate its range of animal life, succeeded in securing several fine specimens of the screw, which is a stranger to the western world. The screw is a mountain dweller, somewhat like the chamois. It is wary and fleet and takes a dizzy and seemingly impossible course among its native crags.

PERUNA THE GUIDE TO HEALTH

Has Never Been Down Sick Since Taking PERUNA

Read this letter from Mr. Robt. Minnick, Grass Range, Montana.

"In 1909 I was out in Kansas running a threshing engine and the threshing crew had to sleep out of doors. One of the crew brought a Peruna Almanac to the engine one day and I was feeling very ill from sleeping out. I decided to give Peruna a trial and sent for a bottle of Peruna and a box of Peruna Tablets, which straightened me out in a hurry."

"I have never been down sick since that time. I do not take any other medicine except Peruna. I always keep it on hand. If I get my feet wet, get a cold, feel chilly, or a little bad, I always take Peruna. People should not wait until they are down sick and then take it, but should keep it on hand like I do and when they feel bad, they should use it."
