

Scientific Research is Constantly Being Made for Remedies to Alleviate Human Suffering

The finest laboratories of the world with their expensive equipments are ever working and searching for new methods of combating disease and striving to improve the remedies which now exist. New discoveries are constantly being made and when the merit of a remedy is established the physician begins to prescribe it. If the druggist is up-to-date he must stock it.

We keep posted on the new remedies and know how to handle them in prescriptions.

Bring your prescriptions to us and get the benefit of scientific service.

"THE GREAT ROMANCE"

ATTRACTS BIG AUDIENCE

Harold Lockwood was the drawing card at the Sherry theatre yesterday in "The Great Romance," a Screen Classics, Inc. production of great merit and beauty.

The noted star is seen in a role which gives him full scope for the virile and compelling power with which his audiences are familiar. He plays the part of a young man brought up in America—with all the freedom of democracy instilled into him—who suddenly finds himself heir to the throne of a small and obscure but very beautiful European country. Having strong views on the government of the people and by the people he disdains the idea of becoming a despotic ruler in his own country.

Fate, however, takes the decision out of his hands by placing the girl he loves in a position in which he alone can rescue her. It involves accepting the monarchy, which he does with the mental resolve that the tiny country will regain a new lease on strict American principles. These views lead him into many involved situations which cause him untold complications. His adventures are thrilling and absorbing, and the role of the young king is brilliantly enacted by the clever young star who is ably supported by a list of distinguished players among whom are Ruby de Ronger, Frank Currier, Joseph Granby, Morgan Thorp, Louis Stern, J. P. Laffey, Franklyn Hanna, Clara Grenville and Helen Lindroth. The story was written by Finis Fox and directed by Henry Otto.

CAN THE STRING BEANS CAN- NERY? SCHEME A FAKE?

There was much excitement in the city of Seabert today owing to the remarkable exposure of Kendall Jones, the patriot that has been trying to swindle our respected citizens and our revered mayor, Ed Morris, with a scheme to can the string beans in this community.

If the title applied to some of the human volleys that fall on our ears, we would have nothing to say other than "can 'em and do it quick." They've been stringing us long enough. But we all know, in our sober senses, that this string bean idea was the bunk as they say in Peoria.

We always had our suspicion of Jones, and now, through the bravery of young Tolly Watkins, our representative, who will call on you tomorrow with our new coffee grinder subscription offer for the Clarion, he is exposed. He was caught last night trying to rob our trusting mayor of his money. We sent Mr. Watkins as our proxy to a mass meeting but he, lost his nerve, and they say is Keokuk, and found it again in time to wrest the spoils of the victory from a villain who is now disclosed as a much-wanted jail bird from the city. We take Mr. Watkins back into our good graces and we repudiate the string bean as a canned commodity. This is the plot of Charles Ray's newest Paramount picture, which will be shown at the Arcade theatre today and tomorrow. Go and learn all about the string bean canners that didn't get started. It's a hum-dinger of a picture and you'll never forget it.

JUNE TERM OF COURT PUT OFF FOR ONE WEEK

Circuit Judge J. W. Knowles, who has been holding court at Enterprise for a couple of weeks, was in town Saturday and returned to Enterprise again yesterday. He expects to complete the business of the court term at that town in the middle of the week. Instead of convening the regular June term of Circuit Court here the first Monday in June, he has decided to postpone it until the second Monday, or June 9th. This is in order that the business of the court may not interfere with election day, which is June 3rd.

SHERIFF AFTER ROBBER

Sheriff Warnick went to Pendleton this morning after a Mexican who robbed the post office store at Painter Junction early Saturday morning. The Mexican made a get-away after the robbery, coming to La Grande on a speeder and catching train No. 27 going west. Sheriff Taylor at Pendleton was notified in time to catch him in that city. The thief had with him when captured the few articles he took from the store.

A Great Man.

A great man is he who chooses the right in invincible resolution, who resists the worst temptations from within and without, who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully, who is calmest in storms and most fearless under fire, whose reliance on truth and virtue, on God, is most unflinching. I believe this greatness to be most common among the multitude, whose names are never heard.—W. E. Chan- nings.

Good Manners.

Good manners, which give color to life, are of greater importance than laws, which are but one of their manifestations. The law touches us here and there, but manners are about us everywhere, pervading society like the air we breathe. Good manners, as we call them, are neither more nor less than good behavior, consisting of courtesy and kindness.—Samuel Smiles.

Testing for All Wool.

Anybody can tell whether it is all wool or not by boiling out a little piece in a test-tube with a solution of caustic soda over an alcohol lamp. Whatever does not dissolve is not wool. This piece of chemical wisdom is propounded by the Little Journal.

THE MUSIC.

Tomorrow.

A would-be meat trust in this city. Of them we'll now sing you a ditty: They are hanging you a lot of bait, But it is mostly now too late.

They spread a lot of propaganda And claim to be one great, big dandy— They are awful willing to extend you credit, But you'll pay for it, don't you forget it.

For Cash Meat Markets they have no use, And sure hand them some rough abuse; They're sure would like to control this town, But they have cooked their goose, till it is brown.

That foolish ostrich, with its hidden head, Don't know that the credit system has gone dead. If you accept his credit, you will have to pay An extra percentage on your pay-day.

Our system will ever enlarge your dollars— Just let that big fellow have his holler. We wonder who last month took the descent— OUR business increased sixty-three per cent.

The author of this ditty is a member of this firm; too modest to sign.

The moral of this ditty is plain: Support this firm; we endeavor to, and do succeed in saving you money.
