side of the World War. The leading role is taken by Charlotte Walker, the well known stage star. The portions of the play are those who give her husband and those sent to the camp at her country. Her struggle between patriotism and mother love is destined to be one of the most powerful exhibitions of character which the times have produced.

R. A. Watch, the director, has interwoven this touching "mother" theme with a delightful love story and with big scenes in the Great Draft, on the battlefields of France, at the Peace Conference at Versailles and in the period of Reconstruction. "Every Mother's Son" is heralded as the first notable after-war play to drama, for it is the first to show our women's part in the Great Conflict and to figure ahead into that better day to which we believe the war has given birth.
